Chapter 636-Capital Garrison Bringing Miss Home!

It was like the governor himself was here.

Sherwin Hakes couldn't help but look over. The more he looked at it, the more terrified he became.

The purple-gold token and the flying fish painting exuded a majestic aura.

It was the waist token of Westley Hader of the governor office!

"The governor token... Little girl, your brother is Governor Westley Hader?" Sherwin asked in surprise.

"Yes, Brother Westley told me that if I come to the capital, I can go to the governor office to play with him. Before I could go, I was caught and brought here!" Ginny Neal said innocently.

As a result, the entire basement of the dark division instantly fell into chaos!

Sherwin's mind went blank.

The sister of the governor of the governor office was captured by the members of the dark division and sent to the dungeon?

The governor office was established in the capital and had 80,000 capital garrison troops under its command. They did not fear the dark division!

In the other cells, someone said in horror, "Are the people from the dark division crazy? They even dare to capture the governor's sister?" "The dark division has gone overboard this time!" Someone sounded gleeful.

The adjacent cell on the left side of Cell 543 was where the scarred man and the others were locked up.

The scarred-face man's face was ashen. He had just insulted Heather Sage with obscene words.

He didn't expect that he would offend such a shocking figure.

At this moment, the four War Gods of the dark division stood up and said coldly, "Silence!" Swoosh!

No one dared to say anything.

One of the dark division War Gods bowed and said, "The four of us aren't under the orders of the governor office because we were ordered by the Second Master to protect Miss today!" "Miss, please wait patiently for a moment. Things are a little complicated!" The second War God of the dark division said softly.

With the four of them protecting them, no one could bully Heather and Ginny.

Instantly, Sherwin and the others were stunned.

If the four War Gods of the dark division were not under the orders of Governor Westley Hader, who were they under the orders of?

Who was the 'Second Master' they were talking about?

Others might not be able to guess it, but Heather had already guessed it! She was always by Braydon Neal's side, so she knew who the 'Second Master' was!

The Second Master of the Northern Army, Luther Carden, was the commander of the second legion of the Northern Army, the leader of the five heavenly kings!

He commanded 100,000 elites in the Northern Army and 800,000 hidden agents in the Northern Army.

Obviously, the four War Gods of the dark division were the Northern Army's hidden agents!

It wasn't too much for the people of the Northern Army to call Ginny 'Miss' , right?

The people from the dark division had captured the young miss of the Northern Army.

How could this not be complicated?

They were all locked up in the dark division's dungeon.

Marvin Townsend, the head of the dark division, was to blame for this.

At the same time, a War God of the dark division pulled out his sword with his left hand and slashed at the chains of the cell where Sherwin was.

The door of the cell was split open.

Sherwin was dumbfounded. He had never offended these four lords!

Why were they going after him!

"Go outside and get some water," the War God of the dark division said coldly. "After this, I'll ensure that you leave this place safely." Ginny was thirsty.

The four War Gods couldn't leave this place, so they had Sherwin go get water.

Such benefits immediately made the other martial artists in the cells jealous.

If Sherwin refused to do it, he was sure that the others in the other cells would fight to do it!

Therefore, Sherwin walked out of the cell without hesitation.

The moment he walked out of the cell.

He felt the ground above the basement level tremble faintly, like the sound of a horse galloping on the ground.

Accompanied by a terrifying killing intent that swept through the entire steel factory, a deep voice sounded, "The capital garrison is here to bring Miss home!" Eighty thousand capital guards were gathered outside the steel factory.

The voice shocked the entire dark division prison.

All the dark division martial artists were alarmed, as if they had seen a ghost.

Why was the capital garrison gathered here?

A second deep voice came from the ground, cursing, "Motherf*ckers! You dare to bully the Northern Army's people?! Kill and raze this place!" After receiving the news that Ginny had been taken away by the dark division and imprisoned in the dark division's underground prison, the little monkey, Tristan Yandell, was shocked.

This ruthless person had directly rushed over with 80,000 capital garrison troops.

Now, the entire steel factory was surrounded by the capital garrison.

In the basement.

Ginny's eyes lit up as she giggled. "Sister Heather, Brother Tristan is here to pick us up!" "They are here to pick you up. You're the Young Miss of the Northern Army, but you've been bullied. The people under your brother are all people of high status and authority. They hold great power in their hands, so how can they let this matter rest?" Heather held Ginny's hand and refused to let her leave her side.

