

Chapter 1528 There's A Lot More You Don't Understand

---

In the blink of an eye, the Human Sovereign Arena was engulfed by wild sword energy.

As Hilliard's gold law power surged, Liam was immediately surrounded by the sword energy.

"It seems like Liam is on the verge of defeat." Gabriela spoke. She believed now that Hilliard had targeted Liam with his attack, Liam was already at a disadvantage.

It was only a matter of time before Liam would be defeated.

Cataleya, on the other hand, watched anxiously. Her eyes darted through the wild storm of sword energy and gold law power, desperately searching for Liam's figure.

Cataleya's instincts whispered to her that Liam wouldn't fall so easily to Hilliard, yet a wave of nervousness washed over her. Her heart clenched in worry for him.

But just then, Alexis, who had remained quiet until now, suddenly furrowed his brows and said, "Liam's aura is still intact; it hasn't been touched. Hilliard's attack hasn't harmed him at all."

Alexis' words struck like a bomb, shocking both Cataleya and Gabriela.

Both of them stared at the Human Sovereign Arena in disbelief.

They didn't doubt Alexis' words.

Alexis held the title of the strongest among them, and his perception was the sharpest.

Since Alexis had said so, it meant that Liam had really not been harmed by Hilliard's attack.

Upon hearing this, Cataleya somehow felt a wave of relief wash over her.

Meanwhile, Hilliard, having unleashed his attack, stood with a smug smile, his gaze fixed in Liam's direction.

In his mind, the duel was already over, and the victory belonged to him.

With a mocking smile, Hilliard scoffed, "Liam, I had no intention of going this far. I only planned to take your points and your free cultivation time. But you, in your stupidity, chose to wager twenty years on border defense. Don't blame me for that. For the next two decades, you'll be stuck in a military camp on the interstellar battlefield."

Once Hilliard finished his taunt, he readied himself to land his final blow on Liam.

As the light of his gold law power slowly faded, Hilliard's eyes went wide with surprise.

His face twisted in shock as he locked eyes on Liam, who stood there calmly, untouched by the attack.

Not only had Liam emerged unharmed, but his aura was still as strong as ever.

Hilliard's face turned pale, his expression one of utter disbelief. He said, "How is this even possible? How could you be unharmed by my attack?"

Liam let out a cold scoff. "There's a lot more you don't understand!"

Liam had once acknowledged Hilliard's ability, but he knew it was only noteworthy for someone at the level of a Primogem Expert.

Liam's strength, however, had long surpassed such limits.

Hilliard's attack just now had barely required him to lift a finger in defense.

With just his "Silver-Form Body", Liam had effortlessly disregarded Hilliard's attack.

This left him feeling rather let down by Hilliard's abilities. He had expected Hilliard to pose more of a challenge earlier.

However, to Liam's astonishment, Hilliard's strongest move couldn't hurt him at all.

Liam didn't even need to trigger his Heart of Life, which showed just how weak Hilliard's attack was.
