

Chapter 1380 Breakthrough

Once everything was done, Chad approached Liam with a worried expression and asked, "Liam, are you okay?"

Liam shook his head and replied, "I'm just feeling weak. I drained my primogem energy and spiritual power fighting the Titan Bugs, but I'm not hurt. How did you two find me, by the way?"

Liam was curious about that since he hadn't shared his exact location. He wondered how they had found him so precisely.

Everett laughed and said, "When Chad and I got here, we sent you an email asking where you were. You were probably too busy fighting the Titan Bugs and didn't see it. Luckily, we saw signs of a fight nearby and decided to check it out. It was just by chance that we found you!"

Liam felt he had been lucky.

If Chad and Everett hadn't shown up earlier, he would have been killed!

After Julio's betrayal, Liam's perspective shifted. He understood that if he wasn't strong enough to defend himself, it was wise to keep some of his abilities hidden from strangers to prevent getting into similar situations like today.

At that moment, Lindy and Annabella composed themselves and stepped forward to thank Chad and Everett.

Chad and Everett grinned and said, "You don't have to thank us. Even if we didn't know Liam, we would do something to help you. We believe members of the Human Clan need to stick together!"

Chad turned to Liam and the others and said, "Get your strength back first. This is the Titan Bugs' base, so we need to stay at our best. Everett and I will keep watch for you."

Liam nodded and then closed his eyes to rest and regain his strength.

With the powerful Everett and Chad keeping watch, Liam felt completely safe.

Unless an entire army of Titan Bugs of the Primogem King level arrived, no one could breach their defense.

As Liam closed his eyes to focus, he suddenly felt a small shift within him. He felt like he was nearing a breakthrough.

It looked like using up his primogem energy and spiritual power had boosted his cultivation.

The Death Power inside him was now unusually active.

This discovery thrilled Liam. He quickly calmed his mind and focused on understanding the Death Power.

Annabella and the others noticed the shift in Liam's strength and were stunned.

They were shocked to see Liam showing signs of a breakthrough!

Chad and Everett were the most surprised.

The last time they had seen Liam, Liam had been a fifth-stage Primogem Expert. Now, Liam had reached the seventh stage.

After this battle, Liam was even showing signs of a breakthrough!

Liam's skills in cultivation made Chad and Everett envious.