The silly little girl had no idea how much influence her brother had in Hansworth.

"The Young Miss of the Northern Army?" Sherwin was dumbfounded.

"Her brother is... All the martial artists in the cell were shocked.

Ginny stuck out her pink tongue and said proudly, "My brother is Braydon Neal!" Ginny was the only person who dared to call Braydon by his name in front of the four Northern Army hidden agents.

A biological sister calling her brother by his name.

No one could do anything about that!

Sherwin was dumbstruck.

The entire basement was silent.

The younger sister of the Northern King was captured by the dark division and brought here.

The people from the dark division were that arrogant?

This was crazy!

Sherwin's eyes instantly revealed respect.

At this moment, on the ground of the steel factory.

An expert from the dark division's prison, there was a ninth-level king named Gilderoy Jupin. He was dark division's deputy leader, and his duty was to guard the dark division's prison.

For decades, the dark division's prison was as stable as Mount Tanish. Who would have thought that they would be surrounded by Tristan's troops today.

Gilderoy appeared angrily and stared at Tristan, who was holding a sword. He said angrily, "Tristan Yandell, what are you doing?" "I'll kill my way through your dark division's prison!" Tristan received the iron-blooded order to kill and said, "Level this place!" Eighty thousand capital garrison troops swept through the entire abandoned steel factory.

It was as if the demolition team had forcefully demolished this place.

Instantly, the entire abandoned steel factory was filled with smoke. The capital garrison surrounded the place.

Gilderoy was shocked and furious. "Everyone, retreat to the imperial prison and report to the leader quickly. Those bastards from the governor office are a bunch of lunatics. Tristan Yandell, you'll be punished severely!" "I'll wait for you to punish me severely. At most, I'll bring my brothers back to the northern desert. Do you think I'm afraid of you, old bastard?" Tristan had never cowered.

He couldn't wait for the capital to quickly punish him.

This way, he, Tristan Yandell, one of the five heavenly kings of the Northern Army, could pack his bags and return to the northern region.

At that time, he would say that he could not survive in the capital anymore.

Anyway, he was not afraid of losing face!

As long as he could return to the Northern Army, it was nothing to lose face.

In the end, Gilderoy was so angry that he cursed loudly at his old age, "Bastard!" The governor office and the dark division started fighting.

This matter shocked the nine departments and twenty-four divisions.

No one knew what was going on.

Dominic Lowe of the Central Bureau had even gone into hiding, not doing anything about it.

The abandoned steel factory was razed to the ground..

Chapter 637-He was Livid!

All the members of the dark division retreated to the thirteen-story building.

This had alarmed Marvin Townsend.

In the Capital's dark division, Marvin and Harlan Jones were having a chat.

Someone entered the door hurriedly and whispered into Marvin's ear, "Leader, Tristan Yandell has led 80,000 capital garrison troops to surround the dark division prison." "What?" Marvin stood up in shock and anger. He could not be bothered to entertain Harlan and rushed out of the door.

Harlan narrowed his eyes, and a glint flashed across them. He followed Marvin out, ready to see what the little monkey was up to.

Taking advantage of Marvin's departure, Harlan took out his watch and saw the message on it as soon as he opened it.

Harlan's pupils constricted, and he instantly exploded with anger.

The people from the dark division had taken the Young Miss of the Northern Army!

He only found out now!

Harlan rushed over urgently, a layer of cold sweat appearing on his forehead. He realized why Tristan had led 80,000 capital garrison troops to besiege the dark division's prison.

It had already blown up!

In the abandoned steel factory, Marvin rushed over. He shouted, "Stop!" A quasi-pinnacle pressure rushed forth.

Tristan was suppressed for less than two minutes.

A black stream of light shot over from afar.

The black light was a black spear.

The black dragon spear pierced toward Marvin's chest.

Marvin was shocked. He recognized the black dragon spear and dodged it.

The spear stabbed into the thirteen-story building.

As Syrus Yanagi stepped on the flying leaves and landed steadily on the black dragon spear, he stood with his hands behind his back. "Your Highness!" Marvin cupped his hands and said humbly.

