

Chapter 947 The Distinguished Guest of Eart...

All the dignitaries were threatening to ban the three families and drive them out of Salem immediately. Hearing this, Lenny and the others deeply regretted his actions.

Their families were going to be wiped out!

If his family members found out that they were going to be banned because of him, they would eat him alive!

Lenny's face turned pale. He knelt before Liam and begged for mercy in a trembling voice. "General Liam! I know I was wrong! I said those things to slander Miss Julie! I'm so sorry! It's all my fault! Please forgive me!"

Seeing Lenny, Casper and Elian, too, got down on their knees to beg for mercy.

However, Liam didn't spare a glance at them. He simply ignored their pleas.

All the guests present were furious. They ridiculed and scolded the three of them for bringing this fate upon themselves.

Just then, a figure suddenly walked into the banquet hall.

Liam looked at the man and was shocked to discover that the newcomer was Tristan's younger brother, Nolan.

Liam had not seen Nolan ever since their dispute. It was as though Nolan had vanished all of a sudden.

Liam hadn't expected to see Nolan standing before him today with a smug smile.

Striding into the banquet hall, Nolan raised his voice and sneered, "This is exactly what's expected of a five-star general like Liam. See how easily he ruined the lives of these three families with just a few words? All you distinguished guests, please heed my warning. If you don't have a way out, you can come to Earth Star, where the Hoffman family is also holding a banquet. The Hoffman family has promised that as long as you attend the party, you can get a share, too!"

Lenny and his guys were surprised to hear this.

The three of them looked at each other, hope in their eyes.

Since they were no longer welcome at Liam's place, they would go to the Hoffman family.

Despite the momentary relief, Lenny's mind was still full of worry.

The Hoffman family was no match for Liam.

After all, he was a five-star general. The Hoffman family might not be strong enough to take on someone as powerful as Liam.

This idea crossed Lenny's mind as well as everyone else's at the banquet.

The bigwigs knew which was the safer choice between the five-star general and the Hoffman family, so they mocked Nolan.

"The Hoffman family is inconsequential before General Liam. How dare they go against him?"

"No matter how powerful the Hoffman family is, it's not stronger than Liam, who is a military leader!"

"Get out!"

Tristan stepped forward at this point.

Nolan was his younger brother. How could he watch his sibling destroy himself?

Tristan reprimanded him, "You don't know what you are talking about! Shut up! Apologize to General Liam! I'm certain that he will be kind enough to forgive you."

Then, he turned to Liam. "I'm sorry. My brother has been beguiled by the Hoffman family. I'll make him apologize to you!"

Liam nodded slightly and acquiesced to Tristan's apology.

However, before Tristan could get Nolan to apologize, the latter burst into laughter.

"You may not know it, but the Hoffman family was not the only guest at the banquet of Earth Star! The special envoy from the renowned Duncan family, Master Dotson, is already present. Liam is just a five-star general. The Duncan family is so formidable that even the National Defense Department needs to show respect to them. You can weigh the pros and cons yourself and decide who you want to stand with!"
