

Strange News 21

Record of Strange News in Northeast - C21

C21

C21

Even though it was only a sliver of True Lord Erlang's divine sense, it was enough to deal with the dragon. In the blink of an eye, the dragon and True Lord Erlang had clashed.

The dragon raised its head, and with a gurgling sound, a stream of water shot towards Erlang Shen. Erlang Shen clenched his left fist and punched the water pillar, causing the water column to scatter as if it was raining heavily.

Suddenly, a severed limb flew out, it was the front paw of the dragon. Streams of blood surged out from the surface of the water, and the dragon flew out, followed by its head sticking onto the ground, its eyes closed, it seemed to be on the verge of death, and Erlang Shen followed along, jumping onto the dragon's head. With a loud roar, three sharp blades pierced through the dragon's head, taking its life.

After killing the dragon, the golden light surrounding Erlang Shen's body slowly dimmed. Finally, he turned into a wisp of green smoke and dissipated into the air. This was the result of running out of spiritual power.

It was only then that I remembered Old Lady Liu and turned around. She had already fallen to the ground. I hurriedly helped her up and shouted, "Teacher, wake up! The dragon has been annihilated." She opened her eyes with difficulty, "Disciple, I know that I don't have much time left, so I have already entrusted you to Einherjar Wannabe. Although I am not from the same sect as you, you must treat me like I am and not lose yourself." After which, he closed his eyes.

I burst into tears. Although Old Lady Liu was my master, I had long treated her as if she was my own kin. For a moment, the world spun and my eyes blackened as I fainted.

When I woke up, it was already the next morning. I opened my eyes and saw him smoking a cigarette at the foot of my bed, and just as I was about to speak, I felt a sharp pain in my throat and I couldn't even speak. He saw me awake and said, "It's good that you woke up. He put out his cigarette, got up to go, and closed the door. "There's a box of food on the table," he said.

After seven days, the flood gradually subsided, and Wang Xu Yuan sent me home. Before he left, he said to me: "You are still young, and cannot recognize the difficulties and dangers of cultivation. It is also very difficult for us cultivators to be on our own, and whenever there is a need, we must stand up for ourselves, such as Senior Liu, so I want to wait until you are older before we can find you. If you still want to cultivate with me, I will accept you as my disciple." I was indeed too childish, I didn't even know where I was going, I didn't even know what I was going to do or what I was going to do, so I fell silent after hearing his words. Indeed, the life of a cultivator is completely different from that of a normal person, whether I can adapt to it or not, or whether I want to practice it I don't know, I agree with him.

After a few days of experience, I grew up quite a bit. The thick family atmosphere made me want to immerse myself in it, and I couldn't help but sigh with emotion. It was better to stay at home, I went to Old Lady Liu's house and found two books, one of which was the complete book of Golden Letter and Mysterious Gate Escape Armor, and the other was the ancestor's handwriting. It recorded everything that the ancestor had seen and heard from his travels in the four seas.

I told my family the news of Old Lady Liu's death, and also that I might end up training with a beggar. I didn't know when I would go, and I didn't know where, but everyone in the family was a bit sad. Grandfather said, "It's time for a man to go out and adventure, otherwise he won't be able to survive in this valley." His father said, "That's right, isn't that how the song is sung? The outside world is wonderful, and the outside world is very helpless." The teasing made everyone laugh out loud. Mom said, "You have to tell your family where you are going, as well as tell your family whether it's good or bad. It's to save your family from thinking too much." Grandma wiped her tears. "That's right. When you have nothing to do, go home and visit. Your family will miss you." I comforted her, "Don't worry. I'm so honest, so what's wrong with me? Besides, it's still early. What's there to worry about?"

After more than a month, the flood had pretty much subsided. I went out to look for trouble. When I arrived at his house, I saw him squatting down to pick up rice. I asked, "Where are your parents?" He looked at me with a face full of joy: "You're finally back! What are you doing? Why did you take so long?" I replied perfunctorily, "What can I do? Don't mention it anymore. Sigh, let's find the big-mouthed monster and play together." "Don't mention it. Something happened to Liu Xin's family. Her mother nearly died from water damage." I was interested. "What kind of water evil? Tell me about it." She went out to pick them up when she had nothing to do. The night before yesterday, her mother went out to pick them up by herself, but she was almost pulled down by the water monkey at the edge of the bowl. Luckily, someone passed by and pulled Aunt Song up with great effort.

The water monkey, which I read in my ancestor's notes, lives in the lake and looks like a monkey, with long legs and a pointed beak and black fur, and has a special hole in his head for water, which makes him have strength when he has water, but no strength when he has no water, and there is no ingenious way to deal with it. The ancestor once saw that someone was fishing for water monkeys, so the water monkey used cotton to tighten around the ears and nostrils, grabbed a hollow bamboo pole and went into the water, coiled it around the body, while the others waited nearby, because the water monkey saw that people would be tightly entangled and then stuffed into the ears and nostrils of the person who didn't stop trying to get into the mud.

I made up my mind and said to Diao Yang, "Come, let's go with big mouth monster's house." "I know you have some ability, but you still have to be aware of your own abilities. Don't think of convincing me to go catch water monkeys with you this time." I said: "Relax, just look at Aunt Song, then look at what the big mouth freak is doing."

We went to Liu Xin's house. Aunt Song was sitting on the brick bed with a cotton coat over her head. Liu Xin was sitting on the side watching TV. Liu Xin greeted us as we came in. I jokingly asked Aunt Song, "Auntie Song, how was it? Tell us about it. I heard you almost got taken care of by Shui monkey?" Aunt Song scolded: "You two little brats, I was so happy to see your aunt." Aunt Song, I treat you like my mother-in-law. We are truly worried about you, and as for you, we should quickly catch a fish and send it to you. Just tell us about it, and let us broaden our horizons." Liu Xin spat on the melon seeds and said, "You two better not provoke my mom. My mom is already scared, so just ignore them." Aunt Song said: "Don't mention fish, for the sake of the whole fish I almost put my life on the line. I'll tell you guys, our bubbles are so clean, from my grandma's generation I've never heard of any water monkeys, they usually fish and wash things, who's caught, this is bad luck for me, as the first person to enter our village." It made the three of us laugh out loud. I saw that Aunt Song didn't seem like she was scared, so I said: "Aunt Song, tell me in detail." Aunt Song rolled her eyes: "What are you going to do, go into the water and grab that thing, but pull it down, a little kid doesn't know how high the sky is, that thing has the strength of an ox underwater, just the three of you, let that water monkey grab it with one hand, then there won't even be a place to cry." Diao Yang said: "Aunt Song, your body can't even handle that monkey? Can you? Even your old sow is acting like you're picking her up, so how can the water monkey be as heavy as the old sow?" Auntie Song told Liu Xin, "Tell your dad not to clean up the place. If he doesn't have anything to do, he'll be back for lunch." Liu Xin answered and left the room.

Aunt Song said: "You two don't know it at your age, but I've heard that there might be something a little deeper than that, the old people always say that, I heard my mother say that there was a bubble over at my grandma's house, pretty big, there was a water monkey inside, how would I know that, there was a time when the cow was at the water's edge and the water monkey fell asleep, ah, soon it heard the sound of the cow crying, he quickly got up, looked in the water, who knows what pulled the thing out, ah ah ah, the cow ran to the water and didn't let the thing down, finally let the monkey in." Since then, no one dared to go alone to the edge of the water, not to mention humans, even cattle were not allowed to go to the water. But this time, my fortune is great, you know, the night before yesterday, I personally thought to see if there were any fish beside the water, this swollen fish jumped out, there really was a fish, at the edge of the water, I pulled up my pants and went into the water, the water did not even reach my knees, when I just walked two steps away, something pulled me down. "If it wasn't for them, I would be finished. Great Elder Zhao came over and pulled me, and Little Zhao smashed the hoe into the water, and at that moment, he felt that the water monkey ran away, and that's it. It saved me and brought me back.

Diao Yang giggled and said: "Aunt Song, I heard you wet your pants, is that true?" Aunt Song was so angry that she hit him. "You little pup, laughing at your aunt. If it were you, you'd wet your pants too." At this moment, Liu Xin and her father came back, and as we were about to leave after greeting each other, Uncle Liu said to us, "Don't go play by the water, okay? I won't let you out for the next few days."

On the way back, I said, "Shou Yang, do you believe me?" "Why should I believe you?" Asked Qu Yaoyang. I said, "Do you believe I can catch a water monkey?" Diao Yang said, "I do, of course I do. Wait till you catch the water monkey and show it to me." I said, "That would require your help, wouldn't it, brother? Aren't you worried that I'll be caught by the water monkey and fed to the fish?" Diao Yang said, "I also want to see what that water monkey looks like, but I need to have a plan, don't I? I'm a new generation of youth, I need to learn how to use my brain. How about this, when I go back and think about it, I'll give you my plan tomorrow. Even if you go back home, you can think about it. I said, "Alright, this brat has a bit of ambition. How about this, I'll go find you tomorrow. We'll fight it out with this water monkey." Right, fight it out with that son of a b * tch. " He was full of fighting spirit.

Ten Jin of Fox's Blood in the Abnormal Records of Northeast China

Record of Strange News in Northeast - C22

C22

C22

Early the next morning, I was in my room looking at the notes written by the Grandmaster. The contents of "Qi Men Escape Armor" were too complicated, I threw it down after a few glances and ran in with excitement. There was a large net in my left hand and a rolling pin in my right.

Seeing me, he said, "Let's go and catch the water monkey." When I saw his ignorant look, I was so angry that I wanted to laugh. I said, "How are you going to capture him?" His face was full of righteousness as he said, "Last night I thought about it, your ability to seduce people like foxes is probably useless against water monkeys, so today I'm going to have to rely on you. For the sake of my fellow villagers being able to continue fishing in the bubbles, I decided to fight to the death with water monkeys, and in a while I'll jump into the bubbles and fight water monkeys to the death. Either it dies or I forget, just burn some paper for me and I'll be fine." I knew he was bullshitting, so I said, "Stop bullshitting and wait for me."

I went to the barn. After Old Lady Liu left, I took Old Lady Liu's altar table to my barn. Since my family knew about it, they didn't use this barn anymore. The little fox Hu Yaoyao usually lived here.

When I went in, she was not there, and I said her name to myself, and then she came out of the corner, and I said, "Well, have you been there all along?" She giggled and said, "That's right, but I don't want others to see me, so they won't be able to see me. I want them to see me so others can see me. Formidable." I said, "Yaoyao, please do something." She said, "Sure, where to?" I replied, "I'm not playing around. You should know that there's a bubble around the edge of the village. Recently, a water monkey came out and almost dragged them down. I want to ask for your help." She happily agreed. "Sure, just like a monkey. What's the point of catching a monkey? I'll go with you." After saying that, he pulled me away.

I called Diao Yang out, "Diao Yang, let's go, let's go with big brother to grab water monkeys." When he came out and saw Hu Yao Yao Yao, he seemed to be very happy, "Yo, isn't this the grandaunt? Did you come?" Seeing his lustful look, I got angry. Hu Yaoyao stuck out her tongue at him, but didn't say anything. I said, "Alright, my aunt is willing to watch the show. Today, I want to see your heroic look." "Go go go, don't forget my net and rolling pin. Aunt, just you wait. I'll catch the water monkey and let it show you how to drill the ring of fire."

I noticed that Hu Yaoyao spoke very little with the others, and after hearing her flippant words, she didn't feel happy, so she just gave a "tsk" and followed behind me.

In the past few days, everyone in the village knew about Aunt Song's situation and didn't dare to come here to catch fish. Although from time to time I could still see fish jumping out of the water, and the surface of the water was calm without any waves, I focused my mind and circulated the fox blood in my body to my eyes. Hu Tai's fox immortal blood contained the cultivation experience of Hu Tai Niu, I could clearly see the Yin and Yang energy in my surroundings, but when I looked at the lake, I couldn't see anything special about it.

