

Chapter 1496 The Discovery Of Emer

---

The exit and entrance of the secret realm were in different spots, so Liam's journey now followed a completely new path.

Guided by Caden's exit directions, Liam kept his Death Power aura steady throughout, holding his strength at the level of a level-one Primogem King.

This Death Power aura boosted Liam's strength considerably, even when he hadn't mastered the law power completely.

Naturally, this power boost wouldn't last forever, but it was enough to see him through the journey.

Along the way, Liam came across countless creatures from the secret realm and members of the Dremer race. However, with his Death Power and his mystic-grade sword of darkness, he navigated these encounters smoothly, emerging unscathed.

Liam's eyes stayed glued to the map, tracking his approach to the secret realm's exit. His nerves were taut, his caution at an all-time high.

He was almost there now!

Soon, he would escape the secret realm, carrying the law power of Nocturne.

However, even after leaving the secret realm, tough challenges awaited him. If he wasn't cautious, all his hard work could go to waste.

Liam gave himself a quick pep talk.

Just as Liam was about to take off toward the exit, Emer's voice suddenly echoed in his mind.

"Master, hold on a second!"

Liam was surprised by this. Ever since Emer had awakened, it had rarely spoken.

Emer speaking up now clearly showed that it had found something important.

As a one-of-a-kind creature formed from a fragment of the Heart of Life, Emer was far more attuned to certain things than Liam.

Liam quickly asked, "What's wrong? Did something happen?"

Emer replied, "I just felt a special aura coming from this secret realm, Master. Head east! There's definitely a treasure there!"

Liam's eyes sparkled with excitement. Anything Emer called a treasure was sure to be special.

Liam had been unsure about rushing out of the secret realm earlier, worried that Caden hadn't set up support for him.

If he left carelessly and ran into a group of Dremer enemies, it would spell trouble for him.

Liam quickly made a decision not to leave now and said to Emer, "Lead the way! I want to check it out!"

Emer immediately told Liam where to go.

Without wasting any time, Liam activated his flying device and sped off in the direction Emer had indicated.

More than ten minutes later, Liam reached the spot Emer had mentioned.

The ground was bustling with strange creatures from the secret realm, all gathered together as if guarding something.

Seeing this made Liam even more certain that Emer was right.

The treasure here was definitely something special!

After facing secret realm creatures many times, Liam understood they were usually loners. Their gathering here clearly meant the treasure was exceptional.

Liam asked, "Emer, what do you think? Can you figure out what the treasure is?"

Emer's voice sounded a bit down as it said, "Master, I don't know, either. I can only tell you that the treasure is exceptional, but I have no idea what it is."

Liam nodded, feeling a bit disappointed, but he didn't let it bother him. The answer would come soon enough.

With his Death Power, Liam was sure he could handle all these creatures here!
