

Chapter 1056 You Are Liam

Zoya's statement immediately created a tense atmosphere in the main hall.

The expressions of Liam and his companions underwent a dramatic transformation.

Zoya's statement spurred Liam into immediate action, his body tensing as he prepared for combat.

If Zoya had truly uncovered his identity, Liam would have to immediately whisk Laura away from the scene.

Yet, confronting the formidable guardian of the Saint Society, Liam couldn't help but feel apprehensive. Considering the guardian's equal standing with Adamson, Liam questioned whether he stood a chance at escaping.

Maureen's gaze turned more serious as she quietly observed the expression on Zoya's face, hoping that Liam's identity could be obscured.

Kolton couldn't contain his excitement upon sensing the tense atmosphere in the main hall.

Observing Liam and Laura's readiness for combat and Maureen's intense demeanor, Kolton's excitement heightened.

"Oh my gosh! Is it true? Is this man really Liam, the one who's wanted? If so, I'm going to be incredibly wealthy!" he muttered.

He felt elated. If the man he had had a conflict with turned out to be Liam, he anticipated receiving ample rewards!

Reflecting on this, Kolton felt fortunate that Maureen had intervened and prevented the conflict between him and Liam before they reached Mount Moria.

Otherwise, had he provoked Liam back then, Kolton doubted he would have had the opportunity to be present here, let alone report on Liam's actions!

Liam experienced stress as all eyes were on him.

Nonetheless, he understood the importance of maintaining composure during such moments; panicking was not an option.

Liam exerted an effort to remain composed as he responded to Zoya, "Why are you labeling me as the wanted criminal? You're Kolton's older sister, right? Your brother, Kolton, has been harassing my girlfriend all the way to Mount Moria! Maureen can confirm this!"

After a pause, he continued, "After I intervened and stopped him, he has developed a grudge against me! Mr. Jenkins, it's clear that Kolton deliberately framed me! He wanted to shift the blame onto me and have you kill me, all to pursue my girlfriend! I genuinely wish to join the Saint Society. However, if Kolton and Zoya persist in fabricating this accusation against me, I'd prefer to withdraw!"

Zoya and Kolton exchanged glances, both unconvinced of Liam's innocence. Seizing the moment of triumph, they decided to pressure Liam more.

"If you claim not to be Liam, then prove it! If you resist, you're guilty! And if you manage to defeat both of us, it confirms you're a level six Primogem Warrior! And if you're at that level, who else could you be but Liam?"

Immediately after those words, Zoya and Kolton charged directly at Liam.

They exerted their utmost strength, aiming to coerce Liam into revealing his full capabilities through this maneuver.

Additionally, they had skillfully eliminated all possible excuses for Liam.

Failure to retaliate would inevitably lead to Liam's demise at their hands. Conversely, any resistance on Liam's part would seemingly validate his guilt.

Liam's expression soured as he realized the cunning nature of Kolton and Zoya, a realization that took him by surprise.