Diao Yang said, "Ai, this one is just showing off for you, what are you pretending to be so big. Watch your big brother. Aunt, Little Diao Zi, I'm going to make a fool of myself." With that, I posed as the Red Army, not afraid of an expedition. Wan Shui Qian Shan was just casually sitting there, which made my face darken. I said, "That's enough, Brother Diao. It's your turn to take action. Let's get out of here quickly." After saying that, I kicked Diao Yang, who was still in the middle of his actions, down. I felt that the water in the water was quiet and thought that the water monkey wouldn't come out during the day and would return in the evening.

In the water, there was a dog paddle, a backstroke, and even a water lily. When we saw him laughing like this, we laughed at him, then at Hu Yaoyao, who threw her blouse over excitedly and said, "Haozi, bring me my golden cudgel." I took his jacket and threw the rolling pin at him. He took the Jingu Bang and said, "I, Old Sun, will go too." With that, he dived down.

We chatted and laughed on the shore as we looked at the water surface. After a while, when Diao Yang still hadn't come out, I shouted, "Diao Yang, you, Great Sage Sun, was bitten by a bastard in the water?" Hu Yao Yao's smile became even wider, but she still didn't show it. I can't say for sure, could it be that Water Monkey was attracted by our trick? Catch him while he was busy diving? When I thought of this, I quickly took off my clothes and prepared to go into the water to save him. Hu Yaoyao's face was full of anxiety, "He wouldn't have drowned, right?" Just as I was about to jump, I saw a person appear out of the water with a splash. It was precisely Diao Yang. He was covered in water, and seeing us laughing like this, he said, "Hahaha, you've been deceived by me." "You idiot wanted to scare me to death." I picked up the mud from the shore and smeared it all over him.

After tossing and turning for a while, I saw that the water monkey couldn't come out during the day. He let Han Yang touch a few fish, and the three of us started a fire on the shore to roast the fish to eat.

The three of them were talking and laughing merrily, it was already dark and there was no intention of returning. We were used to living in the wild, so the lord did not care too much, but this brat, Qu Yang, actually brought out a bottle of white wine, what a good guy, it was brewed by his family. After saying that, I took a gulp, causing me to grin. I thought to myself that this guy's Tiger Strength has risen again.

An eight-year-old kid, I can't help but think of what it would be like after drinking a big gulp of white wine. He said, "Hey, that's not right, that's not right. I've drunk this at home, so I'm not that excited." That made Hu Yao Yao and I laugh out loud. Later on, I found out that his father was afraid that he would make a fool out of the wine, so he mixed a lot of the liquor in the pot in the house with water. The water was very low, and today, he stole this bottle from me.

While laughing, Hu Yaoyao took the bottle of white wine and asked me if I should drink it. I said, "Please forgive me. I smell it and I can't help choking on my nose." Seeing that I didn't drink, Hu Yao Yao picked up the bottle and gulped down the contents in two gulps. I couldn't help but exclaim, 'This fox spirit is so good at drinking. It lies on the ground with its eyes blurry and its tongue hanging out.' Even so, it couldn't help but exclaim, "High, this is really high. Aunt's alcohol capacity is too great."

Hu Yaoyao was even more excited after drinking the wine, singing and jumping, struggling to get up. She twisted her clothes around as she cried out loudly. From the looks of it, apart from not having any holes in his head, he was no different from a water monkey.

The three of us danced and sang, and during that time they forced me to take a sip of wine, and I immediately lay on the ground and didn't want to get up anymore. I felt the world spinning around me, and as I watched their figures blur, they pulled me up again and suggested a little game, and he pulled out a small stone, with a herringbone on the front and a mirror on the back, and I saw that it wasn't a tombstone we'd seen together in the woods, and it was a treasure we'd found by the tombstone. I replied, "You carry this treasure with you every day. Are you not afraid of losing it?" "I was afraid my parents would see me leave the house and throw it away," she said. The rule of the game is to guess the right side of the coin. Whoever guessed wrong would have to drink a mouthful of wine. The three of us had a great time playing.

I lost a couple of times in a row. I couldn't stand up for a few sips, so I lay down on the floor and watched them move away from me.

Just then, I heard the faint sound of a musical instrument, a gong and a suona, and I was thinking: How come you took out this old thing and blew on it? I can't do that, all I have to do is bring a small bag, and put such a big gong or suona on it? I was thinking with my eyes closed when I heard Hu Yaoyao's laughter and the boisterous voice stop. It seems that the two of them also heard the voice.

I opened my eyes and looked behind the voice. It scared me so much that my hair stood on end, and I thought to myself, What the hell is that mother of mine? Behind me, there was a row of people who looked like they were sending off a bride. In the front, there were two people holding lanterns, and the lanterns were emitting not red light but blue light; in the middle, there was a sedan chair, and the four people were carrying it, and behind them were the people who were blowing suona and beating gongs. Looking at their faces, I was so scared that I almost peed my pants.

Diao Yang also saw it. He was so scared that he fell down with a cry, "This ..." "What's this?" I cursed in my heart. Why did you steal a bottle of wine when you had nothing to do? You might be able to escape without drinking. After drinking a bit of alcohol, you became so frightened that your legs felt like noodles.

Hu Yaoyao obviously didn't drink much, she grabbed me by the hand and ran towards the village, the two of us made her throw it into the pigsty of the nearest household, then she jumped in, followed by a few old sows. The three of us stuck our heads out a little, looking at the people carrying the palanquins, we thought to ourselves that if we stayed in the pigsty for the whole night, we would probably find a group of grandpas outside, and after a moment of fear and anxiety, we vomited on the old female pig beside us.

Hu Yao Yao grabbed the treasure and whispered, "What are you doing with this thing? It's the wedding of a dead person. Take this, the dead lady won't be able to marry out, so she can't come looking for you?" He stubbornly said, "You... Didn't you just play a while ago?"

I was on the verge of tears. "My grandfather, why are you still talking about this now? Aunt, what should we do now? Do you have any rights?" Hu Yaoyao looked outside, snatched the treasure and said to us, "The two of you, don't come out, don't make any noise. I'll go deal with them." He then jumped out and walked towards the palanquin.

He said in a daze, "Oh my god. Why is this girl so daring? She isn't afraid of being carried away." Hu Yao Yao walked in front of the sedan and slowly put down the piece of treasure. "I don't know which esteemed wangfei is going to get married, but I don't mean to offend you, little fox. Please don't blame me." I tightly gripped my rolling pin, ready to jump out at any time. Looking at the palanquin in front of Hu Yaoyao, I thought to myself, 'If you don't care who you are, if you dare to touch Hu Yaoyao, I'll kill you!'

After Hu Yaoyao finished speaking, the gong and suona behind the dumplings also stopped. The sedan chair was slowly put down, and a woman's hand pulled open the curtain of the sedan chair. A graceful beauty walked out from the inside, stupefying me with her jade-like face. I couldn't help but say, "It's so beautiful." She seemed to have heard me, as she slowly swept her gaze over me, causing me to immediately feel a chill down my spine.

She turned her head and picked up the stone. Then, she turned around and returned to the palanquin. A group of people ... no, a group of ghosts had left with a suona and a gong in their hands.

Hu Yaoyao still stood there motionlessly, but I quickly jumped out. When she saw me coming out, she turned her head and frowned as if she was about to cry, "You scared me to death." I immediately hugged her to comfort her. "I'm not afraid. My grandson is here." It made her laugh again.

Ten Jin of Fox's Blood in the Abnormal Records of Northeast China

Record of Strange News in Northeast - C23

C23

The three of us supported each other back to the house. Compared to her, Hu Yaoyao was still the most clear-headed. She threw Diao Yang into his pigsty, let him and the old sow hug for the night, sent me home, and entered the barn by herself.

I could still find my own room, not daring to make a sound as I crept into bed. I still couldn't believe what I had experienced tonight. Who in the world was in that palanquin? Why did Hu Yaoyao call her the Empress? After indulging in my thoughts for a while, a wave of fatigue hit me. I felt depressed.

I was awakened early in the morning by my mother's feather duster. "Where did you go crazy last night, you little bastard?" I hastily got up and said, "Where can I go? I'll just go and make things difficult for you." "Hurry up and wash your face and eat. Look at your dirty clothes." Yesterday, she thought that Hu Yaoyao would be able to clean up the water monkey, but she didn't expect that this little fox didn't even know what the water monkey was, and couldn't rely on it at all. Hu Tai Chi was not easy to find, I tried a few times but couldn't find it, Hu Yao Yao also said that Hu Tai Cai's personality was temperamental, and it wasn't that easy to find her.

It seemed that I could only rely on myself, I flipped through the two books that Old Lady Liu had left for me, and read until my head started to grow big, the Old Ancestor had developed a special type of rune array formation based on the Primordial Era, and most of it was based on the principle of metal, wood, water, fire, earth, and the five elements being together. The water element is the water element, and it likes to hide in the lake, not willing to be on shore.

Every single array requires a huge amount of mental power to activate, and with the fox immortal blood on me, I believe that I can successfully activate the array. I thought again and again, only these three things I can get, the dragon's liver is the earth under the stove, which is also known as the ashes of the stove, almost every household has it, the yellow among the people is the feces, but the blood is not easy to make. I thought about it, there is a teacher in my village, compared to his family, I first dug up some ashes, and then went to the toilet and dug up some fresh people.

After I finished writing the symbol paper, I needed blood to light up. I really didn't want to use a knife to cut myself and bleed out. It was really too painful.

After spitting out five pieces of talisman paper, her mouth was dry enough to be used as a balcony. She quickly went to the outside and gulped down a bunch of well water. This was a great feeling, and she couldn't help but shout out, "Awesome! I'm drinking the well water again! I'm not afraid of a stomachache!" Not only had I not been afraid to drink cold water recently, but I had felt the water in the well more and more delicious. When I was thirsty, I had just dipped my head into the well bucket and drank, and my body had become stronger and stronger, and I no longer slept and feared the cold. No matter how tired I had been the day before, the second day was still full of life.

He was still sleeping when I said, "After you wake up, go to the edge of the bubble. Yao Yao and I will wait there for Water Monkey." He said dispiritedly, "I'm afraid I won't be able to go. I didn't sleep well last night and was just dreaming of palanquins and pigs. I can't bear to wake up today." I saw that he was too shocked to drink more white wine, so I said, "Okay, you rest first, I'll call you when I catch the water monkey."

I called Hu Yao Yao to go to the side of the bubble. We buried a few Supreme Yang items in the water according to the formation, and burned two spell paper inside. The third talisman paper had the function of a switch, so we could use it to lure water monkeys in the night.

In the evening, my grandpa went out to play mahjong, my grandma went to chat at the neighbor's house, my dad was asked to eat dinner, my mom went to Aunt Cui's house to watch TV, the TV at home was broken, I saw this was great, it was precisely when I was out of control that I called Hu Yao into the room, she came in and sat on the kang, grabbed a handful of melon seeds, and said to me, "What are you watching? Let me watch TV." I said, "Why do you look so familiar?" She said, "Hai, I'm your family's deity. If you have nothing to do, just watch TV with your grandparents. I love to watch that whatever bird shooting or bird shooting." I was exasperated. "What do you mean by 'shot bird' and that's called 'eagle hero Legend'? Are you a household fairy?" It's not that I doubt it, because I know this little fox too well. Other than drinking and laughing foolishly, this fellow doesn't have any other abilities.

She saw the disbelief on my face and said nonchalantly, "Tsk! Hurry up and watch the TV for me!" I said, "The TV's broken. Let's go to the bubble later." She ignored me and looked around for something to eat. She took out a cold dish of pig's ear and said to me, "Where's the wine? Look at how you're acting.

