

Chapter 1548 Meeting Cataleya Again

As Liam mulled over his next steps, the guests chatted with Katherine. They engaged in the usual, polite conversations. Liam, disinterested in the small talk, turned his focus inward.

Before long, the guests had all finished giving Katherine the birthday presents they had brought, which led Katherine to stand and say, "Everyone, my birthday party will take place tomorrow. I would be delighted if you joined us at the Vaughn family estate for dinner then. We also have rooms prepared for anyone who decides to stay here tonight."

With the event in the hall wrapping up, Liam felt a wave of relief wash over him.

Naturally inclined towards quiet, he preferred a calm atmosphere over a chaotic one. With the quiet restored, he was comfortably at peace.

As Liam and Cecil were about to head out of the hall to find a place to sleep, Liam felt a person trailing behind him.

He turned around and was surprised to find Cataleya. "Cataleya? Why are you here?"

The person following Liam was actually Cataleya, who had previously worked with him on the mission to retrieve Nocturne's law power. Liam held her in high regard for her tactical understanding of precisely when to push forward and when to pull back.

Seeing Liam's astonishment, Catalyst teasingly furrowed her brow and said, "Why shouldn't I be here? Liam, it's rather rude of you to say that!"

Liam shook his head with resignation on his face. "I was merely curious."

Cecil watched their interaction and laughed. "Cousin, stop giving Liam a hard time."

At Cecil's words, Cataleya's face lit up with a broad grin.

Hearing that, Liam asked, "Cousin?"

Cecil chuckled. "Indeed. My great-grandmother was from the Welch family, making Cataleya a descendant of hers. I intended to introduce you two formally, but now, it looks like you two already know each other. It's good. Saves me the trouble."

Liam laughed, amused by the unexpected connection. "Cataleya, please forgive me if I came off as rude earlier."

He believed that if he had learned more about Katherine's family name and background beforehand, he wouldn't have been unaware of Cataleya's connection to Katherine.

Cataleya had only been joking with Liam just now. She wasn't truly offended.

Seeing Liam like this, Cataleya giggled. "Oh, I don't mind that. Don't worry, I'm not as easily offended as Hilliard!"

Liam grinned. He hadn't expected Cataleya to bring up Hilliard.

Hilliard was not in a good situation now. If not for his own relentless troublemaking, he wouldn't have been sent to the front line and forced to stay away from the Rosefinch Galaxy for twenty years.

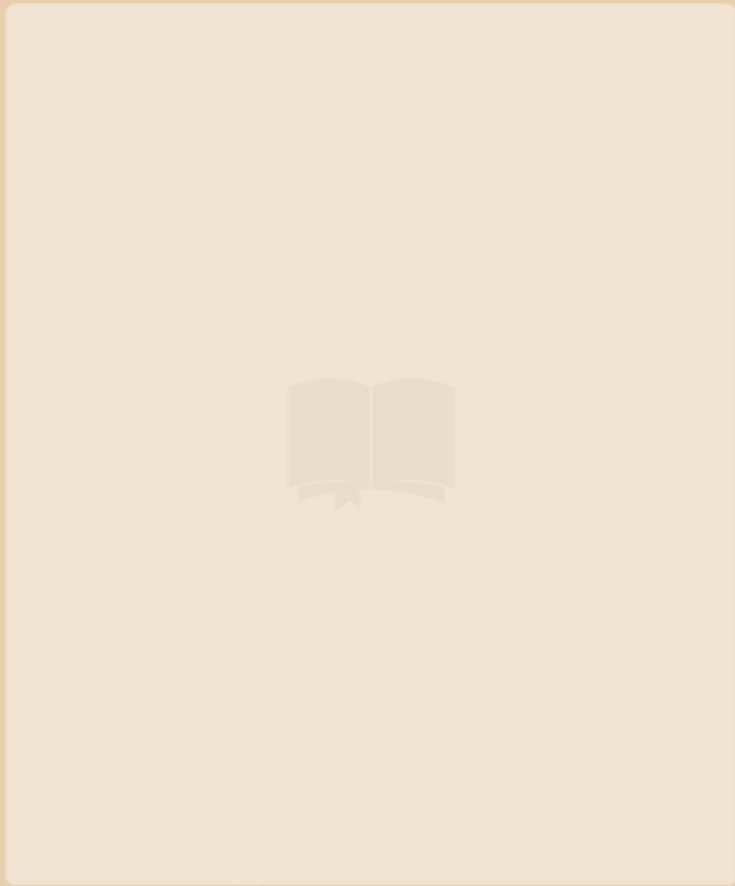

Liam was soon shown to a lavish room by Cecil.

Cecil said, "Liam, I hope you're okay with staying in this room tonight."

Liam took in the luxurious room and replied with a smile, "I'm more than content staying here. By the way, Cecil, where does Arthur stay? I want to visit him tonight."

Cecil laughed and responded, "Liam, you're a distinguished guest of our Vaughn family now. You don't have to go to him. I'll let my uncle know, and he can come by to meet you.*

14108