

Chapter 1451 Serves Him Right

---

At that moment, everyone thought Liam was sure to lose.

Sure, Liam also possessed the fire law power, but his 3% mastery was nothing, especially when compared to Joseph.

The difference between them felt like night and day. How could Liam ever beat Joseph?

Joseph pulled the flames from his hands and wrapped them around the sword he was holding.

In an instant, the once ordinary weapon sparkled with a brilliant glow, and its power was significantly enhanced.

Liam wore a serious look. He knew better than to underestimate any opponent, especially not Joseph, the fourth-tier Primogem King.

However, as he watched Joseph's fire law power reshape the weapon, Liam couldn't help but feel a sense of admiration.

He realized that although Joseph was arrogant and greedy, he was skilled.

Joseph's mastery of the fire law power rivaled that of even some sixth-tier Primogem Kings.

But Liam had his own tricks up his sleeve.

He recognized that Joseph had the upper hand due to his higher cultivation level.

However, he possessed the Death Power domain. The death law power was one of the top-tier law powers. No single law power could easily defeat it.

In fact, Liam could even use the Death Power domain to overpower Joseph easily.

Joseph's only advantage was his abundant primogem energy as a fourth-stage Primogem King.

Right then, Joseph charged forward with his flame-enchanted sword, a wild grin on his face as he sneered at Liam.

"Let me show you what it feels like to be burned alive. Liam, farewell!"

With that, Joseph burst into a maniacal laugh and swung his blazing sword down at Liam with tremendous force.

In a flash, the Human Sovereign Arena's stage was consumed by flames.

The floor caught fire, and the fire spread rapidly, trapping Liam with no escape.

To the spectators, it looked like Liam had no hope of survival; defeat seemed inevitable.

With a single strike, Joseph had practically won the fight.

Some spectators started murmuring, "Even though this is just the Human Sovereign Arena and no one can get seriously hurt here, that blow from Joseph will definitely have an impact on his opponent in real life."

"Serves him right! Who told him to be so full of himself?"

"This is so satisfying! Watching Joseph using the fire law power has actually helped me understand it a little better. Joseph really is one of the best of our generation."

Amid the chatter, no one spoke about whether Liam could rise again after Joseph's attack.

Deep down, they all felt that Liam had already lost.

But just when everyone believed the duel was finished, they suddenly saw pure black energy rising from the sea of flames.

Everyone widened their eyes, staring in shock at the stage.