Yesterday, I saved your life. Boy, you're too cold." I was speechless and could only get her some wine. Hu Yaoyao was really impolite, as she brushed her teeth away from her face, revealing that she didn't have the beauty of a little fox spirit. I sat opposite her, teasing her, "Hey, Yaoyao, do you know Yu Wencai?" She said with a mouthful of food in her mouth, "Pigs are incompetent? What pig." "Your nephew," I said. She had a bashful look on her face as she said, "I hate it, I am not married yet. What nephew are you talking about, I don't have any ..." This is the first time I've heard that I don't have a nephew if I don't get married. I thought to myself, This little fox really doesn't understand human nature.

After she finished eating, I was about to fall asleep. She wobbled over to stop me from waking up and said, "Let's go, let's go with grandaunt to catch that monkey and bring it over. Let's see what that monkey will do for us. If it disobeys grandaunt, let's put two pounds of blood on it. Here, this knife." As he spoke, he put my kitchen knife away.

"Aiyo, you really are my grandaunt. Aren't you afraid of cutting yourself?" After saying that, I quickly went to grab the kitchen knife. She struggled and shouted, "What are you doing? Men and women shouldn't be so intimate with each other. If you keep on making trouble, I'll bite you." I put my hand on her forehead and pressed her against the table. She pushed up and I pushed down, and for a moment we were in a stalemate.

At this moment, a familiar voice and the sound of a door opening could be heard from outside. I could tell that my grandparents and parents had all returned. They were crying inside. Why did they come back together? Was it planned? I hastily told Hu Yaoyao, "Grandaunt, please don't play around with me. My family has come back, so listen carefully. Seeing how we are acting, we won't think that I'm playing a hooligan." Hu Yaoyao had too much to drink, so she couldn't hear what I was saying. "You little shameless brat, let me go. I'll bite you to death." The door opened and the whole family came in. Seeing that the two of us were fighting, their mouths dropped open in shock.

After a long while, his grandfather finally spoke, "What's going on?" My mother said, "Which village does this girl come from? Why is she so handsome?" When my father pulled me away, Hu Yaoyao couldn't stand up and sat on the ground. Grandma went over and touched her face. "How much did this kid drink? It smells like so much alcohol?" My family's jaw almost fell off from shock. My grandfather slapped his thigh and said, "No wonder last time when I pulled the carriage, the horse ran around and pressed down on my leg. What happened to my leg, was it protected by this great deity?" Hu Yaoyao didn't answer, but just sat on the brick bed with her face leaning against the wall and rolled her eyes. Seeing that she was about to fall asleep, I saw that she was still drunk, so she said, "Well, I'll send her to the barn. She doesn't want to talk to anyone."

My mother said, "How could this little girl make people sleep in a barn?" As she said this, she led Hu Yao Yao into a side room. The whole family happily discussed about the Protector Immortal, and Grandma was the most excited. "This Protector Immortal has such a good relationship with Hao Zi. He will definitely be able to protect him wholeheartedly." I was greatly taken aback. I thought to myself that I didn't know who was protecting who, but this little fox was still confused. His only ability was to drink and act crazy after drinking.

When I woke up, Hu Yaoyao was sitting next to me with a white hair in her hand. I said, "Why are you tormenting me so much in the middle of the night? If you want to drink, go find out yourself. Don't cause too much trouble." After saying that, she turned around to go back to sleep. She came over to shake me, "Hey hey hey, what are you sleeping for. I didn't drink too much. I didn't want to talk and pretend to drink too much with your family." I sat up and held out my hand to her. Look at my hand, these teeth marks, who gave it to me? " She giggled and said, "Then wouldn't I be playing around with you? Let's go, let's go and catch the monkeys." We carefully groped our way out.

When we arrived at her house, she asked me, "Do you want me to call you a good friend?" I said, "It's best if they can be called out. Otherwise, it'll be really hard for us to catch them." She said, "I have a way." After saying that, he squeezed his way through the wall. After waiting for a while, he was thrown out like a bag. "Oh my, who is this?" He didn't seem to be awake yet, as he rubbed his eyes and muttered. I went up to pat him: "I, your Brother Hao, isn't this ... I'm bringing you water monkey with me." He was much more clear-headed when he heard this. "Right, right, right. Catching water monkeys. Ai, that's not right. How did I get out of here?" Without a word, we grabbed his hand and ran to the edge of the bubble.

There was no one by the side of the bubble in the middle of the night. I said to Diao Yang, "Warm up. I'm like a dragon in the river. Now is the time for you to show off your skills." Diao Yang said, "You really want me to go down and fight Water Monkey with my life? I'm not a tiger, but you can drag an ox down with you. If you want to leave, then get down." I looked at Hu Yaoyao, she understood, "Brother Diao, just go down. Haozi and I will tie you up with a rope. If you are in danger, we will pull you up. Don't be afraid." Diao Yang couldn't stand it when others looked down on her, especially when it was a girl. "Who's scared?" "I don't want to make unnecessary sacrifices. My second uncle said that we have to test our wits in the war of the people. I think it's better for us to go down together and seize the upper hand." I saw that he was determined not to go down, so I sighed and said, "Alright, someone has to lead the way. Let me do it." "Haozi, if you are sacrificed, the country and the people will remember you." "Damn, can you say something nice? Just remember what's the use of me." After saying that, he took off his shirt and began to exercise. The night was cool, and if he didn't warm up, he would easily cramp. At that time, don't mention catching water monkeys, he would drown.

Ten Jin of Fox's Blood in the Abnormal Records of Northeast China

With a worried expression, Hu Yaoyao said, "Be careful." I nodded and handed her the lighter and the paper. "If you see anything, light it." Diao Yang said, "Seeing the way you two are acting, it's not like you're going to die. Big brother's rolling pin is not for nothing, so what are you afraid of."

At night, the water was still pretty cold. Wearing a pair of mischievous diving glasses, with cotton stuffed into my ears and nose and a hollow tube in my mouth, I couldn't help but feel that my equipment was really useful. As long as I could maintain the balance of the breathing tube, I would be able to swim happily in the water, and I couldn't help but to grunt in my heart, "Looking at the moon in the water through the fog, you can distinguish this unpredictable world ..." Looking at the moon in the sky through the water, it was truly beautiful. The moon was so round that people were unable to see each other, and it was hard to say whether they were happy or sad, but I wished that we could last for a long time. I didn't know why I suddenly thought of this poem, but a benevolent old man suddenly appeared in front of me. She smiled and said, "Child, grandma won't bring you here anymore. Let's go, grandma will bring you along." I nodded. "Yes."

Right at this moment, a burst of yang energy emanated over, and the moment of agitation caused me to open my fox eyes. Grandma Liu had disappeared, and in her place was a monster with a sharp mouth and monkey cheeks, a water monkey? Seeing that I had reacted, the water monkey grabbed my hand with one hand and stuffed the mud into my ear and nose with the other. Luckily, it was tightly stuffed with cotton wool, otherwise, it would have suffocated me to death. I looked and saw that this water monkey was extremely intelligent and knew that my communication with the higher-ups was through this hollow tube. It was actually holding the hollow tube with its feet. At this moment, Hu Yaoyao and Diao, who were on the shore, were probably chatting away.

The water monkey saw that it couldn't get into the mud, so it grabbed a rock and threw it at my head. It was very strong underwater, so it swung its arms and smashed me hard on the head, but fortunately, the rock had softened after being underwater for so long and hit my head until it turned into powder, but it still hurt so much that I almost cried out. It couldn't do it anymore, it picked up another rock, and I covered my head with my arm. What will happen to my family? I seem to have seen my mother crying like she wanted to die. How can a beast like you casually kill me? Thinking of this, I felt my heart heat up, and fox blood instantly flowed all over my body. My body was immediately filled with power.

The water monkey in front of me is my target, it's my turn, the water monkey that was originally as strong as a cow, now feels as weak as a chicken, I grabbed its arm, pulled down, knees raised, fiercely smashing into its chin, my right hand formed a fist, I swung it with all my strength towards its head, a hook fist landed solidly on its face, passing through its right hand the feeling of breaking something, blood came out of its mouth, looking at me in fear, it definitely can't understand why I let it go, it just turned around like a chicken and got hit, but due to the speed of the formation, it fell back to me. As if it had been shocked by electricity, black smoke burst out from its body and it could no longer move. It jumped down in an unruly manner and together, we managed to pull the half-dead water monkey onto the shore.

After landing on the shore, the fox's blood retreated, causing me to feel pain all over my body. I looked at the bloody wounds from the water monkey's claws, as well as the multiple wounds from it smashing rocks, and the pain from being stuck to the water was unbearable. I angrily kicked the water monkey, "You guys don't know how crafty and powerful this beast is, but you guys almost killed me here." Hu Yaoyang looked at my wound and worriedly said, "It's okay, I'll treat it when we get back. It shouldn't be a big problem."

The water monkey was already on his last breath, and now that he was being mischievously attacked with a rolling pin, he was only able to breathe and foam was oozing out of the corners of his mouth. Seeing that his time was near, I said, "How are we going to deal with this? "I say, let's hang it on a big tree at the village entrance and let the villagers know that we are the ones who cleaned it up. From now on, we will be the heroes of the village. Who knows, the village chief might even have to reward us with something. Hehehe." Seeing his unpromising upbringing, I wanted to laugh. Hu Yaoyao said, "We can't keep this thing. I think it's better to burn it to ashes." We split up and picked up a bunch of branches. After a while, we threw the water monkey's body onto the pile and lit it with a lighter. A big fire burned away the evil thing into ashes.

When we got home, feeling cold, hungry and in pain, Hu Yaoyao went into the little barn and told me to stay put. She went in and got a bucket of water and let go of the big tail, pulled out a piece of the tail and left it in the water, muttering something. I said, "Big Sis, don't tease me. "Aren't you afraid that you might accidentally leak it and scare a few people to death?" She stared at me without a word. After she finished, she poured a bucket of water down my head. I shouted, "What are you doing? Are you still complaining that I don't have enough water?" With that, she immediately felt her whole body being filled with warmth and comfort. Hu Yaoyao said, "You consumed too much Fox Immortal blood today. Your body is so weak, it will be difficult to recover by yourself." I chuckled, "You little vixen sure have a good heart." "Tsk ..." She gave me a glance and pushed me out.

He slept until the sun rose. When he woke up, he saw that his wounds had mostly healed. Only faint scars were left on his wounds. If one did not look carefully, it was truly impossible to tell that he had recovered. Being criticized by the whole family, I guess the consequences of being picky are similar to mine.

After eating, I carried a cup of wine into the barn. Hu Yaoyao was just about to go to sleep when I pulled her by the tail a few times, woke her up, and said, "Hey, sister fox, let's eat and drink." Hu Yao Yao stood up and took a human form. She sniffed the wine in the cup and said, "You little brat, you also know that I, your aunt, am willing to drink. Fine, nice." After saying that, I drained the bottle of wine in one gulp. "Yao Yao, what are you planning to do from now on? Do you want to go up the mountain or stay at my house?" She said: "Oh, I do not know ah, too milk said I do not have the wisdom root, it is not easy to build a human form." I said, "How about this, you go to school with me." She was confused. "School? What is that?" I said, "Going to school means being with a lot of friends. Reading and playing is really interesting." Her face lit up. "Really? Then can I go too? With you?" I said, "Well, come with me, so you won't be bored." She was so happy that she jumped up and down. "That's great. I can go out everyday to play. I don't have to stay in this small house anymore." When I heard this, I felt sad. Ah, just being able to go out with someone and make her happy like this really made it difficult for her to stay alone for so many years.

In the afternoon, my father went to the city and left Hu Yaoyao in my family's account. His name was Sun Yao, and his mother brought her to buy new clothes and pants, and she dressed up so beautifully that she couldn't help but smile happily. I thought that if my own sister was still alive, she would probably be doted on like this as well.

Everyone in the village heard that a distant relative of mine passed her daughter on to my family as a daughter. Every day, I would take her to play with her, and when she was living in the side room at night, she would always pester me and chat with her. No matter what I said, she always had a serious expression on her face.

