

Chapter 1426 Diving Into The Lake

---

If Liam failed to reach the bottom of the lake this time, he would keep using the Blood Sovereign's blood essence until his body could fully withstand the rejection of the life force in the lake.

Though it might take a lot of time, Liam still thought it was worth it if he could get a fragment of the Heart of Life in the lake.

He was eager to get the fragment of the Heart of Life to quickly boost his strength and rescue Julie and Asher.

Liam pulled himself together and did his best to keep his strength at its highest.

Then, he jumped into the lake.

As soon as he entered the water, a horrifying repulsive force instantly spread through his entire body.

Liam felt like he was being bitten by thousands of bugs.

At the same time, the life force in the lake, resisting Liam, seemed like countless hands trying to push him out of the lake.

Liam hadn't seen this coming. It had all happened so fast.

He hadn't expected the life force in the lake to resist him so strongly, which left him quite taken aback.

Before entering the lake, he had only tested it by touching the water. The resistance during the test had only caused some harm to his body. But this had never happened to him before.

Liam felt the lake was strange, almost as if it had a mind of its own.

But now, there was no turning back for him.

Liam clenched his jaw, refusing to back down, and decided to continue. He exerted every effort to control his body and focused on diving deeper.

Fortunately, after Liam's persistent efforts, he finally managed to dive to a depth of about two meters.

At this depth, he felt the repulsive force from the lake grow even stronger.

Just a moment ago, the life force in the lake had felt like invisible hands trying to push him out. But now, it seemed to contain invisible, sharp needles, stabbing into his body.

Although the pain wasn't piercing, it was tormenting, as it made him feel uncomfortable every second.

Despite the pain, Liam remained clear-headed. With the aid of his abilities, he gazed toward the bottom of the lake.

He was sure that he was at least thirty meters above it.

Liam couldn't see the bottom of the lake clearly due to the torture he was enduring.

Additionally, a very mysterious force enveloped the bottom of the lake, making it even harder for Liam to discern anything unusual.

Yet, he was convinced that a fragment of the Heart of Life was there.

This was the only way Liam could make sense of everything he had experienced.

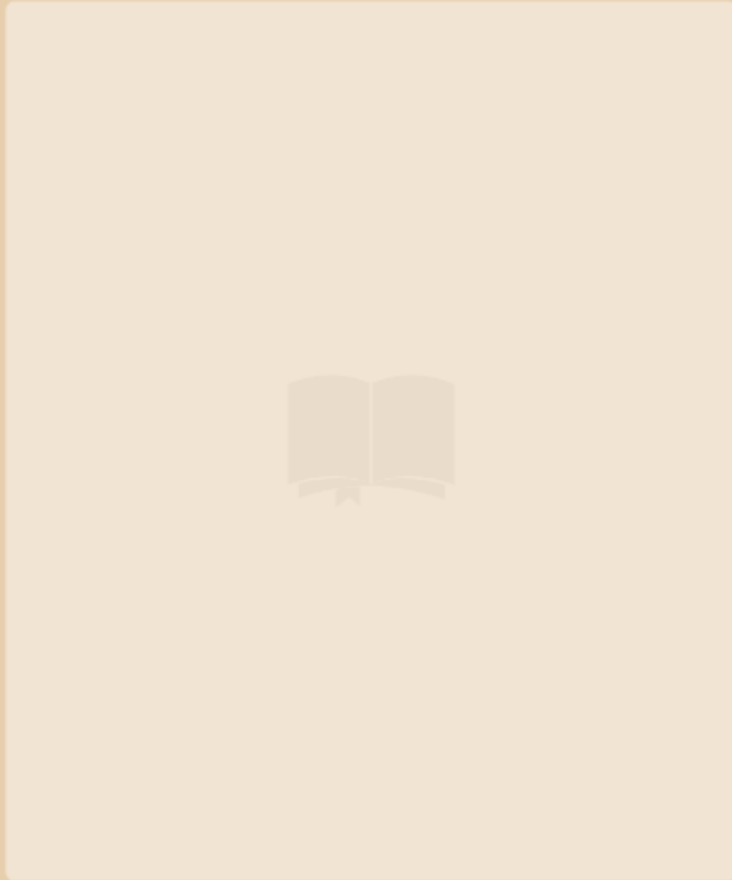

Thinking of this, he dived deeper.

He was determined to get this fragment of the Heart of Life.

At the same time, the City Lord and Caden watched Liam's actions.

The City Lord looked curious. He really wanted to see what method

Liam would use to get the fragment of the Heart of Life from the bottom of the lake.