"Where's Ginny?" Syrus's thin lips moved slightly.

Marvin couldn't help but be stunned and asked, "Ginny is..." "The Young Miss of the Northern Army, my brother's biological sister!" Westley Hader slowly appeared with his hands behind his back.

In the end, Marvin was stunned. He realized that his subordinates had captured the Northern King's sister.

What the hell!

Marvin's face turned green. He turned around and looked at Gilderoy Jupin coldly, saying hoarsely, "Where is she?" Marvin wished he could slap Gilderoy to death.

Of all people he offended, he actually offended the Northern Army's people!

It seemed that Gilderoy was done with life.

Marvin was not!

Gilderoy was horrified. "Leader, I didn't give the order to arrest anyone. This is a misunderstanding!" He shouldn't have said it.

Once he said it, Tobey Lapras and the others thought that something had happened to Ginny Neal!

The white robed gray wolf, Hendrix Bailly, held a three feet long iron sword in his hand. The sword pierced through the sky and pierced through Gilderoy's right shoulder.

The sword pierced through his body and nailed him to the 13th floor.

His attack shocked everyone!

Marvin's hair stood on end as he sensed danger. He exclaimed, "Commander Bailey, you..." "If Ginny is hurt in the slightest, I'll destroy the dark division!" Hendrix's eyes were filled with killing intent.

Everyone in the dark division had better pray that Ginny was fine.

If something happened, there would only be eight of the nine departments left in the capital!

From now on, the dark division would be removed!

Gilderoy, a ninth-level king, was nailed to the wall of a thirteen-story building. Three meters of blood flowed out. It was shocking.

A king had a strong life force, and Hendrix's attack was not fatal. He only heavily injured him.

Jonah Shaw crossed his hands behind his back and stood in front of Marvin. His eyes were frighteningly cold, and his thin lips moved slightly. "If I don't see her in one minute, the dark division will be abolished, and you will die!" Marvin's scalp went numb. As a quasi-pinnacle expert, he didn't dare to say a single harsh word after being threatened by the green-robed youth before him.

Because this was Jonah!

The most ruthless person in the capital.

Since he was young, no one had dared to provoke him in the capital!

Looking at the martial artists of the various families in the capital, who would not avoid Jonah when they saw him?

Marvin was about to break down. He turned around and growled, 'Where is that girl?' "Cell 543 on the basement level!" Damien Caetano was at the door. His face was extremely pale. He braced himself and stepped forward.

This matter could not be concealed at all. If he did not step forward and say it now, if Marvin investigated the matter thoroughly, he would die a terrible death.

"You were the one who captured her?" Marvin asked coldly.

"Leader please spare my life. I didn't capture her. Scout Lampkin brought her here. I was responsible for sending her to the prison!" Damien's face was pale. He was filled with regret.

He should not have gotten involved in this matter!

If he didn't explain himself, he would lose his life here.

"You locked her up in the imperial prison?" Marvin asked with murderous intent.

"No. It's the basement level of the underground prison, Cell 543. They seemed pitiful, so I made the decision to open a new cell without a record." He knelt down as if he was asking to be punished.

In fact, he was just asking for credit!

Once a new cell was opened in the dark division's underground prison and imperial prison, the name of the martial artist imprisoned would have to be recorded.

He opened a new cell and locked Ginny Neal and Heather Sage inside.

It meant that they weren't locked up with other ferocious martial artists.

In other words, neither of the two girls were hurt.

Damien did something meritorious!

All the blame was pushed onto Scout.

Jonah clasped his hands behind his back and said coldly, "Lead the way. If Ginny is injured, none of the dark division members can live, including you, Marvin Townsend!" Marvin could only admit defeat, not daring to say anything.

A ruthless person like Jonah had always been a person who would do what he said!

If he really provoked Jonah, this little lunatic would abolish the dark division, making the nine departments into eight.

Damien didn't dare to hesitate and hurriedly led the way.

In the basement of the dark division's dungeon, a group of big shots appeared.

Marvin, the leader of the dark division, and Harlan, the deputy leader.

Governor Westley and the others had arrived!

At the door of Cell 543, four War Gods of the dark division were holding swords in their left hands. Their tiger eyes were filled with killing intent as they watched the people approaching from afar.

Marvin didn't seem to understand the situation and shouted coldly, "The four of you, get down!"
Swoosh!