Soon, the flood had receded, and the students were able to return to school. I led Hu Yao Yao to school. On the way, Hu Yao Yao was extremely scared. She kept tugging at my clothes and teasingly said, "What are you afraid of? Big brother is here." As he said that, he rolled up his sleeves, revealing his pitch-black and skinny arms that looked as if they were rolling about. "Look at my muscles, who dares to say what bro can spare him?" It made us laugh.

Because it was Hu Yaoyao's first time here, the teacher asked her to introduce herself on stage. Hu Yaoyao's face was so red that it seemed like she was introducing herself, and the teacher knew that she was my sister and arranged for us to make a table. Steamed Bun Long even had a face full of sighs, and after class, Zi Long came over and sat in front of me, looking at us, he said, "Is she really your sister? Then why don't the two of you look the same? Your sister is so pretty." Hu Yaoyao pretended not to look up from her book, and a dark expression appeared on my face, "Big Bro, is there a need to be so straightforward?" When the flood came, our village was completely flooded and the roof was floating up. Luckily, my uncle the PLA came and said, why is the water so big, I said it's okay, come with me, and then I started to direct. Without me, our village was finished, but of course I didn't tell anyone else, I just waited to come to the school to talk to you. He said, "Don't boast, our village is not even as flooded as your village and you don't even dare to go out. How could I not believe that you would dare to go out with the PLA to fight the flood? "Commanding? What do you know? Why didn't I drown you in this blow?" The two of them started bickering. Hu Yao Yao looked at them with a puzzled expression. Zi Long immediately ignored Hu Yao Yao and said to her, "Little sister, what's your name? Your voice on the stage just now was too low, so I couldn't hear anything." Hu Yao saw that I didn't say anything, so I said, "My sister's surname is Sun, and she's called Sun Yao. Brother Long is good at studying, so you should help her a lot in the future." "Of course, your sister is my sister." Zi Long's face was full of obligation.

Just like this, Hu Yaoyao went to school with us. She had never had much contact with other people, and seeing that everything was new, she suddenly felt that living in a human society was somewhat inappropriate. However, her pure and kind character allowed her to quickly integrate into the group, and just like that, a semester passed.

Ten Jin of Fox's Blood in the Abnormal Records of Northeast China

Record of Strange News in Northeast - C25

C25

In the blink of an eye, winter had arrived. It was so cold that even his bones were pierced. In addition to the biting north wind, no one wanted to go out. The windows were sealed with paper, and thick curtains hung over the doors.

The so-called cat winter, it meant that in the winter, people rarely went out to exercise, and most of the time they hid at home. The Northeast had the habit of storing food in the winter, and that was to deal with the lack of food in the winter. The so-called cat winter, it meant in the winter, it meant that in the winter, people seldom went out, and most of the time they hid at home, and the Northeast had the habit of storing food in the winter, to deal with the lack of food in the winter.

She ate a few mouthfuls of sour vegetables with my family. Seeing that she was getting less and less spirited, she was always complaining to me, "Summer is still good. You can fight on the mountain whenever you want to eat. Sigh, I didn't expect your winter to be so miserable." I said, "Just bear with it. What's the point of it? We have already come here. Aren't we living quite well?" Hu Yaoyao sighed and said, "Sigh, it'll be fun if we can go up the mountain now."

I thought for a moment. Indeed, although there aren't many animals on the mountain now, there aren't many people hunting, especially when many animals are hibernating. An experienced old hunter would be much easier to hunt in the winter.

I went to find Diao Yang and Zi Long and told them about the idea. Unexpectedly, the two of them agreed to oppose me and said mischievously, "Hao Zi, it's not that I don't want to go with you, but in this damn cold weather, don't even talk about hunting. We don't even dare to go out, for fear of falling into some hole in the ice." Zi Long said, "Hmm, he's right. Haozi, logically speaking, my grandpa should be a famous old hunter. Although I'm young, but I also have the ability to obtain my grandpa's true inheritance. It's not difficult for me to hunt, big brother." Seeing that he was about to start bragging, I hurriedly said, "Stop, don't say it's useless. Just say if you're going or not. Whatever it is, we'll split it equally. If not, I'll take more from you two. How's that?" "Haozi, you do have some skill, but Zilong and I will help you carry a deer, a deer, a wild boar or something. I'll help you carry them, and I'll share one leg with you." Zi Long said, "That's enough. If you can't take me with you, don't bring me along. I can fight with a gun, and I've been up the mountain with my grandfather more than once. Besides, you have a small body, can you handle a wild boar?"

Seeing the two of them about to start hunting again, I sighed, "We're not hunting for fun, my mouth is so soft, it's almost like a bird flying out. Think about it, how long are we going to carry a big guy with us? Don't your parents always say it's useless if you don't learn anything and only know how to say it? Carry a deer for your parents and let them laugh it off. When that time comes, you can go out and play with them." I said to Zi Long, "Zi Long, how famous is your grandfather, Bao Hei Zi? You grandson, as his grandson, are you not allowed to give him face? You should carry a big guy back, your grandpa should praise you to death." My Third Uncle called me last month and said that he was going to come to our house to hunt. When he was young, he always came up the mountain with my grandfather, and now that he's so strong, the three of us can just follow him when he comes. He just wants to play around, so whatever he does, he'll definitely give it to the three of us. Is there such a good thing? I said, "Sure, I'll wait for you to notify me." "Then what are you going to say? I'll definitely go."

When I was home, I was so bored that I started chatting with Hu Yaoyao. I was waiting for Zi Long to come find me, so I asked him, "Yaoyao, do you want to follow me up the mountain?" She said, "What are you doing up the mountain?" "Hunting? Don't you want to eat meat?" Hu Yaoyao quickly shook her head, "Forget it, I'll just say it casually. Besides, the tiger on the Winter Mountain is really fierce, I'm afraid." I was speechless. Why was this little vixen so timid?

When he finally brought Steamed Bun Long over, Zi Long rushed over to my house excitedly: "Hao Zi, let's go. My third uncle is here." When the three of us arrived at Zi Long's house, he saw that his grandfather was chatting with a middle-aged man and wanted to go with us. Hearing that, his grandfather smiled and said to his third uncle, "Little Wu, this will test you. I have never dared to bring anyone new to hunting bears in the past." His Third Uncle was called Bao Changwu and was tall and strong. He had a face of indifference, "Sure, the three of you can follow me." Yeah, the three of us jumped up happily.

We all have to listen to him, or else we won't be allowed. In his words, hunting is also a war, a war between man and nature. Even after a lifetime of hunting, he didn't dare to say that he was an outstanding hunter. As the five of us walked, we listened to the old man. "Do you know what good hunters are like? You don't know, just like now, if you want to hunt, you have to be able to lie down in the snow for a few hours. The prey doesn't care about you. How many hours would it take to lie still in the snow? Who would be able to take it? Don't even mention shooting and fighting with their prey, even if he could move, he would be able to.

You three kids, do you know where I got my nickname from? Little Wu, don't tell me." The old man continued, "That year, my family was so poor that we couldn't even open a pot. Little Wu and his two elder brothers were crying so hungry, and Zi Long your father was the one who ate the most and cried the most, causing me to feel sorry for him. If I could get a tiger or a bear, that would be great; a tiger and a bear are all treasures, a bear's meat can be sold, a bear's gallbladder and a bear's paw is worth more than a tiger's head.

Xiao Yang and I were extremely excited. Zi Long was timid. After hearing that, he asked fearfully, "Grandfather, can we meet a bear today?" The old man smiled. Third Uncle said, "Are you looking at my bag? Let alone the bear, I can even drill a hole through a pile of two bears." Zi Long patted his chest. "I am relieved."

As the five of us ran along, we found it interesting, and we didn't feel the strain of hunting. After all, no one was hunting for a living these days, and it was more of a pastime than anything else, and of course, only the brave had the right to enjoy it.

We really did encounter many animals. Third Uncle's marksmanship really wasn't covered, so it wasn't exaggerated to just walk through the woods with 100 steps. After a while, Zi Long and I each carried a rabbit. We were talking and laughing along the way, and Zi Long said, "Just one big thing and it'll be fine." If the wild boar, black bear, and the pack of wolves go that way, not to mention the few of us, even if there are a few of them, they would have to be explained without any big weapons. If they were to run into a deer, or a deer, then you wouldn't be able to do anything about it.

The three of us were happily discussing how to eat rabbit meat. The old man and third uncle were discussing something else when the old man suddenly said, "Don't talk, there's a big guy coming." Just as I was wondering, I heard the sound of heavy footsteps. The old man whispered, "Hmm, this is a bear that was woken up. It might have been woken up by the sound of the gunshot." After saying that, he raised his head and took a quick glance. "Let's head that way. We'll be hiding for a while."

I asked, "Grandfather, how do you know that it isn't a tiger?" The old man said, "A tiger shouldn't be as heavy as a bear, but its footsteps are much lighter than a bear's. Especially in this snowy weather, it's much easier to tell the difference."

Third Uncle was very excited. "Dad, how good is it to hunt this bear? It's so big." The three of us were excited to hear that, and we looked at the old man eagerly.

The old man was silent for a moment. "It's not easy to deal with such a big bear. All of you have to listen to me, or else it won't work." We all agreed, and the bear hunt had put the fear behind us.

Soon we caught up to the bear, very far away, and Third Uncle aimed a shot at the bear's head. Unexpectedly, the shot went past the bear's shoulder because it was too far away, but it angered the bear not to hit him.

Third Uncle quickly fired a few shots in quick succession, and only one shot wasn't fatal. If he fired again, it would be Kak. The old man immediately made a decision: "Run." With that, he dragged Zi Long and ran ahead.

Even though the old man was old and his legs were nimble, he ran around the tree so that the bear wouldn't be able to catch up with him. The bear looked stupid, but in reality, he ran much faster than the man.

Originally, this entertainment had turned into a life or death escape. Third Uncle was in front, the three of us were in the middle, and Third Uncle was in the back.

It scared the three of us so much that our faces turned white, especially Zi Long. “Mother, why is this bear so scary? Grandfather, oh grandmother, help me!” The old man said, “Don’t talk, focus. If this bear can’t catch up, then let’s go back.”

After hearing that, we were much more at ease. Who knew that at this crucial moment, Zi Long would cry out and fall to the ground, bringing me and Xiao Yang down along with him. Third Uncle quickly came over to help us up, and within a few seconds, Xiong ran over to us.

The old man looked at it and shouted, “Go up the tree!” The old man and the dragon climbed the tree, and the three of us climbed to the nearest tree. The bear couldn’t climb the tree, so we just waited for it to leave.

The bear ran towards me, and I could even clearly see the teeth and long claws in the bear’s mouth. It scared me to the point that I had to use all my strength. Unfortunately, I couldn’t skillfully use the fox’s blood, otherwise I wouldn’t be in such a sorry state.

Just as I climbed up the tree, the whole tree started to shake violently. I was so scared that I almost let go of my hands and fell down. The old man shouted, “Hold on tight. If you fall down, you’ll lose your life.”

I didn’t dare to look down. I could only cling to the trunk and pray that the bear would hurry up and leave. The bear couldn’t knock me down after a while, so it turned around and ran off to someone else.

Ten Jin of Fox’s Blood in the Abnormal Records of Northeast China

Record of Strange News in Northeast - C26

C26

C26

Everyone near the mountain knew that it would rather provoke a tiger than a mad bear. A bear was a creature that did not care for its own life. It would risk its life no matter what. A bear in hibernation was even more difficult to provoke.

Obviously, what we have in front of us right now is a crazy and hibernating bear. The hibernating bear lacks food, and it also has a bad morning.

When the bear saw that I could not fall, it turned and ran to the others, who had climbed higher than me, and wandered and came back, and then I slipped again, and almost slipped, and the brown bear saw me, and stood up, and put his hands on the tree, and tried to lick me, and its tongue was only a few inches from my buttocks, and when I dropped a little more, it let it lick me down.

It was almost impossible to expect someone to come down from the tree and rescue me, because anyone who came down here without a weapon could only feed the bear. At this critical moment, an extremely strong ray of light suddenly shot out from the tree opposite, and it just so happened to hit the bear's eyes. It turned out to be Third Uncle, he controlled the light, attracting the bear's attention.

