Without the obstruction of the big black fish, we took a detour back to the base camp. Wang Xuanyuan seemed very depressed. After so many brothers died, not only did he blame himself for his negligence, he even felt heartache.

When the three of us returned to the second floor, no one said a word. As soon as we relaxed, I felt waves of exhaustion wash over me. Unable to hold on any longer, I fell asleep on the bed.

In the early morning, I was awakened by the sound of rapid gunfire, so I hastily ran outside and immediately saw an apocalyptic scene. Countless black fish rushed towards us on the dike like they were eating stimulants, the soldiers of the relief team were only barely able to stop this group of monsters that were neither fish nor beasts, but very quickly, this group of black fish broke through the line of fire, fighting against the soldiers. The soldiers didn't bring any weapons with them, so these monsters' fighting capabilities were very strong.

As I watched the scene, my heartbeat quickened, fox blood coursed through my entire body along with my heart, and I felt my whole body brimming with fighting spirit. Seeing Old Lady Liu and General DWR, who was in the midst of discussing something, I ran over to them and said, "Senior, give me your sword for a moment." "This peach wood sword is only effective against evil beings with heavy yin energy. If you want to kill this black fish, the peach wood sword can't help you much." Old Lady Liu said, "Haozi, your fox blood hasn't been completely absorbed. You must be careful." General DWR laughed, "This child is so young, and yet he has such big guts. Old Liu, you have such a good disciple." As he spoke, he took out the trident on the guard behind him and handed it to me. "Do your best." I took the spurs and turned to the battlefield.

Hei Yu's movements were always a beat slower than mine. He dashed left and right on the battlefield, and after a while, his entire body was dyed red with blood. The more we fought, the braver he became, and very quickly, we managed to kill all of the Hei Yu's disciples.

Just as we were about to rest, the water surface in front of us bubbled with countless giant bubbles. It seemed that some giant beast was about to emerge. Just as we were about to relax, we tensed up again.

Old Granny Liu, Little Miss Xu and the rest also ran over. With a serious expression, she asked, "What's with this dragon aura?" Just as he finished speaking, an incomparably huge black shadow dashed out of the water and soared into the sky. A figure that was nearly fifty meters long accompanied by an earth-shattering dragon's roar, its domineering aura made all of us as small as ants.

"Dragon." I didn't swim as I blurted out that this beast was no different from the dragon of legends. A huge mouth with sharp teeth in heels, eyes wide open, the beard on its mouth moving even without wind, the scales on its head adding to its power. Its entire body was covered with black scales, and its four claws exuding killing intent.

When we saw the legendary Divine Beast appear in front of us, we were not only shocked but also terrified. We knew that this thing is not easy to mess with, and there were even some who knelt down and begged for mercy. General DWR was not afraid in the face of danger, and ordered all his troops to prepare for battle.

At this moment, the huge dragon roared down from the sky, and with a dragon's roar, it swung its huge tail, sending countless warriors flying. At this moment, the huge dragon roared down from the sky, and with a dragon's roar, it swung its huge tail, sending countless warriors flying.

The mysterious man stomped his feet and said, "Damn it, the water vapor brought by this dragon has affected the environment here. I can't draw lightning here at all, but what should I do?" Old Mrs. Liu frowned and said, "It looks like I have no choice but to use my trump card." I was overjoyed. "Master, can you take care of this big fellow?" At this moment, the tanks of the artillery battalion arrived. There were also two combat helicopters. General DWR directed them to engage in an intense battle against the colossal dragon.

I was about to cheer when a water column, about a meter in diameter, shot out of the water and struck the helicopter hard. The water column was so powerful that a hole was created in the helicopter, and before we could react, another water column shot out and knocked another helicopter down, and the dragon came out of the water again, pointing its neck at us, making a gurgling sound, and a water column that shot straight at us, the power of the water column was so great that countless soldiers were shot into pieces, even the armored vehicles were hit by the cannon.

Old Lady Liu dragged me to the side and told me, "Wait for the flood to pass. Go to my warehouse's altar. There are two books. I gave them to you. You must take good care of them." With that, he took out a piece of talisman paper and brought out a flint stone. Then, he took out three silver needles and inserted them into his heart and temples.

Old Lady Liu's face was as pale as gold paper. I couldn't help but cry out, "Master, what's wrong?" Old Lady Liu said, "This talisman contains a trace of True Lord Erlang's divine sense. It was collected by your grandmaster after much difficulty in Sichuan. I thought I could pass it on to you, but I didn't expect it to be used so soon. Today, I will use the remaining thirty years of my life to try to awaken it." Master, if you die, what should I do?" I cried. Old Lady Liu said, "Disciple, you are talented and wise. You must remember not to go down the wrong path." After saying that, he placed the talisman in my hand and said, "Concentrate all of your spirit on the talisman." Old Lady Liu spat out a mouthful of blood on the talisman paper, and similarly sprayed a mouthful of it onto my face. The talisman paper began to burn intensely, and suddenly, I felt an unspeakable pressure coming from above me, I raised my head and saw a golden-armored war god appear above me, it was the embodiment of True Lord Erlang's divine sense, wielding three sharp and two sharp blades, his entire body shot out golden light in all directions. Although the distance was not too far, I could not see his face, and only saw True Lord Erlang's divine sense roaring, "The Pure Origin True Sovereign is here, how dare you act impudently?" With that, he turned into a streak of light and flew towards the dragon.
