

Chapter 1466 Using The Sword Of Darkness

---

Cecil stood frozen, his mouth agape and eyes wide with disbelief as he stared at Liam. He stuttered, struggling to form a complete sentence, "Liam, you... You..."

Noticing Cecil's shock, Liam offered a faint smile and replied, "This is the might of the Death Power. It gave me the courage to venture deep into the Dremer race's territory with you."

Cecil's astonishment grew as he processed Liam's words.

He knew the Death Power. He had never imagined Liam could master such a rare and formidable law power.

For a moment, Cecil looked at Liam with deep admiration.

Liam's power had completely exceeded anything he could have imagined.

With a small laugh, Liam asked, "You okay?"

As he spoke, he helped steady Cecil.

Cecil took a deep breath and said, "I'm fine! Don't worry. I wouldn't have been so worried earlier if you had told me sooner that you have mastered the Death Power."

Liam replied, "Without some tricks up my sleeve, how could I be so daring? Rest up for a bit. Once you're ready, we'll head further in."

Cecil now realized what Liam had planned all along.

Liam was planning to take on the entire Dremer race with him! No, Liam was planning to do that on his own.

He wouldn't be of much help to Liam, after all.

Sensing Cecil's thoughts, Liam said, "With you by my side, I'm much safer. Your role is more important than you think."

Liam's words rang true. He had brought Cecil along to watch his back during the battle.

Although Cecil wasn't the strongest, he could keep an eye out for surprise attacks while he used Fatal Hex.

Also, when Liam cast Fatal Hex, his spiritual power would drain, meaning he couldn't use it for long without exhausting himself or even passing out. In those moments, Cecil would be his backup.

Liam's words lifted Cecil's spirits, making him feel appreciated.

He realized that in Liam's eyes, he wasn't useless.

After resting for ten minutes, both Liam and Cecil continued their journey west.

As they ventured further into the Dremer race's fortress, Liam and Cecil saw many members of the Human Clan fighting against the members of the Dremer race.

The battle was intense, but with more Dremer race's reinforcements arriving, the Human Clan members began to struggle in the battle.

Liam's eyes narrowed with determination, but this time, he didn't use Fatal Hex.

Instead, he drew the sword of darkness and infused it with primogem energy. In an instant, the sword crackled with incredible power and shot high into the sky.

The force of the blade sliced through the clouds, as if splitting the sky in two.

With Liam's careful control, the sword's power sliced through the air, killing every member of the Dremer race here with accuracy!
