

Chapter 1409 A Special Man

When Ameer brought up the topic of the special mission, Annabella's interest sparked. She eagerly shared all her experiences from the Titan Bugs' stronghold with Ameer.

This included the shameful behavior of Julio and Jeremias.

However, Annabella did not go into much detail and only briefly mentioned the incident.

When Ameer found out that Julio and Jeremias had nearly molested his dear granddaughter, anger surged through him.

The gentle look on Ameer's face was entirely overtaken by anger. His expression grew cold, and a chilling sense of killing intent surrounded him.

He said in a low voice, "I never thought those two young members of the Ellis family would dare to commit such acts. They are truly rotten to the core. Annabella, I am heading to the Ellis family's house right now to confront them. If they can't keep their juniors in line, then I will take matters into my own hands. I'll make those two wish they were never born."

Ameer had never felt such murderous rage before. This time, he was truly infuriated by the actions of Julio and Jeremias.

Seeing how angry her grandfather was, Annabella quickly said, "Grandpa, Julio and Jeremias are already dead. Let's consider this issue resolved."

After saying this, Annabella glanced at Ameer's face and saw he was still visibly angry. She swiftly changed the topic. "By the way, during this mission, I came across a man who is truly special. Want to hear about him?"

As soon as Annabella mentioned that, Ameer's focus immediately changed. After all, he knew his granddaughter very well.

Annabella was usually quite distant toward men, and she rarely spoke so highly of anyone in front of him.

Ameer grew curious, but instead of pursuing Annabella's new topic, he said, "Annabella, the special man you mentioned won't seem so special to me. Do you remember the person we talked about before? If you'd like, I can introduce you to him. He's a remarkable genius. Also, I can see he is very sincere when it comes to relationships. If you two ended up together, you would be very happy. What do you think? Do you think you'd consider it, Annabella?"

When Ameer mentioned finding her a husband again, Annabella frowned. "Grandpa, I haven't even met him. No matter how much you talk about him, I won't be swayed. Matters of love can't be decided by others. The life I lead after marriage is mine, not yours. How can you know if someone is truly good or bad? Besides, I'm not even sure if we'd be a good match. Even if I agreed to meet him, what difference would it make?"

Seeing his granddaughter refuse him again, Ameer didn't get upset. Instead, he smiled warmly. "Annabella, then why don't you tell me about the man you met?"

As soon as Ameer mentioned it, Annabella's eyes lit up. She looked happy. "Grandpa, the man I'm talking about has the same mentor as Lindy. Lindy told me that he ascended to our world from the Celestial Realm. Just from that, it's clear he's exceptionally talented. He's just as much of a genius as the one you talked about."
