

Chapter 654 Confusion

Cannon explained, "The situation has changed. Perhaps you do not know this but Julie has been kidnapped. If we continue to sit on our butts and do nothing, I'm afraid that brat would escape as well!"

Rennes was shocked when he heard this. Quickly, he yelled into his headset, "Go and check Miss Julie Fiber's room now!"

A moment later, he received a reply from one of his men. "Boss, something's wrong. The guards at the door are dead! Moreover, Miss Fiber has vanished into thin air!"

Rennes was fuming with rage. How dare these people pull off this stunt right under his own nose?! It was utterly humiliating!

He roared, "Then hurry up and catch her! This ship is literally floating in the middle of the ocean at the moment. Besides, how far could a seriously injured person like her go? Find her! You have to find her even if it means turning the ship upside down!"

Cannon replied, "Rennes, don't worry. I've arranged some people to look for her. I'll definitely bring her to you. However, I have my own score to settle first."

With that, Cannon gave Liam a savage glare.

On the other hand, Rennes frowned. He was still worried, so he barked out his orders to his personal bodyguard, Yehuda Campbell. "Go with them. Make sure you capture Julie!"

After everything was in place, he managed to heave a sigh of relief.

At the moment, the ship was more than 50 kilometers away from the nearest land. Hence, he was absolutely certain that no one would escape this ship.

In the main control room of the ship, Rennes had men keeping watch over the surrounding seas. Hence, it was impossible for any other ship to get close to them. Besides, there had been no news of any passing ships previously.

Therefore, Rennes was confident that Julie wouldn't have left the ship, and that she would be found.

At this time, the crowd had dispersed, leaving Liam alone in that hall.

He remained seated in his original position, oblivious to Cannon's threats. In another manner of speaking, Liam couldn't care less about him at all!

On the contrary, he even felt a hint of joy after listening to their conversation.

Unaware of the truth, he thought that Julie had been rescued by Fiona and Mehdi!

However, the next second, two sacks were thrown in front of him.

Cannon laughed and asked, "Are you still waiting for your assistants? Don't worry! I have taken the liberty to bring them to you!"

With that, Fiona and Mehdi were seen crawling out of the sacks slowly. Their entire bodies were covered in bruises.

Seeing Liam, one of them said bitterly, "We've searched the whole ship. By the time we located Julie's room, she was already gone. Just as we were about to head out to search for her, we were surrounded by Cannon's men."

Liam's expression darkened in an instant when he heard this. If Julie wasn't with them or in the hands of the Black Spider, where on earth could she have gone?!

Liam was quite confused at the moment. He believed that Julie wasn't capable of killing Black Spider's guards and escaping on her own.

Could it be that a third party was on the ship? But why did they take Julie away!

Liam was extremely puzzled as his uneasiness grew.

At the moment, Cannon interjected and said in a ferocious manner, "What the fuck is wrong with you?! You couldn't protect yourself at the moment, yet you still have the audacity to think about others?!"

"What do you want?" Liam asked coldly.

Laughing maniacally, Cannon replied, "What do I want?! Hah! Remember how you treated me in the past few days? I believe the favor should be returned!"