The four War Gods of the dark division unsheathed their swords and point them at him.

Marvin's face turned dark, and he was livid.

Why was he so unlucky today!

War God level members of the dark division were actually pointing their swords at him, the leader.

Were they not intentionally embarrassing him?

"What are you doing?" Marvin asked angrily. "Under Second Master's orders, we must protect Young Miss today!" The first War God said indifferently.

The second War God said softly, "We can finally shed our dark division skin today!" Marvin was stunned by their words.

What did that mean?

Whose orders were they following?!

Or rather, which group was he from!

The ghost-masked youth, Skylar Neal, stepped forward with his hands behind his back and said softly, "Open the door!" "You are..."

Chapter 638-Sadie Arrives in the Capital!

You are...?" The eyes of the first War God young man were filled with uncertainty.

"I'm ranked last among the ten commanders of the Northern Army!" Skylar Neal said indifferently.

“Northern Army’s hidden agent Halston Juracek greets Tenth Master!” The first War God young man instantly put away his blade and knelt down on one knee, shouting in a low voice.

His words exposed his true identity.

The corner of Marvin Townsend’s mouth twitched, and it gradually spread across his entire face.

The four War Gods under his command were actually the Northern Army’s hidden agents!

To Marvin, this was a slap in the face.

Ginny Neal’s eyes lit up as she called out, “Brother Westley!” “Ginny!” Westley Hader took a step forward and pulled out Halston’s sword.

He slashed the entire cell door with his sword!

Westley bent down and picked Ginny up. Like an elder brother, he asked softly, “Since you’re in the capital, why didn’t you look for me at the governor office?” “I don’t know where the governor office is!” Ginny said innocently.

“There were too many people on the streets earlier,” Heather Sage said softly. “I was worried that revealing Ginny’s identity would cause even more trouble.” “Sister-in-Law, you worry too much. No one in the capital dares to touch you.

You and Ginny are a red line that can’t be crossed!” Tobey Lapras could tell that Heather was worried, so he decided to make it clear.

Heather and Ginny were a red line.

Even though the powerful families and aristocratic families hated Braydon Neal to the core, they didn’t dare to touch Ginny and Heather!

“Ginny, this is your Big Brother Tobey!” Westley said softly.

“Brother Tobey, I remember you!” Ginny said innocently.

Tobey and Syrus Yanagi had been to the Neal family manor during the hundred generals meeting.

Of course, Ginny recognized them!

“King Tobey of the royal guards?” Sherwin Hakes asked in surprise from the cell beside them.

Sherwin was not the only one who was shocked. The other martial artists in the basement’s first floor prison also revealed respectful gazes.

The royal guards had two masters.

The Crown Prince of the Eastern Palace, Syrus Yanagi, was a dignified seven-time champion. When he was young, he was a famous overlord in the capital.

Secondly, it was Tobey!

When the two of them were young, they were like bullies in the capital, specifically going against the children of the aristocratic families.

Hendrix Bailey stepped forward and pinched Ginny’s round face, saying, “Ginny, do you know who I am?” “Brother Hendrix!” Ginny stuck out her tongue and said timidly.

Hendrix laughed loudly. “Haha, you actually guessed who I am. Come on, your big brother Hendrix will give you a big treasure.” After saying that.

A token appeared in Hendrix's hand; he stuffed it into Ginny's hand. The little girl blinked and asked curiously, "What is this?" "The Gray Wolf Army's commander token!" Marvin gulped and muttered softly.

There was a picture on the token. It was a silver wolf standing on the peak of the mountain and howling at the moon.

This was the picture of the wolf howling at the moon!

Seeing the token was like seeing the commander of the Gray Wolf Army.

All the soldiers of the Gray Wolf Army would have to obey the orders!

The martial artists who were imprisoned by the dark division on the first floor of the basement revealed a hint of fear in their eyes, but they also felt a little envious of this cute little girl!

With the protection of the Gray Wolf Army's commander, how many martial artists in the world would dare to touch this little girl!

Jonah Shaw's left hand moved slightly, and a token slid out of his sleeve. He gently stuffed it into Ginny's hand and said softly, "Ginny, keep this well." "Brother Jonah!" Ginny whispered.

