

Chapter 44

Sharon Lindt smiled satisfactorily before retrieving a tiny compact mirror from her pocket to check her make-up.

After making sure that she looked fine, she turned to look at her friends. "How's my make-up? Does it really look okay with my outfit?"

"No problem," one of the rich wives said.

Only then did Sharon stop worrying. She began walking with her friends through the crowd to get to Xyla Quest.

"Hello, pretty lady. We would like to buy your property," Sharon said straightforwardly. She had a wide smile on her face as she tried to conceal her excitement.

Xyla immediately turned to look at the group of women. At one glance, she could sense they were an unusual group of people from the upper-class.

In particular, the lady she was speaking to was beautiful. From head to toe, the lady had fair and smooth skin. She must have been a great beauty when she was younger.

"What sizes of units would you prefer?" Xyla asked politely with a smile on her face.

“We all want the biggest ones,” Sharon said without hesitation.

“The largest ones will be five hundred square meters. They are all in this building . For the time being , no one has bought from this building yet. Which floor would you like? Please come with me and have a look.” Xyla seemed very approachable and well-mannered.

After that, Xyla guided Sharon and the rest to a model of the actual property. Emily Quest hurriedly followed them.

Using a laser pointer, Xyla pointed at the largest building in the center of the model. “This is the one. It is considered the main block. In fact, it has excellent ‘feng shui,’ and the greenery around it is the best within the compound too.”

Upon taking a closer look, Sharon felt even more pleased with Xyla’s appearances . ‘What kind of fairy was she?’ Sharon wondered . The pores on her skin were so fine that they were barely visible. In fact, her skin glowed from being very fair. On top of that, Xyla’s facial features were nearly perfect.

‘Why does her voice sound so good? It’s so soft and gentle . I’m about to die from how comfortable she makes me feel with her voice.’

“Well then, I would like to buy this building,” Sharon said without hesitation.

When Sharon said those words, the people around them immediately became quiet and turned to look at her in shock.

Xyla was equally shocked.

Emily's jaw nearly dropped. After looking Sharon up and down, she could not help but think to herself, 'What is wrong with this person? She wants an entire building, and not just any building but the main building. Is she crazy?'

"Did you just say you wanted the entire building?" Xyla had a look of disbelief in her eyes.

"Yeah. Also, these ladies around me would like entire buildings too. Please give them some good recommendations. They don't care about how much the cost is," Sharon added.

As soon as Sharon finished speaking, Xyla immediately turned to look at the rich ladies behind her dressed in expensive brands from head to toe.

When their eyes met, everyone smiled politely at Xyla. All of them seemed extremely kind.

Similarly, Xyla smiled at them joyfully.

Right then, Xyla was in complete shock. She had never experienced something like this in her life. After she calmed herself down, she began introducing decent buildings to each of them.

Whenever Xyla pointed at a building with her laser pointer, someone would immediately raise a hand to indicate that she would buy it. In fact, Xyla did not even need to provide further explanations. 2

Emily was thoroughly dumbfounded. She was so upset that her face had turned pale. A sense of jealousy filled her.

Why was Xyla this lucky? Why did everything go smoothly for her each time?

The entire property development consisted of sixty buildings. After carefully counting, Emily realized there were fifteen of them here. That meant Xyla was able to sell fifteen buildings at one go!

At the rate this was going, Xyla might end up selling half of the buildings within a day. 'No, this can't be. How can it be this easy?!'

Meanwhile, Xyla picked up the changes in Emily's facial expression. Xyla felt extremely satisfied with the dumbfounded expression on Emily's face.

However, Xyla could not be bothered to entertain her. Instead, she brought Sharon and the others to the VIP room to get their contracts signed.

Emily could not help but follow them. While she peeked at them by the door, the feeling of jealousy in her became so intense that she felt the urge to drag Xyla out from the room and beat her up.

Chapter 45

After the contracts were signed, the ladies proceeded to make their respective payments.

The entire process took less than an hour.

Once everyone had made their payments, Sharon Lindt got up from the couch and held Xyla Quest's hand affectionately. "Are you tired, my sweet child?"

Xyla was very touched by Sharon's affectionate attitude. She immediately smiled and answered, "I'm not tired, Aunty. Are you tired?"

Not only were these people rich, but they were also extremely nice to her. Xyla liked them a lot.

"I'm not tired. When I see you, all my tiredness simply vanishes." Sharon's eyes were filled with joy.

Xyla smiled shyly. "You're making me feel embarrassed."

"It's true. After all, you really do look good." Sharon held Xyla's hand tightly, almost as if she was Xyla's crazy fan.

Emily Quest, who overheard the conversation by the door, rolled her eyes with jealousy.

"Thank you, Aunty. You look great too. Your skin and body are very well taken care of." Xyla was slightly surprised by Sharon's attitude.

"Oh, nonsense! I'm very old and ugly now," Sharon replied with a playful smile. Most women enjoyed being complimented for their looks and physique, and Sharon Lindt was no exception.

A few simple words from Xyla were enough to make Sharon feel like she was on cloud nine.

"You're neither old nor ugly. You are very pretty and young. It's true. You are like a finely aged wine." Xyla smiled yet again.

"Thank you, my dear. We have something else to attend to and will be leaving now. I hope we get to meet and chat again in the future," Sharon said with a smile.

After that, Sharon waved her hands at her friends and began walking toward the door with them following behind her.

Xyla walked carefully next to them. Even as they walked out of the door, Xyla did not once glance at Emily.

Similarly, the others completely ignored Emily as they walked out.

At that moment, Emily felt extremely annoyed by how pleased Xyla seemed. Emily immediately stomped her foot on the ground.

After sending Sharon and her friends off, Xyla returned to the sales gallery.

Right then, the main lobby was packed with a noisy crowd.

When Emily saw Xyla, she immediately walked up to Xyla and stood in her way. "What are you so happy about? You are still far from reaching your goal." Emily looked down at Xyla with her chin lifted.

"You really are active. You don't seem like a pregnant woman at all," Xyla snorted coldly.

"What are you saying?" Emily seemed annoyed.

As soon as Emily finished her sentence, four young men dressed in tuxedo approached them and interrupted their conversation.

One of them said, "All four of us would like a single building each. The bigger, the better..."

Xyla was shocked yet again.

Emily was beginning to wonder if this was a dream. 2

"Oh, alright. Please follow me." Xyla tried her best to remain calm as she led the group of men to the property model.

Emily immediately followed them as she prayed in her heart that these men would decide not to purchase after seeing the model.

Xyla glanced at Emily coldly before pointing at a few buildings that were labeled as unsold. Xyla then turned to the young men and said, "These buildings are not sold yet. However, the bigger ones have already been bought earlier. These are the only complete buildings with unsold units. They are all of one hundred square meters."