Third Uncle didn't fall down, but his flashlight did. It landed on top of the bear's head, causing it to howl. I took the opportunity to climb up the tree.

I was so tired that I finally climbed higher, but it was so cold, so cold that I was afraid I would freeze and fall down again. I thought I was really free, and doing something at this time would make me have to run to the top of the mountain and play with the bears.

Looking at Third Uncle who was on the verge of collapsing from the impact of a bear, I said in my heart, "That's too kind, to be able to return alive today, I must definitely pay my respects to him. Ah, that's not right, we are not of the same generation, if I wanted to pay my respects to him, he would definitely not bow to me."

While I was lost in my thoughts, the bear also stopped his useless crash. He could tell that he wouldn't be able to hit anyone just by hitting them. He sat down dejectedly, then suddenly stood up and howled towards the distance.

This shout gave me a fright. I thought to myself, 'Is this bear trying to attract me with its loud voice? It's just thinking too much. It howled a few times. Suddenly, the cry of a bear came from afar.

Was he summoning his companions? What's the meaning of this? Are they going to fight? No matter how many bears you call, we won't be aroused by your fighting spirit and go down to fight for our lives with you.

No matter how many bears you call me, I'm not afraid. This tree is so tall and so thick, how many bears can you call over to eat it? When I thought of this, I was a little scared. If I called a bunch of bears over, they would just stay under the tree. How long could we stay close to them? Sooner or later, there would be a time to fall, when he would have to feed the bear.

Thinking about this, I started to concentrate on looking for Hu Taikai, Hu Taikou, ah, Hu Taikou, I have served you well enough, now that my life is in danger, please don't stand up high and wait, when the time comes I won't have the chance to serve you, don't blame me, Hu Taikai, if you don't look at my face, I won't do anything, just look at Grandma Liu's face and show your compassion.

Damn it, I can't even concentrate in this kind of situation, I'm afraid that I would have forgotten where I was and accidentally fell down. I'm sure that Hu Tai'e will not eat as fast as this bear, when she comes, she'll at most clean up my bones and bury me.

I looked at the old man. Good god, an old man is devilish, a mouse is hard to hold when old, and I saw that the old man was lying on his stomach with his eyes half closed. I thought to myself, this old man definitely has a way, or else would he dare be so at ease?

Thus, I shouted to the old man, "Old man, do you have a move? This isn't a solution for us to continue wasting time like this." The old man curled his lips and said, "What can I do? I'll go down and play with it for my life. What do you think?"

He was speechless. The old man was still in the mood to tease me. I said, "Then what should we do?" He said, "Just one word. Wait. Wait until someone finds this place, then we'll be saved?"

To put it simply, this freezing cold weather was not cold at the moment. If they waited for a while longer, under the gusts of the cold wind without food or water, if they did not allow movement, who could last for long?

At this moment, the cry of the bear was getting closer and closer. Soon after, a smaller bear came over. This bear was dark and thin, so I couldn't help but say to Diao Yang, "Diao Yang, is this bear a relative of yours? Why does it look so similar to you?" "You're still in the mood to joke," Diao Yang said nervously. "I forgot the despicable look on your face when you almost get licked on the butt by the bear. The two of them will be the first to find you."

The two bears clashed under the tree for a while, as if discussing their battle plans. I thought to myself, You two stupid bears can come up with something. Although three smelly smiths can defeat a famous one, your IQ is even lower than a smelly smiths. At most, two stupid bears can beat a smelly smasher.

Thinking of this, I couldn't help but laugh. The laughing old man stared at me and said mischievously, "Haozi, have you gone mad from fright? "When Zhang Luo came up the mountain, he was the fiercest. Now, he only knows how to giggle foolishly."

Third Uncle said, "Let's all calm down a bit. Maybe the two bears will just leave after they see that we haven't made any movements." The old man disdained it when he heard it, "What are you thinking? A bear is sharper than you, you look stupid, but I think you're even more stupid than a bear. What are you doing shooting at it with that gun of yours?" Third Uncle said, "Then what do you think we should do?" The old man said, "If I wanted to know, what would I do if I had to lie down here?" At this moment, the frightened Zilong shouted, "Mother of God, why is this bear climbing trees?"

We looked down and it was true that the black and thin bear was climbing up my tree, and it scared me so much that I suddenly started to pee. I suddenly remembered what my grandfather had told me before, that there were actually some bears that could climb trees, but they were very few, and most of them were very fat, so it was very difficult to climb trees. But a bear that was up in the winter could climb, because it hadn't eaten for a long time, and it had already lost weight.

This bear climbed quickly and steadily, as if he was an old hand. Others were shouting loudly in the tree, trying to distract the bear, but to no avail. I made up my mind, when he was about to come up, I would jump down.

I really want to jump down, but this tree is so tall, and there's even a bear below it. Once I jump down and fall half dead, I'll have the bear hold me down before fox blood can even come out ... I'm going to kill myself. Jump, just jump. Just as I was urging myself to jump, a miracle happened.

The bear looked at me with a puzzled expression before steadily climbing back down. 'What is going on?' Did it discover his conscience? No way, did it become vegetarian? I really can't figure it out. The smaller bear climbed down and quickly ran away, while the other big bear also ran away.

The people on the trees stared at each other and said mischievously, "Haozi, you're begging him? It doesn't look like it. I think you're about to cry from fright." I said, "Please my ass, if he listens to me, I'll let him come over and eat you." The old man said, "Let's go down first before we speak." It was only then that we remembered that we were lying on the ground, not daring to move. We were also nervous, so our legs were numb as we carried the tree and slipped down. It actually felt like we had just survived a disaster.

When I got home, I crawled into bed. My mother knocked on the door and asked me, "What happened? Were the wolves chasing me?" I hastily replied, "There were no wolves, but there were a few rabbits. However, the road was slippery when I returned. I accidentally dropped it on the road." My mother said, "Don't worry about it. Hurry up and come out to eat." Eating? I looked at my watch. It was already late at night, yet I had stayed on the mountain for such a long time.

After washing my face and eating, my grandfather asked me how I was doing when I was hunting and if it was fun or fun, I said, "Hey, it's boring. I played with a few rabbits, but I didn't do anything and I'm too embarrassed to take them. I've already given them to Steamed Bun Long's third uncle. We don't lack rabbit meat, right Yao Yao." "Anyway, it's been a long time since I've had meat." Hu Yaoyao said with a muffled voice. You really aren't giving me face.

My dad asked, "We didn't encounter any danger. Why were you in such a hurry when you came back?" My grandma said, "Didn't that Old Bun, Hei Zi, follow along? He's an old hunter." My father said, "That's different. I heard that there were several hunters from other villages. A while ago, they went up the mountain and said that they met some grizzly, and there were quite a few of them." My mother said, "What is leather, yellow leather." My father said, "It's not a weasel, it's some kind of big guy. He looks like a bear, but he's an old man. Those hunters said that they've never seen such a smart guy before. Whether it be setting traps or poisoning, they've all let him see it. Is he strong?"

My mother said, "I didn't notice it, but it was quite scary. Haozi, you and Yaoyao, don't go up the mountain anymore. It's all over if you run into that grizzly." I hurriedly said, "That's for sure. Why would the two of us take that risk? When someone captures the Grizzly Puppets, we can go up the mountain again." My father said, "That may not be the case. From my point of view, with how sharp Grizzly is, we hunters won't be able to do that."

After dinner, I went back to my room and started reading. I didn't want to read the book sent out by the school, so if I could understand it, there was no need to read it. If I couldn't, it would be useless to read it.

While watching this attentively, Hu Yao Yao entered the room and asked, "Hey, what did you bump into on the mountain today?" Didn't I say it already? It's just playing with a few rabbits." She laughed. "Really? Why don't I believe it?" I thought to myself, "Why would I lie to you? Really." She said, "Then why do I smell something strange?" I asked, "What does it smell like?" She smiled slyly. "A smell of fear." I said, "How interesting. I'm afraid there's still greatness?"

She patted my shoulder and said, "That's enough! You're pretending to be family, but I'm pretending to be family. You came up the mountain for my own good. Say it, maybe I have a way to help you." I thought for a moment, then said to her, "Close the door, I can tell you, but you can't tell adults." She closed the door and sat down and nodded. I told her about what happened on the mountain today, and of course I didn't tell her about how scared Black Bear was. All boys care about face, especially in front of girls.

Hearing this, she looked puzzled. "You said that the black bear ascended the tree, but it actually didn't eat you?" I said, "Yeah, help me think about it." Hu Yaoyao yawned and said, "What are you thinking about? You didn't eat, so you didn't. Maybe it's because I'm afraid that you might be able to loosen your teeth, so I'm going back to sleep."

Ten Jin of Fox's Blood in the Abnormal Records of Northeast China

Record of Strange News in Northeast - C27

C27

At night, I kept thinking about what my father had said. What the hell was Grizzly? Not many old hunters have heard of it. Also, what the hell is that black bear we met on the tree up there? Why did you see me leave again? It's just like what Hu Yaoyao said, you're afraid that I'll break my teeth?

Forget it, I just can't understand it. If I were to escape from a bear's mouth, I'm lucky. In the future, I should be more careful on the mountain. If you throw a handful of salt inside, you won't be able to fly out. If that little fox Yao is still human, I'll tie her up and throw her into the barn.

As I was daydreaming, I saw me walking down a forest path. What was going on? I'm very familiar with the woods near home, but I've never seen anything like this before.

At the end of the road was a pair of purplish-red gates. The outside wall was two to three meters high, and from inside came the sounds of laughter, silk bamboo, and the sound of toasts being toasted.

Where is this? Although I still had some doubts, I couldn't help but walk into the courtyard. Once I entered, a long stone staircase led straight to the hall. The doors of the hall were wide open.

In front of me was a large round table with dozens of people sitting around it. They were eating and drinking merrily and the leader was a dark faced man. When he saw me enter, he said, "We've finally arrived and are waiting for you." Saying that, he made an empty seat by the side of my hand, allowing me to sit down.

I was about to ask where they were, who were the people sitting, and I saw a woman sitting next to the dark faced man. She had a picturesque look on her face, dressed in red, beautiful like a peach flower, and every smile and smile was filled with endless charm, it was exactly the woman that I met in the sedan with Hu Yaoyang and Hu Yaoyao that night. Today, she seemed to be even more beautiful than the past few days, and I was stunned when she saw me look at her and said to me, "I don't know if you still remember me." I hastily replied, "Of course I remember. Of course I remember. It's hard to forget such a beautiful person." I usually don't talk like this. I don't even talk much with girls at school. I don't even dare to breathe loudly when I see the female teacher. What's wrong with me today?

The woman covered her mouth and laughed. Everyone else didn't even look at our side. The dark faced big man said to me: "You and my sister are fated to be together. It would be a pity if we couldn't be together. How old are you?" I said, "I'm twenty this year." The dark faced man said, "What a coincidence, my sister is also 20 years old. How many months is your birthday?" I said, "February 19th." The dark faced man clapped. "What a coincidence. My sister is also on the 19th of February."

The black-faced man then asked, "I haven't asked you what your name is, where you live, what your parents do, and if you're married." I hastily replied, "My name is Xu Wenzong. I live at the head of the Southern Sea. My family is fishing for a living, so I still haven't gotten married yet." When the woman in red saw me flustered, she giggled again. It was so funny that I almost forgot where I was.

The dark faced man said, "Aiya, this isn't good." I said, "Brother, do you feel that something is amiss? Can I just go along with you?" The dark-faced man said, "Your family is too far away. When has my sister traveled so far? Moreover, my sister is afraid of water. Your family also wants to fish for a living. What should I do?"

Indeed, my parents had long hoped that I would be able to get married. Lotus Heart was my beloved woman, and if I didn't marry her, I would regret it for the rest of my life. What could I do? It's really complicated, but in short, as long as I marry Lotus Heart, nothing else matters.