Jonah smiled dotingly and pinched her little nose. "You've guessed it right!" The commander token Jonah had given her was naturally the Sanguine Army's commander token.

This gift was not much lighter than Hendrix's.

Westley carried Ginny and walked to Skylar. He asked softly, "Ginny, do you know who he is?" Ginny blinked her big eyes, a little curious and a little timid.

As for who Eggy was... Ginny obviously couldn't guess!

There were so many people present, but Eggy was actually the closest person to the little girl!

Skylar didn't hide anything. He gently took off the mask on his face, revealing a handsome and delicate appearance. His brows were somewhat similar to Braydon's.

"Ginny, this is your Big Brother Skylar!" Westley told them who Skylar's father was.

Skylar's father was Braydon's third uncle!

He was Ginny's third uncle!

The Neal family had three children.

The eldest son, Braydon, followed by Skylar, and finally Ginny!

"Second Brother!" Ginny called out timidly.

"Ginny!" Skylar, who had always been cold and stern, softened as he called out her name.

The people of the Northern Army were all men!

They were all men, so they naturally doted on Ginny!

Westley and the others took Heather and was ready to leave the dark division's dungeon.

As for Marvin, the leader of the dark division, he was sent into Cell 543 by Jonah's punch and locked up in his own dungeon.

Syrus even said that he would beat Marvin up every time he saw him!

Marvin's face was filled with despair.

Today, he had offended the capital's little tyrant, Syrus.

Needless to say, Scout Lampkin, the good-for-nothing, would surely fall terribly in the hands of Marvin.

Marvin had to kill Scout.

Jonah and the others didn't need to care about that.

Skylar and the others had just reached the entrance of the dungeon.

Suddenly.

All of them stopped.

The few of them felt a familiar cold aura.

She was here!

Who was she?

It was naturally the girl from Mount Bliz who had already arrived in the capital.

This aura was way too familiar!

Westley was expressionless as he said softly, "It's over. We're stuck in the dungeon!" "We can't get out!" Tobey gulped.

"We shouldn't have all gathered here!" Syrus said softly.

"We were too hasty!" Skylar said expressionlessly.

The few of them were gathered here.

Sadie Dudley had arrived and sensed the auras of the few of them. She would definitely block them!

The dark division's dungeon was like a rat's nest.

The few of them were stuck.

Hendrix returned to where Marvin was and asked in a low voice, "Townsend, is there a back door in the dark division's dungeon?" "In the dark division's dungeon, the entrance is the exit, and the exit is the entrance. There is no second door." Marvin replied.

Tobey said softly, "Build a back door next time." "What should we do?" No matter what, Tobey refused to be the first to go out.

Jonah said expressionlessly, "Sadie is here. How can the Crown Prince not welcome her?" "That's right. The capital is your territory, Syrus. If you don't go and welcome her, who will?" Hendrix immediately agreed.

Syrus immediately became anxious and said, "Westley is the governor and also the minister of the governor office. Shouldn't he be the one to go out and welcome her?" "The two of you go together!" Tobey urged.

Syrus and Westley glared at Tobey, not expecting him to stab them in the back.

"We should all go together. Otherwise, we'll all just wait to die here." Westley said calmly..

Chapter 639-When I Enter the Capital, All the Pinnacles Will Die!

“Yes, let’s go together!” Syrus Yanagi was determined to drag everyone down with him.

Jonah Shaw didn’t say anything and walked out.

Seeing this, the others followed suit.

However, these few bad eggs were filled with an aura of death. Tragic Death.

There was a tragic feeling of a hero who would never return as he journeyed to face his death!

The six warriors of the Northern Army braced themselves and headed to the southern gate.

Ginny Neal was left in Heather Sage’s care, and they followed Tristan Yandell to the governor office. There was no need to worry about their safety at all.

At this moment, at the southern gate of the capital.

Her hair was tied up, and her face was flawless. Her eyebrows were as beautiful as a painting, and her clear eyes were calm and quiet. Sadie Dudley left Mount Bliz and had arrived in the capital!

She wasn’t wearing a ghost mask.

Because there was no need to!

Sadie stopped in front of the red southern gate. Her eyes were fixed on this place as she smiled lightly. The men passing by could not help but be entranced.

