

Stubborn Love Of A Roguish Scion Chapter 2 – I Want You to Become My Wife Today

Chapter 2: I Want You to Become My Wife Today

After everything resumed to normal, Ye Erruo was too tired to even think, much less contemplate things. This man was simply crazy.

“I want you to become my wife today,” He said word for word.

“Okay,” She replied softly as she pulled over the blanket beside her, trying to cover her body.

Okay!?!? She said okay!?!?

“We will go and collect the marriage certificate today,” He said viciously.

“Okay.”

Ye Erruo yanked the blanket beside her hard and tried desperately to cover herself. She dared not look at the person atop her. However, her arms were soft and wobbly and she could not exert too much strength.

There was a flash of surprise in Mo Jiangye’s deep and unfathomable eyes. He grabbed both her hands and pressed them on her head. Mo Jiangye then lifted her chin and asked in a hoarse voice, “Ye Erruo, what tricks do you have up your sleeves??”

He was puzzled that she was neither fussing nor retaliating!

Ye Erruo looked at him in the eye, then at that sy chin, those alluring thin lips and picturesque eyebrows. His chiseled face had a tinge of devilish and bewitching charm and his deep and profound eyes contained madness, arrogance, and nobility! He was domineering and imposing. When he stood alone, he exuded an overbearing arrogance that disdained the heaven and earth.

This was a man who was perfect to the point of enraging God and men!

He was also a man who spoiled and doted on her too much.

In her past life, she caused his death due to her stupidity. He was the person whom she let down and hurt most. The sins that she had committed... In this life, she would sacrifice everything to repay the debts that she owed him previously.

Enduring the soreness and pain, she stretched out her legs and h*d onto his strong and energetic waist. She then wrapped her arms around his neck and said gently, "What time are we going to collect the certificate today?"

Mo Jiangye's breathing paused for a moment. Suddenly, he panted even more heavily. There was a mysterious sparkle in his eyes. It was as if a huge and dangerous vortex was devouring Ye Erruo's soul.

All of a sudden, Ye Erruo was bewitched by his devilish and alluring eyes.

She looked incredibly beautiful when she was in a daze. She was already lazily exuding femininity as she had just woken up. Now, at the sight of her dazedness, he could not control himself.

Suddenly, he lowered his head and kissed her delicate and soft lips ruthlessly, while observing her reaction. He discovered that she was actually very obedient and abiding. There was no resistance or struggle... Furthermore, she even took the initiative to respond to him! She responded to him...

His eyes dimmed. He clasped the back of her head and invaded her territory deeply again. It was overbearing, domineering, extremely possessive and conquering. It was mingled with feelings that had been suppressed for a long time. He stormed and raided her world, stirring the wind and clouds.

"Oo..."

Just as she could not endure any longer, Mo Jiangye's actions became gentler. If it was a rampaging storm and devastating downpour earlier, it was a gentle breeze and drizzle now.

His hot and searing palm moved downwards and kissed the person underneath him deeply.

He was afraid that this was a dream and fearful that the person who was so gentle to him would disappear when he woke up. Frightened and nervous, he held onto her tightly so that she could not leave him.

...

After some time, Ye Erruo, who lay paralyzed in his arms, felt extremely safe and assured. Her arms that were as fair as snow were wrapped around his neck and she snuggled in his chest.

His body temperature was warm. It was great.

"Hungry... hungry..." Ye Erruo said.

Right from the beginning, Mo Jiangye's eyes had never left her. He immediately got up and carried her to wash up.

When she was washing up, he was still watching her sullenly.

It had been a long time since she woke up and she had not started any ruckus...

"Mo Jiangye!" She suddenly called out.

Rate this Chapter