The dark faced man said, "How about this, after you get married, you will stay at your home for a year, and you two will come back to stay for a year. This is the most suitable way to settle things, what do you think?" I thought it was a good idea, so I quickly said, "Alright, alright, I'll listen to my brother." The black-faced man then asked the woman in red, "Little sister, how about this?" Lian Xin said, "I will listen to whatever brother says." Saying that, he looked at me with a smile, so bright that it could be said that he was looking forward to it, causing me to be absent-minded.

Immediately, the dark faced man stood up and announced loudly, "Everyone, today is the auspicious day for my sister and her husband. Everyone here is a witness to the wedding ceremony. Everyone will be here for three days."

Someone dragged Lian Xin and I to the back room to dress up. After a while, two maids came out to support Lian Xin, and they saw that she had a red hair covering her face and was wearing a phoenix coronet and gown. I was wearing the attire of the groom, and we kowtowed three times to the heaven and earth to remove the veil.

Everyone came over to toast him. Lian Xin and I drank one cup after another, and Xiongan Kui ordered a dark and thin man: "This day of great joy cannot lose its popularity. Go call for the people nearby to come and join the liveliness." The person replied and ran out. Soon, more people arrived. There were men, women, old and young. There were monks, old and young. There were warriors with sabers, and also scholars fanning themselves. For a time, it was hard to count how many people had arrived.

After staying here for three consecutive days, the delicacies and fine wine left one after the other. It was unknown how many of them had drunk, and it was likely that even the days of deities were nothing more than that.

Three days later, Lian Xin and I bid farewell to big brother. Before leaving, big brother sent us two BMW. We rushed back to my hometown, the South China Sea.

My parents were overjoyed to see Lotus at home. They built a new house near my parents' house. I went out to fish every day. Lotus was in charge of household chores at home.

One day I caught a big fish, and the family of four prepared to eat it, and when we cut open the belly of the fish, we saw a luminous pearl in it, and sold it in exchange for gold and silver and jewels, and there was a sudden burst of wealth, so I tore down the old house and built a new house, and took it over to live with my parents, and the new house occupied thirty acres of land, and bought countless servants and servants, and opened ten jewelry shops. Lotus and I loved them very much.

Lotus was a gentle woman, and her love for me was growing. She would stare at me, and when I smiled and asked her why she was staring at me, she would sigh and say nothing.

Lotus heart ate very little and had to soak in the sink for six hours every day. I often asked her if she could not stand the heat and humidity here, but she just said that she had been used to it since she was young. There was no other special reason, so I didn't ask any more questions.

I don't know why, we've been married for a few months, Lian Xin hasn't shown any signs of pregnancy at all. Even if I went to get a doctor, the doctor wouldn't be able to explain it, I'm going to look for a doctor even further away, so Lian Xin stopped me: "You and I are married, the most important thing is that the two of us can be together. As long as we are together, every day is a rare fate, it doesn't matter whether we have children or not." Hearing her words, I stopped going out and concentrated on accompanying her.

Every day we were as close as we had been on our first day of marriage, the lotus was always attached to me, and even when I went out during the day and came back in the evening, she was anxious and insisted on waiting for me at the door.

One night, I was awoken by a burst of sobs. It was Lian Xin. I hurriedly asked her what was going on. She looked at me sorrowfully and said, "I'm afraid that if I look at her less, we won't know when we will separate." I comforted her, "You and I are still young. If you say you don't want to look at me, I will stay with you."

After a year, Lian Xin and I went to my brother's house as per our agreement and prepared a palanquin. Ten people were carrying a palanquin and ten people were riding a BMW as we drove.

There were only a few more guests at my brother's house a year ago, and he was glad to see me, so he led us to the back room and ordered the servants to bring us food and meat. The three of us toasted each other until I felt a little dizzy and fell asleep on the table.

When I opened my eyes, I was shocked to see a big black bear sleeping soundly on the floor, and Lotus Heart had also fallen asleep on the table. I quickly grabbed onto Lotus Heart and ran out, and when I saw that the guests who had just been drinking and eating were no longer there, they turned into a room full of monsters and monsters. They were drinking and laughing loudly, and I was so shocked that I didn't dare to make a sound.

I said, "Lian Xin, you and I need to quickly run out." Lian Xin pushed me away and cried, "I'll be satisfied if I can see you again. Quickly leave. This is not a place for you to stay." I hurriedly said, "Lian Xin, why aren't you coming with me?" "I am a lotus spirit, you and I met each other in our past life, married and a boy called Xu Yuzhu, our family went for a stroll, and Yu Zhu ran off to some temple in the city, where we were discovered by the land, and followed Yu Zhu to his house, where we were forcibly separated." Lian Xin said with a teary heart, "I am a lotus spirit, you and I met each other in our previous life, and we were married and a boy called Xu Yuzhu, and we went for a stroll, and Yu Zhu ran off to some sort of a temple, and was discovered by the land. I seemed to understand, but also not understand: "Lian Xin, you and I have been husband and wife for a year, why do you say we meet each other in our dreams?" Lian Xin didn't say anything. She took my hand and pushed me out of the door. I was shocked and opened my eyes.

The sunlight from outside the window shines on my face, I look around my own home, I am still that nine-year-old Sun Hao, it turns out to be a dream, but this dream is too real and too long, I still remember that year in the South China Sea, still remember the dream lotus heart every day, her hair ornament, her favorite pond, when she stared at me that sad eyes, whether or not it was real or fake I can no longer tell.

Then I heard the noise in the outer room, my grandpa and grandma talking, my mom and Yao cooking, my dad coughing, and I slowly came back to reality.

I put on my clothes and went out. My mother saw me and said, "What time did you sleep yesterday? You woke up so late, so I wanted to wake you up. Seeing that you slept so sincerely, I didn't wake you up." I looked at my watch and it was actually past ten. Ah, Lotus Heart, Lotus Heart, how reluctant you are to wake me up.

I heated up some leftovers and put it into my mouth numbly. I feel like I've been away for a lifetime, and I don't know if I'm a guest or something." Hu Yaoyao came over and giggled, "What's the matter? What are you dreaming about? Why are you so distracted?" I asked her, "Do you think the lotus flower will mature and marry and have children?" She thought for a moment and said, "All living things have a spirit. Of course, lotuses can cultivate to a monster, but it's also possible for them to fancy people. It's just that we don't know about them after we get married.

Ten Jin of Fox's Blood in the Abnormal Records of Northeast China

Record of Strange News in Northeast - C28

C28

C28

The snow continued for a long time, but there were no more rumors about the person Grizzly had injured on the mountain. My father said, "It's not a good thing for Grizzly to leave. Maybe it's for King Tiger to eat. What does this mean?"

"Explain what?" my mother asked. My father said proudly, "It means that King Hu is getting anxious. Why is King Hu so anxious that he can't eat anymore? Otherwise, with something as sharp as the grizzly seed, King Hu would have had nothing to do with it. The snow is causing fewer beasts to walk on the mountain. King Hu is hungry, so he might have to go down the mountain." My mother said, "Don't scare people. Last time I heard that the tiger had left the mountain, I was only a few years older than Haozi. Now that our village has guns, the tiger is not stupid."

My grandfather worriedly said, "I can't say. King Hu is not an ordinary tiger. He's a big tiger after all. I just hope that he doesn't hurt anyone when he goes down the mountain." My grandma said, "Aiya, that's hard to say. How about we lock up the pigs outside the house and wait for King Hu to eat them, so that King Hu won't be angry." My grandfather said, "That's all you said. You're quite serious."

It was rare for him to dominate a place for too long, otherwise, it would bring disaster to a place for too long. Even the heavens would not be able to watch it, and Biao's personality was also cruel. Wherever he went, he would suffer as much as he could, and Biao wouldn't stay in the same place for too long for the sake of his own development.

During the night, I chatted with Hu Yaoyao in the warehouse. I guessed that Hu Tai Niu would be coming to exchange blood with me in the next few days, but I still felt a little scared when I cut my own arm. I let Hu Yao cut my arm, and said with a disdainful look, "You are so timid, how many people want my blood to go crazy? You are still hesitating." I said, "I know that too much milk's blood is good, but who isn't afraid of pain?" "Don't focus," Hu Yaoyao said.

She blew a breath into my face, and for a moment I felt confused. The scene before me became misty, and for a moment I couldn't think of anything.

When I woke up, I had already finished bleeding. Looking at the bottle of blood, I looked at my arm. There were only faint traces of it. I was both surprised and happy. Hu Yaoyao said, "You know how powerful he is, right? In the future, if someone breathes air at you, don't breathe it in, it might be harmful to you." I said, "Who else would do this to people other than you foxes?" Hu Yaoyao said, "Too many. I know that the Huang Family of the Immortal Family would also do this. The Gray Family would also do the same. Also, you humans also have this kind of harm, and there are quite a few of them."

I said, "What kind of person are you? You even know special abilities." She said, "There are many rapists, robbers, and thieves." I said, "It's fine. I have your protection, so I'm not afraid." She rolled her eyes and stopped talking.

After a while, Hu arrived, just like before. The temperature dropped a lot, and Hu appeared on the altar in the form of an ordinary old lady. This time, she even turned around and put on a hat, but the old lady was still wearing a single dress.

Without waiting for her to speak, Hu Yaoyao pounced on her, just like a normal girl who hasn't seen her grandma for a long time. She intimately touched her and said to me, "Is the blood ready?" I gave him the bottle of blood, and he sat down on the altar table and drained the whole bottle of blood in one gulp. He wiped his mouth with the empty blood under the bottle.

Hu Taimei jumped down and grabbed my wrist. She rubbed my wrist like a pulse and said, "Not bad, your physique really suits my fox immortal blood. To think that you would be able to grow so much of it yourself." I said, "What do you mean, too much?" The milk said, "My blood. Sooner or later, your blood will be replaced by my fox immortal blood. Alright, it's time for me to give you the blood." After saying that, she used her small fingernail to cut her wrist and placed it on top of my mouth before slowly flowing down.

After finishing the blood exchange, Hu Taimei said, "Other than exchanging blood with you every time, I rarely come out to walk around. Yaoyao, cultivate by yourself and don't let it go to waste." We both nodded, and with a flash, Hu Taimei disappeared.

Seeing how Hu Taizhi was in such a hurry, I was puzzled. "Yaoyao, what's wrong with Imperial Dairy? She seems to be in such a hurry, as if there's something at home."

"I haven't been back for a long time. I don't know what happened to my family, but I've been busy with milk. I don't know why, but it has something to do with my other two babies." Hu Yaoyao said.

When she mentioned the other two women, one was called Hu Xiaoshan, the other was called Hu Xiaoyan, but they weren't together. After this exchange of blood, I felt even more relaxed as I said to Hu Yaoyao, "Let's go out for a stroll."

Every time Hu Yaoyao went out, she would always feel very happy, especially when it was snowing heavily. She happily said, "That's great, I'm so bored. Where are we going to play?" I said, "Let's find some flippant and big-mouthed monsters, then we can have a snowball fight, okay?" Hu Yaoyao nodded repeatedly.

The four of us had a wild round of fun. We were so tired that our faces were red, and we were gasping for breath. As everyone tried to make peace, we were unable to distinguish who was the king of the snowy battle.

When they were resting, he said, "Hey, you know what? Recently, we have had people taking pictures of beggars. There are quite a few children taking pictures." I said, "What's a picture of a beggar?" "I don't even know that. Didn't your parents tell you that when you were young?" I shook my head. Hu Yao Yao laughed and teasingly said, "A beggar, that's exactly what they are for stealing children. I heard that they are really good at taking pictures, so they just patted your head with their hands. You're confused, they say that if you go with them, you'll go with them, but when the time comes, I'm not sure if you'll be bought or eaten."

I looked at Hu Yao Yao Yao and said, "How can I not know how powerful she is?" Tough: "You don't know a lot. It's said that this beggar is different from before, he used to pretend to be an old geezer, an old lady, no one saw him, and he specially made his move at night. The families that lost their children only found him the next day, and then the others found out, and they put the child in the middle with the door, windows, and so on tightly locked. It's no use, they still lost a few."

