

Chapter 1488 Hilliard's Resentment

Hilliard realized he couldn't hold the team back now, so he clenched his fists in frustration and shot a glare at Liam.

He knew better than to confront Liam directly right now.

But once they were back in the Rosefinch Galaxy, he would have all the chances he needed.

Hilliard doubted that Liam had defeated the creature in the secret realm using his own strength.

In his eyes, Liam had only succeeded by taking advantage of his efforts.

He believed if he hadn't worn down the creature's strength and stamina, there was no way Liam could have finished it off in one blow.

Hilliard grumbled under his breath, "Just wait! You've humiliated me time and again. When we are back in the Rosefinch Galaxy, you'll pay for this!"

Hilliard planned to confront Liam in the Human Sovereign Arena, where disputes were settled through battle.

He knew that duels there didn't always require challenge tokens.

A duel could go forward at the Human Sovereign Arena with mutual agreement.

Soon, Hilliard caught up with the team.

As they traveled, they came across various creatures from the secret realm.

This time, though, the creatures were much easier to handle.

Despite the creatures' resistance to certain law powers, the team had a wide range of abilities at their disposal.

Alexis, with his Mortal-grade sword, channeled his fire law power through it, boosting its destructive force significantly.

With one powerful slash, Alexis unleashed flames that formed a fiery dragon, engulfing and incinerating every creature in its path.

Gabriela and Cataleya also held their ground, wielding their strongest law powers. Any creature that crossed their path stood no chance against the team's attacks.

Hilliard was also skilled. He had just been caught off guard by that previous creature, which resisted his law power, limiting his strength.

This time, against creatures that didn't resist his law power, Hilliard finally got to show his true strength.

With his weapon infused with the metal law power, he sliced through the creatures with ease, cutting them cleanly in half.

His metal law power was far from weak; among the five elemental law powers, it was the most balanced.

The metal law power could amplify his weapon for powerful strikes or strengthen his defense to improve his chances of survival.

Hilliard's earlier setback was simply because the creature resisted his law power.

Liam understood this perfectly and never took Hilliard lightly.

Once the team defeated the last creature, Cataleya and the others finally sensed the aura of Nocturne's law power and the Dremer race's presence Liam had mentioned before.

Cataleya exclaimed, "That is definitely the law power of Nocturne! Liam, your ability to sense it from such a distance is amazing!"