If she smiled again, she would probably be able to seduce their soul! The beautiful Sadie said in an ethereal and gentle voice, "Is this the capital?" "This is the capital!" An old voice faintly sounded. He sighed and said, "In the end, you still descended upon the capital!" "In the end, you still let him down!" Sadie's cherry lips opened slightly. She was calm and quiet, as if there was no smoke or fire.

The southern gate of the capital slowly opened.

An old man with a white beard and a suit stood on the red carpet as if he was welcoming Sadie.

Where did the old man in the suit come from?

He did not belong to a powerful family.

He did not belong to any aristocratic families!

He was not from a sect.

He was from the capital palace, the previous generation's imperial preceptor, Hawkins Landow!

A pinnacle that had become famous a hundred years ago had now appeared to welcome Sadie.

This was the courtesy given by the capital. Hawkins slowly said, "The capital decree last night was fake!" This was the capital's explanation!

Sadie's cherry lips parted slightly."You bullied him for his youth. Last night, you bullied him to the point where he swore a heavy oath that he would never set foot in the capital for the rest of his life. You made him suffer!" "There will be an explanation for this." Hawkins replied.

Sadie said softly, "The capital used him as a knife in your hand to kill the four entities for you and defend the ironclad laws of the country. In the end, the capital compromised with the four entities, which is letting him down!" Her soft words were beautiful!

Hawkins's heart trembled.

How should he explain?

Not to mention that someone had faked the decree of the capital!

Even if it was a fake decree from the capital, there were countless special institutions in the capital.

Were the nine departments and twenty-four divisions all useless?

Did they not notice any signs beforehand?

Did they not realize it, or did they realize it but acquiesced in the end?

No one could explain!

If they acquiesced, what was the difference between a fake decree and a real order?

Just as Sadie had said, these people had let Braydon Neal down!

This caused Braydon to swear in public last night that he would never set foot in the capital again.

The capital was full of deception.

Braydon, who had the intelligence of a demon, had long seen through the situation.

However, he had seen through everything. He would never take a step back or relent.

King Braydon was King Braydon after all.

He would not compromise with the four great entities!

The capital's compromise had let him down.

Hawkins could not give an explanation.

Sadie took one step closer to the southern gate of the capital and said softly, "I will only live for him for the rest of my life!" "Don't be angry. I will definitely give you an explanation for this matter!" Hawkins's age was unknown for the time being.

But she could feel that he was panicking.

He was faintly afraid.

The source of fear was Sadie!

He, Hawkins, did not dare to let Sadie enter the capital.

What was the reason?

Sadie said softly, 'When I enter the capital, all the pinnacles in the capital will die!' The beautiful girl spoke softly.

Just one sentence.

That was the reason why Hawkins was afraid.

Jonah and the others, who were rushing to the southern gate, turned around and ran when they heard this.

That's right, the six bad eggs turned around and ran!

No one dared to stay. At this time, no one dared to welcome Sadie!

The six of them were neither stupid nor silly. They could all feel that Sadie was angry.

If they went to her now, wouldn't they surely be beaten up?

There was nothing wrong with the six of them running away.

"Are the six of you hiding from me?" Sadie asked softly.

Jonah, who had just turned around and taken two steps, was stunned as if he had been struck by lightning.

Westley Hader was expressionless. "Don't run," he said. "We've been caught!" "Tobey, my legs are a little weak." Syrus turned around with difficulty and had Tobey Lapras support him. "If I help you," Tobey said in a low voice, "who's going to help me?!" "Didn't you say that there's no one in the capital that you, Syrus Yanagi, can't afford to offend?" Westley suddenly scolded Syrus.

Syrus was neither anxious nor angry. He said in a low voice, "Once you leave the southern gate, you're no longer in the capital." Westley was speechless.

There seemed to be nothing wrong with Syrus's words.

The six of them took difficult steps and slowly walked toward the southern gate of the capital. The old imperial preceptor, Hawkins, was still blocking Sadie's way.

“Old Imperial Preceptor please make way! ” Syrus said in a low voice.

Hawkins moved aside.

Tobey and the other six brothers walked out of the southern gate with a bitter laugh and exclaimed obediently, “Sadie!” Each of their words was sweeter than the other!

Sadie raised her left hand and gently tapped Tobey’s forehead with her slender fingers. A ripple appeared.