The three of us listened with wide eyes. I said, "And then?" He said, "What then, it's gone, if it's lost it's lost it's lost." "Didn't the family that lost their child call the police?" Diao Yang said: "The police are calling the police, but there's no clue at all about the battlefield. No one knows about it, right? Where you guys are, close the windows tightly and pray, don't lose your children."

I said, "Then I'm relieved. I don't have any children at home." Diao Yang said, "Then you're not afraid. Think about it, in the middle of the night, he quietly entered your room and you're still sleeping. What does he want to do now? It's impossible."

The big-mouthed monster said, "If you put it this way, it's really scary." I said, "What are you afraid of? He ran into your room in the middle of the night. You bit him and swallowed him in two bites." Wangyang and Hu Yaoyao were still laughing, but Liu Xin replied angrily, "He must be running to your room in the middle of the night, wait for him."

After all, no matter how noisy it was, I still had to be more careful in my heart. This playboy definitely wasn't a good person. On the way back, I told Hu Yaoyao, "Be careful tonight, don't close the door." With a look of disdain on her face, Hu Yaoyao said, "I'm not afraid at all. What flirt, I ..." What do you mean? "I'll bite him to death," Hu Yaoyao said.

When we passed by the Old Wang's house, we saw that Grandpa Wang was talking to a person. Our village is so big, and there are also many foreigners, so there are more and more people that we don't know. That middle-aged man and Grandpa Wang were talking and laughing with each other, and when he left he even smiled and greeted Grandpa Wang as he left, and I saw Grandpa Wang saying, "Grandpa Wang, what are you doing?"

He probably didn't hear it clearly. When he went home, he told his family about taking pictures of the flower, and the family members didn't take it to heart, so my father said, "Maybe they just stole the child and then sold it to other places. Didn't they all have children and daughter-in-law? Our Haozi is already so old, so what's there to be afraid of." My mom was a little worried. "That's true. It sounds scary, but who do you think they are? Selling their child just like that?"

I woke up the next morning at dawn. The air in the morning was really good, I was about to stroll along the village side before returning home, when I met a person walking towards me. His face and head were all covered with black cloth, and he didn't even reveal a single bit of his hand.

The next day, I heard my grandmother say: "Aiya, there are so many poor people now. Tell me, how many are there in our village? There's an old lady coming over these few days, but I can't tell how old she is. How pitiful, I'll give her some steels."

A few days later, I also saw the old beggar woman, who lived in a thatched cottage on the edge of the village. She was in her seventies or eighties and had a face full of wrinkles.

Every day she picked up some firewood for herself, and when others saw that she gave it to her to eat, or the quilt that was not used in her own house, the old lady's eyes and ears were not very good, and when others gave it to her they had to shout loudly, but this miserable old man always came back with a Buddhist pearl in his hand, and his mouth was always Amitabha, and he seemed to be a nun, a kind old nun, who liked children especially and was very close to them when she saw them.

Soon we would lose our children, and the old nun would say, "If you don't listen, let the big horses and monkeys take you away." The children are always scared to run home.

That night, after I finished playing with Diao Yang, I walked along the road and saw that the old nun was asking for food on her own and that a child's shoe was peeking out from her lower back. I quickly secretly followed the old nun to see what else she was up to.

The old nun didn't notice me. She went back to her old house, dug around in the corner, found a broken iron box, and actually took out a few little children's fingers and put them in her mouth and chewed them without even spitting a bone. The old nun finished eating the fingers, then took out a big earthworm and stuffed it into her mouth.

I thought to myself, what is this? Why would I eat anything? I was just about to go back and find someone to capture her, but when I turned around, I was broken. I stepped on a wooden branch, and with a crack, although it wasn't big, it was very clear in this place with no one around.

Even though she wasn't young, her speed was still fast. I quickly turned around to run, but unexpectedly, the old nun was running on all fours with a speed much faster than mine. A black tornado rushed over and knocked me to the ground.

The old nun ruthlessly grabbed onto my neck while making creaking sounds. Her facial features were twisted to the point that they were extremely hideous and her strength was terrifying. I was unable to struggle and slowly lost consciousness.

I pushed the old nun away. What the hell is this thing? I looked at the old nun and saw that she was on all fours, with her hair in disarray, circling around me. I couldn't see her face, but she didn't seem human to me.

The old nun threw herself at me again, and we fought, and she bit my shoulder so hard that I almost cried out in pain, and I grabbed her by the hair and pulled it out, and it didn't matter, I pulled her hair down over her head and showed her what she really was.

It looked like a monkey, but it was also much longer than a monkey's face. Its mouth was protruding, and its canine teeth were so large that I couldn't care less about the pain on my shoulder. I kicked her out and tore off a piece of flesh from my shoulder.

I rushed at her, but before she could get up, I grabbed her by the neck with both hands and slammed her hard into the cold ground. She kept on making squeaking sounds, but her resistance became weaker and weaker, and after knocking back a few times, I couldn't even remember how many times I hit her until I was too tired to let go.

I paused for a moment to see that she didn't move, and then I turned her over. It turned out to be a big monkey, and what I had just pulled down was a piece of human skin. Remembering that there was usually a monkey wrapped in human skin by my side, I got scared and threw the corpse of the big monkey into her run-down room.

Ten Jin of Fox's Blood in the Abnormal Records of Northeast China

Record of Strange News in Northeast - C29

C29

C29

In the blink of an eye, four years passed by, and these four years were considered to be peaceful. Occasionally, if someone in the village bumped into something evil, I would easily get rid of them, but it was all in a situation that others didn't know about, because Old Lady Liu once said to me, "It's not easy to eat when you leave the village."

My dream was to make a lot of money and then marry five wives in the prime of my life. When I grew up and found out that the law forbade me to marry five wives, my dream temporarily became to make a lot of money. Now that I found it hard to make a lot of money, my dream became a little smaller: I was admitted to a high school in the county.

After graduating from primary school, they had already decided to go to the county's high school. The whole family was overjoyed. In this summer that should have been blissful, many unlucky things happened.

First of all, his grandfather was found to have acute lymphatic cancer, and he left in a few days without waiting for the whole family to finish crying and his grandmother to die. The two of them left one after the other, and his parents bought two good coffins, ready to bury his grandparents together.

We have the custom of guarding the spirit for three days, my parents and I take turns to watch the spirit, there are rules that no animals can pass by, and legend has it that when animals easily collude with corpses, they will pick up corpses and use the breath of the animals to hurt people, and our loved ones can't wear too bright clothes, so the dead ones won't be willing to leave.

The one in the coffin is my grandparents, and even more of them are reluctant to part. Hu Yao Yao Yao is an animal fairy, so she can't stay in the vicinity, so she went to the warehouse and stayed there by herself.

After sending off my friends and family who came to pay their respects during the day, I took a short rest. After all, I had to stay up late at night, and lay on the brick bed for a while, unable to sleep. After lying on the brick bed for a while, I felt that someone was lying on the ground and looking in through the back window.

This was used by my grandfather when he was alive, he used high quality hemp thread to hold the steel wire. After my grandfather stopped using it, every day, I would soak the whip in the rune water made by myself. Even if I met some extremely dark and evil things, they would still have a great effect, and could be said to be used to beat evil spirits or to beat up evil people.

I went out with the whip and thought, “No matter what you are, I’ll whip you a few times and go out in a rage.” I turned around in the back room and saw that the guy was still watching me, so I approached him on tiptoe and swung my arm and whipped him, and with a crack I whipped the guy until he whooshed, ran to a bone, and started to run, and just as I was about to jump out of the wall, I caught up to him and whipped him again, but let him go.

So there were thieves that loved to steal things at places like wedding and the dead. It was normal for people to not know each other due to the red and white events. I suspect that the guy just now was such a thief, but he was too stupid and had to wait for everyone to leave before coming back.

I went back and lay down again, remembering what had happened in the other villages. It was said that the old lady of the family had died suddenly, that her family had been put in a coffin, and that there was no one to guide her. That night, something happened, and the dog jumped on top of the coffin, and the old lady suddenly stood up, saying, “What are you doing, putting me in a coffin?”

With that, the big guy was completely scared. Someone shouted, “We’ve been teased. Everyone, don’t believe what she said. We don’t know what’s going on, so there’s no need to be afraid.” The old lady came down from the coffin, and before I could understand what was going on, she was hit by a bunch of people using sticks and smashed into pieces, and her brain was already squeezed out, so she carried the corpse into the coffin and buried it in the wild. I just felt stupid and ignorant when I heard that, first of all, the old lady fainted for no reason, maybe it was just a shock, then she was pushed into the coffin, it was quiet, the old lady fainted, the moment the dog went up, the old lady woke up, but it was originally a joyous thing, and was killed by her own family. Of course, the most direct way was to bite, so undeads were pitiful enough. They just wanted to come back to the world, who didn’t want to live? One must know that the furthest distance was a day where they would meet again. However, there was no possibility of meeting again after the separation of Yin and Yang. Sigh, human beings ... one must not leave behind any regrets while living, otherwise, one would never be able to return after death.

Just as I was about to fall asleep, there was a knock on the door, very urgently, my parents went to my uncle’s house in the county, who could it be? I grabbed my whip and opened the door, the person outside the door made all the hairs on my body stand up, it was my grandfather, he was sweating profusely and said, “Aiya, I’m so tired, Haozi, why did you open the door.” After saying that, she stared at me.

I knew what kind of evil thing was playing with me, so I didn't answer. I swung the whip at him, and he reacted so fast I barely had time to lift it before he ran away. I didn't chase him and went back to lie down.

Not five minutes after he laid down, there was another knock on the door. There was a voice saying: "Haozi, hurry up and open the door, I'm so tired." I knew it was my grandmother's voice, and I knew what the hell it was that was imitating my grandmother, and I cursed in my heart, How come they're all here today? I was so angry that I grabbed the whip and went out to open the door, and it was my grandmother, and she even winked at me, and I grabbed her by the hair and whipped her, and she ran away from me with two whoops. It was a yellow hide, and after running for a while she stopped and looked back at me.

I didn't care much about it. I closed the door and lay down. Not long after, there was another knock on the door and someone shouted, "Haozi, I, open the door." F * ck, are you done yet? I grabbed the whip and suddenly kicked the person in front of me as soon as I opened the door. "Aiyo, what are you doing? Are you crazy?"

When I took a closer look, it turned out to be Diao Yang. I quickly helped him up and said, "What are you trying to do? Kick him without even looking at him." I let him in and told him what had happened.

He said, "I heard that your parents went to the county. I was afraid that you'd be scared and come over to accompany you." I knew he wasn't bold himself, so I was moved and said, "Hey, I'm not scared, just be more energetic at night. You sleep in my room at night, you can just come out and have a look if there's any activity."

Logically speaking, Huang Pi knocking on the door and me leaving the room should have caused quite a commotion, but why didn't Hu Yaoyao do anything at all? I lifted her up and asked her what was going on before she finally spoke, "Just now, there were two Da Huang Immortals. Originally, I was hiding, but I was still caught. They wanted to take revenge on your family, so they told me not to interfere, or else they would bite me to death."

I really picked the right time and had to choose today. I said to Hu Yaoyao, "First go up the mountain and look for Hu Taishui." She shook her head and said, "No, I don't dare to go up the mountain now. The smell of yellow furs is getting stronger and stronger around here." There was no helping it, I was afraid that the corpse and Hu Yao Yao would collude and prepare to bring the coffin and my grandparents into the warehouse.

I let Hu Yaoyao into the house, and first I pulled my grandparents' bodies out of the coffin and carried them into the barn so that they would be lighter and more interesting. Then we carried the coffin into the barn and I put my grandparents in the coffin and it was done.

