

Chapter 1491 Kill Him First

The group stared in disbelief as Liam suddenly zoomed ahead, turning into a blur of light before vanishing completely.

They couldn't keep up with Liam's speed.

Cataleya gasped, muttering, "I had no idea Liam was capable of that!"

Alexis gave a small nod, his eyes wide with surprise. He quickly said, "We need to catch up with Liam quickly so that he isn't stuck fighting alone!"

Gabriela was stunned for a moment before exclaiming, "I can't believe we're this much slower than Liam. We were slowing him down earlier."

Gabriela's words stung Hilliard's pride, leaving him looking upset.

Hilliard was a celebrated genius in his planetary system, used to being the center of attention and hearing praise from others. He had never heard people praise someone else in his presence.

Since entering the secret realm, Liam had made decisions without consulting Hilliard and had won Cataleya's support. This made Hilliard feel the urge to oppose Liam on everything.

As Hilliard watched Gabriela and the others admire Liam's speed, he realized now wasn't the right moment to mock Liam.

He just muttered under his breath, "It's just a trick to make him faster. Why do they have to praise him? I am not slowing anyone down! Once we're back in the Rosefinch Galaxy, I'll show you all how I defeat Liam and take all his points!"

After letting out his frustration, Hilliard rushed ahead, his anger making him forget to hide his aura, which shimmered in the secret realm.

This quickly drew the attention of numerous creatures from the secret realm, who began trailing Hilliard and his companions.

Without their flying devices, they might have already been caught in the creatures' grasp.

For a moment, frustration surged among the group.

Even Alexis, usually the calm one, looked at Hilliard with a hint of annoyance.

But Alexis held back his frustration, reminding himself that they were still a team and that clashing with Hilliard now would be a serious mistake before the battle ahead.

Meanwhile, Liam rapidly closed in on the Dremer race's team using his Death Power domain.

Within half a minute, he reached where he had previously sensed the law power of Nocturne—a cave.

Standing guard outside the cave were ten Dremer race's team members, each a peak level-nine Primogem Expert.

They tensed up at first when they noticed Liam's arrival. But sensing that Liam's aura was only that of a level-nine Primogem Expert, they relaxed. One of them even sneered, speaking in human language.

"Looks like the Human Clan is really out of options, sending just one level-nine Primogem Expert here! Let's kill him first and then destroy that law power!"

Liam's expression stayed calm, unfazed that he was now outnumbered.

As the members of the Dremer race's team prepared to attack, a faint, cold smirk appeared on Liam's face.

Did they really think they could take him down?

That was impossible!