

Chapter 1482 Her Sixth Sense

After catching up with Liam, Cataleya gave him a sweet smile and asked, "Liam, you're not upset, are you?"

Liam glanced at Cataleya and shook his head slightly. "I wouldn't hold a grudge for impulsive actions, but I'm skeptical about our team's ability to recover Nocturne's law power. It's going to be a tough task."

He was actually puzzled why Cataleya had chosen to follow him.

Since entering the secret realm, his abilities hadn't stood out; his strength was merely at level nine of a Primogem Expert, making his advice rather unconvincing.

Walking beside Liam, Cataleya seemed to sense his confusion.

"I have another ability, my sixth sense; it guides me," she said.

Liam frowned, not fully understanding her words.

Cataleya chuckled, her eyes twinkling. Her already beautiful face became even more endearing. "My sixth sense tells me following you boosts our chances of completing the task assigned by the Lord of Rosefinch. It's an innate ability. It has helped me avoid many dangers already."

It was then that Liam realized Cataleya was being serious about her sixth sense.

Liam could understand that.

The diversity among Primogem Warriors was vast. Some, like Julie—who had given Liam his first Heart of Life fragment—had innate abilities.

So, Liam smiled. "Then I'll do my best not to let you down, Cataleya!"

While Liam and Cataleya conversed, Gabriela and Alexis caught up with them.

Gabriela, lacking Cataleya's precise sixth sense, had followed Liam only because Cataleya had sided with Liam.

Although Gabriela had doubts about Liam's ability to lead them to the law power of Nocturne, she approached Liam with an apology.

"Liam, I'm sorry for earlier. It wasn't personal; I was just thinking about the team."

Liam understood Gabriela's intention. In the team, he held everyone in high regard except for Hilliard, whose narrow-mindedness he found limiting.

So, Liam said, "Gabriela, don't worry about it. I understand where you're coming from. We're a team now, and we can't let individual opinions sway our collective goal."

Gabriela nodded, her expression still apologetic, but she refrained from saying more.

At that moment, Alexis asked, "Liam, which planetary system are you from?"

Liam was forthright in his response. "Strictly speaking, I am not from any planetary system. I actually came here from a Celestial Realm."

Alexis' demeanor changed when he heard that, his expression turning serious as he regarded Liam with newfound respect. "I see! That is rare. You're really something!"