Bang!

Tobey flew backward toward the ancient city wall at the southern gate of the capital.

He was getting beaten up!

“Face the wall and reflect on your mistakes!” Sadie opened her thin lips and uttered.

Syrus quickly ran toward the ancient city wall. His face was straight, and his body was straight. His movements were smooth and fluid.

Hendrix Bailey and Jonah did the same.

The six of them stood obediently with their faces facing the wall. This was the so-called time-out.

Looking at how experienced the six of them were, who knew how many times they had been punished when they were young?

The six little cowards stood there obediently, not daring to make a sound.

Sadie walked lightly toward the southern gate of the capital.

Syrus stole a glance, and so did the other five.

“No peeking!” Sadie said coldly.

Swoosh!

The six of them quickly retracted their gazes and obediently faced the wall to reflect on their mistakes.

Sadie continued to move forward and said, “Imperial Preceptor Landow, retreat. You can’t stop me!”
Hawkins couldn’t stop Sadie?

He really couldn’t stop Sadie!

Hawkins said with difficulty, “Please calm down. I’ll give you an explanation for last night’s fake decree by noon at the latest!” It was too late.

The tip of Sadie’s left foot gently landed on the red carpet.

One foot in the capital!

Boom!

Sadie’s delicate body released an extremely terrifying aura..

Chapter 640-: I Will Live the Rest of My Life Only for You!

How strong was her aura?

It sent Hawkins Landow flying!

Her aura was like the sky, and her power suppressed the earth.

However, Sadie Dudley's temperament was untainted by the mortal world. She raised her left hand and landed a palm on Hawkins's chest.

The light palm print penetrated Hawkins's body.

With just a single palm, she shattered the pinnacle door in Hawkins's body.

This was Sadie!

She was dressed in a white dress. She was originally a weak girl, but the world's top experts were like ants to her.

The old imperial preceptor Hawkins awed the capital a hundred years ago, but so what!

Sadie had never cared about his life.

Sadie had just said that when she entered the capital, all the pinnacles in the capital would die.

With her own strength, she would flatten pinnacles in the capital.

The fact that Hawkins had suffered a heavy blow with her palm strike was Sadie's warning to the capital!

Before noon, the capital had to give Sadie an explanation.

Otherwise, the pinnacle martial artists in the capital city would not be able to escape death!

Sadie had descended the mountain because of Braydon Neal and descended upon the ancient capital.

Would she let this rest? Not until blood had been shed.

Hawkins was crippled with just a palm strike. A dignified pinnacle cultivator who was in seclusion was crippled just like that.

What a pity!

Pinnacle martial artists were great existences.

Crippled just like that!

Most importantly, Sadie had never put the world's top experts in her eyes.

Do you still remember the ban on Kylo?

Kylo had forbidden pinnacles from appearing in this era, and the king was revered!

Sadie was the executor of this ban.

Behind the ban was a terrifying figure suppressing the entire world.

Kylo's ban suppressed the top powers of the hundred countries around the world, and they did not dare to show themselves.

How terrifying!

Thus, when Sadie came to the capital, even the old imperial preceptor, Hawkins, who was a great figure in secluded cultivation, was alarmed.

At this moment, Hawkins's old face was pale as he left the capital's southern gate.

Sadie stood quietly on the spot. She had not set foot in the capital yet. She slowly looked at the six little cowards at the bottom of the ancient city wall.

When the six little cowards saw Sadie looking at them, they turned their heads in unison and stared at the wall in front of them.

Each and every one of them looked like a well-behaved teenager.

Cold sweat broke out on Tobey Lapras's face as he muttered, "Sadie is walking toward us. What should we do? I'm so nervous!" "Don't panic, steady yourself!" Syrus Yanagi asked Tobey to calm down, but he was also panicking.

Jonah Shaw sneered. "Cowards!" In the next moment.

Sadie took light steps and walked over leisurely. A faint smile appeared on her lips. The smile on her beautiful face could not help but mesmerize people.

She was truly intoxicating others with just a smile, and it was soul-stirring!

"Jonah!" Sadie said softly.

"Hey, Sadie, what's up? Tell me what you need." A second ago, Jonah was just saying that Tobey was a coward, but he turned around with an obedient smile on his face the next second.

