

Chapter 50

Since it was rare for her to relax like this, Xyla Quest decided not to set the alarm.

By the time she woke up, it was already ten o'clock in the morning.

After looking at the time, Xyla stretched her arms and slowly crawled into a seated position. As the sun shone against her pretty face, her skin was so fair that it seemed to glow.

Knock. Knock. Knock.

Xyla was about to put her slippers and get out of bed when someone knocked on the door. Closely after that, a female servant's voice could be heard. "Miss, your father wants you to come down right away."

"Got it."

Xyla then quickly entered the bathroom to freshen up. After applying a layer of protective skin product on her face, she put on a silk sleeping robe over her sleeping dress and hurriedly made her way downstairs.

When she arrived, Jeremy Quest, May Conner, and Emily Quest were all present.

While Jeremy sat on a single couch and sipped on his coffee, Emily and May sat next to each other on a long couch next to him as they chatted with each other. It seemed like a leisurely moment.

After Xyla glanced at May and Emily coldly, she quickly walked over to the couch across from Jeremy and sat down. "Dad, did you have something to talk to me about?"

Jeremy took a sip of his coffee before his cold gaze landed upon Emily.

Xyla knew that Emily must have been up to something. However, Xyla did not say anything. Instead, she slowly poured herself a cup of tea, and elegantly blew at it to make it cool.

Emily snorted coldly before she crossed her hands and lifted her chin. "You're still in the mood to drink tea now. You won't be able to do so later." Emily gave Xyla the side-eye.

After that, Emily picked up a red folder next to her and handed it respectfully over to Jeremy. "Dad, why don't you take a look at this?"

Jeremy gave Emily a long stare before opening the folder.

The first page that came into sight was a marriage certificate with Xyla's name on it. It clearly stated that she was married to a man named Stanley Batton.

Jeremy felt extremely shocked by the words in print. It was as if Mars had collided into Earth.

“Emily, where did you get this? Are you sure it’s true? If you dare make this up, you are dead!” Jeremy said coldly while his hands trembled.

“If you want to make sure, you can take Xyla’s identity card and verify her marital status at the Civil Affairs Bureau. Do you think I can make such things up?” 1

Emily sounded confident when she spoke. After that, she turned to look at Xyla as if she was waiting for something entertaining to happen.

However, Xyla did not make a sound. In fact, she did not even look at Emily.

Xyla had spent money overseas to make sure the information related to her marriage was protected against outsiders.

Therefore, Xyla was quite surprised that Emily was about to find out.

Previously, Xyla had decided to keep it a secret because she feared her father would be angry at her for marrying a stranger just to recover her looks.

On top of that, Xyla’s husband did not seem interested at all. Like her, he was perhaps waiting for three years to be over to get a divorce. Hence, Xyla felt that there was no need to let her father find out.

Her original plan was to secretly file for a divorce with her husband after the three years were up, and nobody would ever find out.

However, the plan had to be changed now. Fortunately, Xyla was prepared for it.

 Foolishly Good Deals - Get Your Bonus Now!

 Click

Chapter 51

“Xyla, is this true?” Jeremy Quest was trying hard to suppress his anger as he looked at Xyla Quest.

He hoped that everything about this was fake.

However, Xyla did not speak and nodded gently instead before she took another sip of her tea.

“Did you really get married overseas? It’s a huge deal. Why didn’t you talk to me about it?”

“What are you trying to do? Do you want to rebel against me?” The veins on Jeremy’s neck were becoming apparent. After that, he angrily tossed the documents onto the coffee table.

Suddenly, the temperature in the living room dropped. It felt as if the air was being compressed.

Jeremy placed a lot of hope on Xyla. Initially, he planned to find Xyla an excellent man to become her husband.

However, he did not think that she would hastily get married without consulting him.

How could she keep such an important thing from her father? Did she even think of him as her father?

“Why else? It must be because her husband is a nobody. Dad, I bet that man is a gangster or “Why else? It must be because her husband is a nobody. Dad, I bet that man is a gangster or something,” Emily Quest said while looking at Xyla with a pleased expression on her face.

Emily knew that Xyla was done for! Xyla would soon be defeated! Their father would never give the Quest family’s business to someone like her!

“Xyla, a marriage is a very important thing. How can you get married to a piece of trash just like that?”

“If you treat yourself with such little respect, how can your Dad count on you in the future? Will you act irresponsibly when you manage the company as well?” May Conner chipped in with words of insult. The duo was determined to take Xyla down.

Hearing this, Jeremy became even angrier. He agreed with what Emily and May said.

“Is that so? Xyla?” Jeremy stared at Xyla and asked.

“Dad, why do you even bother asking? It must be the case. Otherwise, what other reasons would she have?” Emily added eagerly.

When Emily saw how angry her father was, she was overjoyed. She intended to paint an even worse picture of Xyla’s situation.

Instead of looking at Emily, Jeremy kept his eyes locked on Xyla's face as he waited for a response from her.

On the other hand, Xyla patiently took another sip of tea and swallowed it before she turned to look gently at her father. "Dad, it's true that I got married."

"Haha... Dad, do you hear that? It's all true." Emily rolled her eyes at Xyla before she leaned back and waited for more.

"Xyla, oh, Xyla... Why did you give up on yourself so easily?" May pretended to sigh in defeat while she shook her head.

Xyla took another sip of her tea slowly before she put her cup down and looked at Jeremy. "Back then, I was being treated in America all on my own. Without any loved ones by my side, I went through a lot and had emotional breakdowns.

"He appeared during my darkest hour. He was the grandson of the doctor who healed me. Also, he helped me get through the most difficult time of my life. 2

"After I recovered, I chose to get married to him. Firstly, it was because I gradually developed feelings for him over time. Secondly, I wanted to repay the doctor's kindness . By healing me from my sickness , he effectively gave me a second chance at life . I felt that it was the right thing to do .

“Back then, I chose not to tell you because I was afraid you would disagree. After I came back, I thought of finding the right time to tell you. I didn't plan on keeping it a secret from you forever.”