

Chapter 1468 The Fatal Hex's Power

Upon witnessing Liam's terrifying power, the members of the Dremer race present finally realized they had encountered a formidable opponent and immediately stopped looking down upon Liam.

Below, the Dremer army mobilized, sending countless warriors flying toward Liam and Cecil and encircling them.

Liam's calm gaze swept over the encroaching enemies. With a slight tilt of his head, he summoned life force that materialized into more than a dozen elemental giants at the Primogem Expert level, creating a barrier between him and the increasing swarm of enemies.

At the same time, his spiritual power surged, and he directed the energy of the Fatal Hex against all enemies he could see.

He shouted, "How dare you invade our Human Clan's planetary system and slaughter my fellow members of the Human Clan? Since you're asking for your demise, I'll fulfill your death wish!"

With those words, Liam expanded the Death Power domain outward, covering a two-kilometer radius. Then, with a steely expression, he commanded, "Explode!"

After Liam issued his command, Cecil saw that dense death energy began to gather above the heads of the members of the Dremer race.

As the death energy thickened, it enveloped all the enemies within its reach. When it finally detonated, those targeted by the Fatal Hex dissolved into a thick black fog and were annihilated instantly.

This scene made Cecil's heart race, because Liam's Fatal Hex had at least wiped out half of the Dremer race's army.

The remaining members of the Dremer race stared at Liam in utter horror.

"No! How is this possible? How can this human singlehandedly kill so many of our members with a single move?"

"He's just a level-nine Primogem Expert. How can he possess such terrifying power?"

"Retreat! We're no match for that human!"

In their panic, the remaining members of the Dremer race failed to notice Liam's weakening condition. Their only wanted to flee.

Liam's immense exertion in targeting so many enemies had significantly drained his spiritual power.

However, at that critical moment, the Heart of Life within Liam began to manifest its powers.

Originally, the Heart of Life could only heal physical injuries, but after Liam had fused the latest fragment of the Heart of Life, its function had undergone a dramatic change.

As life force surged through Liam, it began replenishing his depleted spiritual power.

This took Liam by surprise. He hadn't imagined that the Heart of Life could restore his spiritual power now.

After all, his greatest concern following the use of the Fatal Hex was the depletion of his spiritual power, which could knock him unconscious and potentially leave him vulnerable to attacks from the enemy.

The newly enhanced power of the Heart of Life now solved Liam's problem.

With his spiritual power now fully replenished, Liam used the Fatal Hex once more.

With an icy gaze, he surveyed the members of the Dremer race scattering in all directions and taunted, "Do you really think sheer numbers will grant you victory? In the face of the Death Power, no matter how many you are, you are no threat!"

Empowered by the Death Power domain, the energy of the Fatal Hex precisely targeted each fleeing member of the Dremer race.

With just a single thought from Liam, the members of the Dremer race were killed in an instant!

