

Chapter 1452 You Lost

---

As confusion spread among the crowd, they noticed that the black energy carried a potent aura of death. The moment it came into contact with the flames engulfing the arena, a sizzling sound filled the air.

To everyone's astonishment, the flames began to be devoured and extinguished gradually.

As the firelight dimmed, a wave of fear washed over the onlookers' pale faces.

Standing amidst the flames was a person.

Liam!

Everyone had expected Liam to collapse under Joseph's attack, but at that moment, Liam had surprisingly risen to his feet.

Furthermore, Liam had successfully extinguished all the flames generated by Joseph's fire law power.

This unexpected turn of events shocked everyone present, altering their previously disdainful views of Liam.

It was clear that Liam, a mere ninth-tier Primogem Expert, possessed remarkable abilities.

Yet, Liam's counterattack was far from finished.

With the Death Power domain already activated, Liam wanted to do more.

A more intense aura of death surged from the domain beneath Liam's feet as the death energy seemed to attach itself to Joseph.

Almost instantly, Joseph's strength diminished significantly.

Even the residual flames clinging to Joseph's body were extinguished gradually.

Liam's own power aura intensified, reaching the threshold of the first stage of the Primogem King level.

Joseph's face showed disbelief as he struggled to break free from the constraints of the Death Power domain. To his horror, he discovered that despite his significantly greater strength, all his efforts to escape were futile.

Overcome with fear, Joseph said, "This is a domain! How could you possess something like this?"

Liam just responded with a cold smile, not saying anything.

It was only then that Joseph realized Liam had been confident for a reason. He was indeed powerful.

Realizing this, Joseph set aside his disdain for Liam and resolved to use his other two law powers, aiming to knock Liam off the stage before being overwhelmed by the Death Power domain.

However, Liam quickly saw through Joseph's strategy and was determined not to give him any opportunity to regain the upper hand.

He understood that if he allowed Joseph to invoke his other two law powers, even with the Death Power domain active, he would be dragged into a prolonged fight.

Thus, he quickly summoned a black weapon into his hand.

It was the sword of darkness.

As soon as the sword of darkness materialized, its formidable power as a mystic-grade weapon was unleashed.

The weapon in Joseph's hand began to tremble slightly, as if in submission to the sword of darkness.

Liam paid little heed to this. His objective was to eliminate Joseph from the arena before he could counterattack.

Liam unleashed all the law powers he had mastered, putting them all on the sword of darkness.

In a flash, the sword of darkness blazed with intense light, and its sword energy surged outward.

Liam wore a cold smile and said to Joseph, "Joseph, it seems that strength alone isn't the deciding factor in the final outcome. You lost."