Sadie raised her left hand. Her cold and soft fingers gently tapped Jonah's forehead and said softly, "Did Little Fool learn the Nine Yin Technique?" "As expected of you, Sadie. Although you've lived on Mount Bliz for a long time, we can't hide anything from you." Tobey, the little bootlicker, went to a pavilion not far away and wiped the seat with his sleeve, letting Sadie sit down and rest.

Sadie's cherry lips parted slightly. "Continue your time-out!" "Alright!" Tobey obediently turned around and ran back to his original position. He looked straight ahead and continued to reflect on himself.

However, ten meters away from the capital, a white-robed youth walked toward the capital with his hands behind his back.

Behind the white-robed youth was a black-robed youth.

The two of them arrived at the capital together.

It was Braydon and Frediano Jadanza.

Naturally, they had something to do!

Braydon had said that he would never set foot in the capital again.

The capital was divided into four city gates: east, west, north, and south. With the ancient city wall as the boundary, the capital was inside the city gates, and Hansworth was outside the city gates!

Braydon had sensed Sadie's aura from afar.

Within the pavilion.

"Sadie!" Braydon said softly.

"Young Master!" Sadie said softly.

“Sadie!” Frediano shouted from the side. “Little one, you’re finally going to return to the north?” Sadie looked at Frediano and smiled lightly.

A bitter smile appeared on Frediano’s lips.

“I came down the mountain today because of you!” Sadie said calmly.

Seven years ago, the four great entities, namely the powerful families, aristocratic families, sects, and yin-yang, rashly appeared and secretly bullied Frediano. They threatened Frediano with their pinnacle martial strength and made him join the yin-yang.

If Frediano didn’t compromise, the pinnacles of the four great entities would descend upon the northern territory.

To the Northern Army seven years ago.

Half-step pinnacles were terrifying existences that could kill Frediano.

Not to mention pinnacle martial artists!

Back then, Sadie lived on Mount Bliz and did not care about anything that happened at the foot of the mountain.

Sadie stood on Mount Bliz, intimidating the world’s pinnacles.

She never asked about the matters of martial artists below the pinnacle.

But now, there were many pinnacles appearing.

How could Sadie turn a blind eye to it!

Moreover, Sadie and Finley Yanagi had made a promise that she would never leave Mount Bliz.

However, an agreement was still an agreement!

Finley Yanagi's whereabouts were unknown. He was nowhere to be seen, dead or alive.

Sadie had kept her promise and guarded Mount Bliz alone for more than ten years. That was already enough to give him face!

Did he want Sadie, who was in her prime, to die alone on Mount Bliz?

That would make no sense!

Sadie had already said that she would only live for Braydon.

This sentence alone was enough!

Recently, the pinnacle martial artists had been acting strangely. Was it not the best time for Sadie to appear? Sadie was not only the guardian of north.

She was also the executor of Kylo's ban.

However, any pinnacle that defied the ban would be killed.

Tobey was a smart kid. Seeing his big brother Braydon, he was relieved. He ran over and said, "Brother, why are you here?" "We're exhausted!" After Braydon appeared, Westley Hader and the others all felt at ease. They immediately returned to their original nature and did not want to face the wall and reflect on their mistakes.

With Braydon protecting them, they dared to move around.

If Braydon wasn't here, the six of them would be scared to death of Sadie.

Braydon clasped his hands behind his back and said softly, "I brought Frediano back to Quill. When I found out that Ginny and Heather had come to the capital, I was a little worried, so I came over to take a look." "Brother, don't worry. I'm telling you, no one in the capital dares to touch my sister. If those good-for-nothings from the powerful families dare to provoke me, I'll mobilize the royal guards to wipe them out!" The seven-time champion Syrus said domineeringly. "Syrus, are you very powerful?" Sadie chuckled.

"Compared to you, I'm far inferior!" Syrus also knew how to be humble... When facing certain people!

If it was a martial artist from a powerful family, he would say that he was the seven-time champion.

Syrus would surely beat the crap out of them and hang them upside down.

The few of them chatted merrily.

Another person appeared from the southern gate of the capital.

It was Dominic Lowe who was laughing bitterly.

Dominic was in a difficult position!

He had been hiding in the cellar, afraid of facing Sadie.

In the end, Dominic was forced to come out with the ruler's decree..
