

Chapter 1152 Try The Second Method

---

Liam looked at Lindy and said resolutely, "I'll give it a try. Lindy, can you tell me the trick of the second method you mentioned?"

When Lindy saw the determination in Liam's eyes, she didn't waste any more time. She nodded and directly told him how to devour the dark aura in detail.

Liam listened carefully and memorized every tip Lindy told him. After that, he began to absorb the dark aura bit by bit.

As soon as he started absorbing it, he felt a sharp pain. It was as if a blunt knife was slashing his head.

The pain made him feel very uncomfortable. But he gritted his teeth and endured it silently.

Aside from the pain, Liam also felt his head was getting heavy. It felt like it would explode at any moment.

A faint and distant voice seemed to penetrate his brain, urging him to sleep. It was telling him that all the pain would disappear after he fell asleep.

Liam clenched his teeth even tighter, refusing to follow the voice's advice.

Lindy noticed the pain on Liam's face. She knew he was suffering. She hurriedly said, "Liam, if you feel like you're about to lose consciousness, tell me in advance. I will help you stay awake."

After saying this, Lindy drew her long sword from her waist. The sword's blade swooshed in the air.

Lindy meant to help Liam stay awake by slashing him with the sword.

It was the most straightforward method.

But she believed it was the most effective way to keep Liam awake.

Soon, Liam said, "Lindy, help me!"

Lindy narrowed her eyes. She raised her sword and slashed Liam's arm without hesitation. The sharp blade tore his skin open, and blood immediately gushed out.

Because of this, Liam became alert again...

After repeating the same process for half an hour, Liam had absorbed nearly half of the dark aura.

This meant he was halfway to success.

However, his body was now on the verge of collapsing.

Still, Liam refused to give up. Since he had already reached this far, he would persevere until the end.

Meanwhile, Lindy continued using her excellent swordsmanship, slashing Liam's skin to keep him awake without killing him.

At this moment, Liam's body was covered with wounds. He was bleeding but recovering at the same time.

Lindy was astonished to see his incredible self-healing ability.

How could his ability to recover be so powerful? He was just a man from Blue Star.

Lindy was utterly shocked.

She also found a strange energy fluctuation from Liam. She observed more carefully and was surprised to find that Liam had actually mastered three kinds of special powers.

This discovery had shocked her again since Liam was merely a sixth-level Primogem Warrior.

Mastering three kinds of special power at the sixth level was exceptional even in her school, "Poky Academy".

And with Liam's indomitable willpower, Lindy believed his future achievements would definitely be remarkable.

Lindy's eyes lit up. She had only helped him because they were both humans.

But now, her impression of him had changed.

Judging from the strength Liam had shown, he was already qualified enough to stand by her side.

This time, she looked at him with eyes full of curiosity and anticipation.

But the sword in her hand had never stopped even once. She tirelessly helped Liam stay awake.
