

Chapter 1602 Liam's Progress

Liam bought high-quality Spirit Search Stones and acquired some goods from the Network of Human Sovereign's trading center. Then, he and Lindy used the mission's teleporter to travel to the No. 1568 planetary system.

After a moment of dizziness, Liam and Lindy arrived in the No. 1568 planetary system.

The planetary system had a desolate terrain with regular dust storms.

Liam and Lindy would have thought the planet was devoid of life if it weren't their mission site.

Upon their arrival, Liam surveyed their surroundings. An anxious Lindy asked, "Liam, what do you think?"

This being their first visit here, they were unfamiliar with the conditions and potential hazards in this planetary system.

If they faced issues, they would struggle to handle them due to their unfamiliarity with everything here.

Liam shook his head and replied, "No signs of anything yet. However, we need to stay alert."

Lindy felt a wave of relief wash over her when Liam mentioned he hadn't detected anything unusual.

She then asked, "Liam, what do we do now?"

Having partnered with Liam, Lindy preferred him to make the decisions for them.

Her confidence in him was built on his consistent history of making sound decisions during their previous assignments together.

She trusted him to make the right choices.

Upon hearing her question, Liam thought for a moment.

As soon as they arrived in the No. 1568 planetary system, he had already started to lay out a plan.

So, Liam quickly answered, "Lindy, since we're new to the No. 1568 planetary system and unfamiliar with the environment here, our first order of business should be to establish a secure base for shelter. Once we have a better understanding of this place, we can decide our next moves."

Lindy found herself instinctively nodding in agreement with Liam's words.

She believed Liam's reasoning was entirely logical.

This was, after all, their first visit to the No. 1568 planetary system, and they knew nothing about the planetary system. They needed to plan carefully first in order to execute their mission smoothly.

With that, they could steer clear of unnecessary troubles.

Taking Liam's advice, Lindy joined him in the search for a safe shelter nearby.

Liam utilized a warship, gesturing for Lindy to join him aboard.

With the warship's exceptional speed, they soon found a cave.

Liam relied on his sharp senses to quickly evaluate the cave's safety. Confirming that it was safe, he and Lindy moved to enter and secure the cave as their temporary base.

Liam then made a bonfire. He settled beside it, and Lindy soon joined him.

As Lindy warmed up by the fire, she glanced over at Liam and commented, "Liam, it seems like you've grown even stronger."

Liam smiled slightly. He then said casually, "I had a major breakthrough during my training sessions with Mr. Ellis. My power has now ascended to the second level of Primogem King."

While Lindy had sensed that Liam's power had advanced, the extent of his progress was beyond what she had expected.

The second level of Primogem King was a daunting realm that she herself

Chapter 1603 Red Dots

Liam had only risen to the Cosmic realm for such a brief period, yet he had achieved such a daunting level.

His talent was nothing short of extraordinary.

That was the only thought in Lindy's mind.

No wonder so many whispered in awe that Liam's ability eclipsed every other known talent among humanity.

For a moment, Lindy was struck speechless, her thoughts in a whirl.

Liam noticed Lindy's wide-eyed astonishment, catching the way her expression betrayed just how deeply impressed she was. He smiled faintly, choosing not to say anything more.

His success today? Pure chance, if he was being honest.

But how could he possibly tell Lindy that he had stumbled his way to this level?

Lindy would never buy it.

So, he stayed silent.

Drawing from his storage, Liam retrieved an advanced Spirit Search Stone. He followed the steps in the instructions with meticulous care, infusing a trickle of his primogem energy into its smooth surface.

In an instant, the stone responded, glowing with a radiant brilliance.

A gentle pulse of sensing energy rippled outward.

Liam and Lindy watched as a shimmering light screen materialized above the stone. On it danced countless small red dots, each brimming with faint energy.

Beneath every dot, neat lines of text revealed the level and identity of the creature it represented.

Liam and Lindy looked at the screen and randomly selected a few red dots.

"Mysterious Creature, Ninth-level Primogem Expert."

"Mysterious Creature, Peak Eighth-level Primogem Expert."

The red dots on the light screen glimmered faintly, marking the positions of mysterious creatures scattered across the surrounding hundred kilometers.

But there weren't many—not nearly as many as they had hoped.

After a quick mental count, Liam realized there were only eight red dots on the entire screen.

Lindy felt a mix of disappointment and relief. "Lucky you stocked up on those Spirit Search Stones at the exchange shop. Otherwise, with how thinly these mysterious creatures are spread out, we'd be lucky to track down even five in a single day."

She wasn't wrong. Only the advanced Spirit Search Stones could pinpoint the elusive creatures with such precision.

If they had to rely solely on their own skills to track down the mysterious creatures, it would be extremely difficult.

The mission had sounded easy at first—one hundred days to track down a set quota of creatures.

But now, with the sparse distribution of the creatures, the reality hit like a cold splash of water. Hunting the creatures down was going to be no walk in the park.

Liam nodded, though a flicker of regret danced in his eyes. "I didn't expect these mysterious creatures to be spread so thin. I should've traded for a hundred advanced Spirit Search Stones earlier."

He hadn't anticipated that the mysterious creatures in the No. 1568 planetary system would be so scattered. This miscalculation was why he had only secured fifty Spirit Search Stones earlier.

The special points held little real significance for Liam now.

While Liam was also tempted to exchange his special points for the "Meteor Gold" that Katherine had mentioned through the Network of Human Sovereign's exchange shop, such an ultra-rare mineral seldom even made an appearance in the shop.