"Haozi, you are getting bolder and bolder. When I was young, I felt that you were a coward. How could you change your courage?" Indeed, in the past few years, I had been exchanging blood with Hu Tai Cai. I was getting bolder and bolder. I said, "What's wrong with that? What's there to be afraid of?" "Of course not, when my grandparents died, I was scared half to death, and then I fell asleep at night, but fortunately nothing happened."

I said to Diao Yang, "My home may not be peaceful these few days. You should go home." Han Yang patted his dry chest: "What are you taking me for, you're letting me go, and I'm still worried about that. You and Yao Yao just bumped into something you didn't notice, so you still have to rely on me, right?" I smiled. This is what a true brother should be like. At a crucial moment, I won't abandon you and run away.

There was no need for me to be polite with him. "It would be better if we didn't leave. Tonight, the three of us will play Landlord." Hu Yaoyao was clapping her hands. She was also heartless, and had forgotten how scared she was just now.

I went out to lock up the barn. There won't be any cats or dogs coming in. I'm sorry, but I can't accompany you tonight. When they got back to their room, they prepared food and drinks. They would first eat until their stomachs were round. Hu Yaoyao even asked, "Do you have any wine?"

How could there be no wine for the happy event? There was plenty of wine left over from the guests during the day. I pulled out a few bottles of white wine, got up, poured three cups, and said, "Drink it, whoever doesn't drink it is the grandson."

Just like this, the three of us drank the leftovers from our meals happily. Hu Yaoyao's face turned red from drinking so much, and I happily let her sleep in the hut, saying in a tricky tone, "Tell me the truth, is Sun Yao really your little sister or your daughter-in-law?" I replied, "What age is it that you're the only one who can think of such a thing?"

After eating our fill, we boasted to each other, "Hey, you might be braver than me, but you might not know more than me. Do you believe me?" I said, "I believe you, Brother Diao."

Diao Yang said, "Bro, do you know? The county has become very powerful already, so there's no need to go through all this trouble. We can just directly push them to the crematorium." I asked, "What's a crematorium?" "Look at your ignorant face, the crematorium doesn't even know anything. People die, unlike us, buried, and now the country pays attention to saving land, you bury one dead with one big coffin, and the coffins are made of good wood, and they waste a lot of wood, and waste a lot of wood, and waste a lot of land. The city pushes the crematorium, and the crematorium is a place where people are burned to death, and there's a big stove, and there's a big fire burning in it, and it's so cool. At the end, I'll give you a small box, and put the ashes in it, and I'll burn it, and it'll save a lot of trouble now.

I said, "Do you think this crematorium is reliable?" She pouted and said, "Aiya, they're burning even in the city. What's so unreliable about that?" I said, "Then what's right in the city? There are even more traffickers in the city. Why don't you learn from them?" "Aren't you being rude? I said everything in the city is right?" "It's much more advanced in the city than in our village. Why are you always so picky? Let me ask you, why do all the villagers love to go to the city?"

Ten Jin of Fox's Blood in the Abnormal Records of Northeast China

Record of Strange News in Northeast - C30

C30

C30

When I heard him say this, I said, "Then tell me where in the city is all right." "I must say, I have a lot of relatives in the city." "Your relative is an artemisia, a bunch of them."

I went to my uncle's house once, my uncle's house, that's great, you know what it's like to have a good look at the decorations, you look like a fool, you don't know anything, he lives in a building with ten or so floors, the rooms are filled with tiles, you know what tiles are, on the floor, in the shed, on the wall, there are all sorts of them, my mom, they are all clean and clean. I said, "What about spitting?"

"How can the people in the city be like you? They don't have the qualifications to spit on the ground. They all have their own rooms for defecating and urinating. There's no need for them to run around like us." I said, "The house stinks."

The two of us grinded on for a long time, both of us feeling a little sleepy. We helped each other back to their rooms to sleep. As he slept, he talked in his sleep, "Move to the city, it's good."

In the middle of the night, I woke up and wanted to pee, so I looked at the clock. It was midnight, it was 12 o'clock, it was a time when the yin energy was the heaviest, I went out to pee, I went to the barn to take a look, yes, my grandparents were sleeping soundly, but I can't close the coffin now, my soul couldn't leave my body to find out if I was still alive, only by looking at the corpse did I know that I was dead.

Just as he was about to enter the house, he heard pitter-patter of sobs coming from all around him. It sounded like a person crying, but he couldn't tell where it was. "Hmph, playing tricks on me." I went in with the whip and followed the sound.

In the distance, an animal covered in human skin was crying. Why would it be called an animal covered in human skin? That person's upper body was similar to a human's. His hair was disheveled, and he wore a set of clothes that looked like a broken sack.

Suddenly, several yellow skins crawled out from under the human skin. It was these yellow skins that were stacked up, no wonder they were so tall. These yellow skins spread out and started crying far away from me.

I can't afford to offend him, so I turned around and walked home. There was a person running towards me, and when I lifted the whip, he said, "Why did you come here? It's the middle of the night."

I said, "I heard that weasel crying just now. I don't believe that you should look at this ..." When I wanted to point them out, I realized that the yellow skins were all gone. These beasts ran really fast.

Diao Yang took my hand and said, "Hurry up and go back. After running so far, aren't you going to look at your grandparents?" I walked back with him. I noticed something was wrong. Why was there no one around as we walked? I don't even know where this is.

I pulled at Embroidery. "Sigh, where are you going? Go back." Diao Yang didn't say anything as he continued walking. When I looked down, how come his feet were so small?

Taking a closer look, it turned out to be yellow skin wearing human shoes. I thought to myself that you yellow skin people were fighting with me, I want to see what ability you have. I knew that the yellow leather was piled up to hold people back, so I lashed out at the foot below, causing the yellow leather at the bottom to creak.

When I went up to take a look, I did not know where they stole the fake hood and sack, but I remembered from the ancestor's notes that these evil spirits usually scared people to death or brought them to a high place in the water to drown in the water, or seduced them to commit suicide. They rarely dared to do it on their own, because killing people would harm their own merits the most, not to mention practicing cultivation, at that time, even the heavens would not tolerate it, so they would take its life.

When I reached home, I found that there was nothing wrong with it. When I entered the house, I saw that Hu Yaoyang and Diao Yang were still sleeping like dead pigs, it really worried me to death. Even if I died outside earlier, they would only discover it tomorrow.

It was already 2 in the morning by the time I looked at my watch, I had actually followed Yellowhide around for 2 hours just now. I was already extremely sleepy. I didn't even take off my clothes as I climbed onto the brick bed and fell asleep.

When I fell asleep, I suddenly saw an old lady coming in through the seams of the window. At first, it was only the size of my palm, but once I entered the room, I jumped onto the ground and became the size of a normal person. I saw an old lady with a pointy mouth, shifty eyes, and a mustache.

I couldn't move, I couldn't shout, I could only watch the old lady play. She cried for a while, then jumped up with a loud cry and sat on the edge of the kang, cursing me.

Huu, I woke up. It was a dream, but this dream was too real. I wiped off my sweat. At this moment, I heard the creaking sound of the door of the granary outside.

Aren't you my grandpa and grandma in the barn? What are you two doing here? Do you want to join in the fun? If you want to die, then so be it. I quickly got up and woke up Diao Yang who was still in bed, "Stop sleeping, if not, then my grandpa and grandma will come and take you away." Diao Yang, who was originally in a daze, suddenly sobered up after hearing my words. "Oh my god, why am I capturing me?"

I went to the side room and called Hu Yaoyao, the guy who drank the most and slept the most, and I woke up after a few rounds. The three of us went out, and as the barn door creaked, I said to myself, This must be a fraud.

This is one of the few talismans that I know how to use. I will stick to whoever comes out later, but there's only one, because writing a talisman is very difficult, so it's even harder to integrate one's mental energy into the talisman. I tried countless times before succeeding in writing this one.

Diao Yang looked at the door that was on the verge of collapse, swallowed his saliva and said, "Hao Zi, your grandfather is also your granny. Why is he so fierce? Let's just run." Run? I also think that the walking dead will leave and they will find their way out. Wouldn't it be over if he went door-to-door and dug around in the middle of the night?

I said, "Later on, you have to listen to my commands." Hu Yaoyao was so scared that her mouth was trembling. Animal immortals were naturally afraid of living corpses, so I said, "Hurry up and dig into the brick bed in my room. Don't come out." Hu Yao Yao answered and walked into the room while trembling.

At this moment, the warehouse door was pushed open with a "Peng" sound. My grandfather, wearing a life jacket, walked out unsteadily. His eyes were tightly shut, his mouth was wide open, and his arms were dancing stiffly. His appearance was extremely terrifying.

Diao Yang was so scared that he hid behind me and trembled, "Run..." Run, Haozi. " I hastily whispered, "Stop breathing. He can't see and can only listen to the voices and the people to analyze. You can squat down and slowly walk out." He obediently did as I told him. He squatted down and slowly moved outside. I stood there without moving. The undead seemed to have heard the sound of friction with the ground as they slowly followed.

When the Undead walked past me, I suddenly slapped the Six-Cola Evil Breaking Talisman on the back of the Undead's head. This time, the Undead stopped moving.

Just when I heaved a sigh of relief with Diao Yang, I heard a commotion from inside the warehouse. Oh no, my grandma is coming out again?

I ran to the barn door and saw two big weasels blowing on my grandmother's body. What was this? Watching my grandmother's hand slowly rise, I grabbed a brick from the doorway and threw it at her.

It landed on the body of one of the weasels, causing it to fall off the coffin with a "Ao" sound. The other weasel was stunned for a moment before it jumped down as well. Two weasels ran out through the window.

I went out to carry the undead into the coffin. I pointed behind me with a green face and my mouth wide open. When I turned around, my grandma's corpse was walking towards me.

Damn it, I don't have any symbol paper left. What should I do? I couldn't let the undead run around the village at night, because the village has been peaceful for the past few years. There are many families in the village that don't even close their doors when they sleep, what would happen if the undead ran into the house?

I ran into the yard. The zombie heard the sound and slowly moved towards me. It grabbed towards me, and it made me want to close my eyes and faint. It was so scary.

When Diao Yang saw that I didn't dare to come in, he slowly led me out. He signaled me to be quiet before he covered his mouth with his hands.

What should he do? I had no choice but to lead the undeads around the village. Fortunately, the undeads were moving too slowly. I said, "Hurry up and carry my grandfather's body inside, otherwise I will scare a few of you to death." "I won't go even if you kill me."

Indeed, no one would be willing to come close to a normal corpse, not to mention the undead that were just walking around wanting to bite him. It would be too difficult to get him to fight back.

I wiped off my sweat and said, "Then let's do this and slowly lead the walking corpse around. It'll be fine if we just take a detour around it at dawn. The walking corpse will be done the moment it sees the sun." Qu Yang was on the verge of tears. "I'm afraid we'll be done for before dawn."

It was not even three o'clock yet, and there were at least three hours left before the sun set. I said, "How about this? You stay here and rest. When I bring the corpse back, you lead it around. I'll rest, how about that?" Diao Yang was on the verge of tears, "Spare me, my ancestor. I'm almost peeing now, and you're still leaving me here. You'll even lead your grandmother to walk in circles. Are you even human?"

This also wouldn't do. I said, "Alright, let's just persevere like this." We wanted to walk a bit slower, but the undead shakily caught up with us. If we walked faster, the undead would not be able to find us and they would just run around by themselves. Maybe they would go somewhere else, so we had to adjust the distance and speed.

When the sun finally rose, we ran towards the village in tears as if we had seen our savior. We even shouted, "I don't want to play anymore, I don't want to play anymore." I don't know where he got his strength from, but at last the undead lay motionless on the ground, and I went up to pick up my grandmother's corpse and carried it home.

When we got home, my grandpa's body was still standing at the door. I put both of their bodies back in the coffin and went inside, but there was no one there, so Hu Yao Yao must still be in the kang hole. I called her out to tell her that everything was fine and that I was really tired, so I fell on the kang and passed out.

Ten Jin of Fox's Blood in the Abnormal Records of Northeast China