Chapter 201 He Did Have A Warm Heart

Lucia didn't hesitate, nodded without thinking, and said in a firm voice, "Well, I agree."

She had felt indebted to August.

Now with something like this happening, she felt even guiltier.

"Well, get in the car first."

Lucia took a deep breath, released him, and got into the car.

On the way back, neither of them said a word, and it was so quiet in the car.

The car stopped outside the gate of the community.

Lucia reached out to push the door and looked at August tentatively.

Seeing that he didn't respond, she got out of the car.

The moment the car door closed, she heard his voice, "Tomorrow I'll ask Burton to pick you up and go back to the old house to see Grandma."

"Okay."

Lucia nodded and closed the door.

The car started and left quickly.

Lucia sighed lightly.

She turned around, walked into the community, and returned to the apartment.

When she got home, she washed her face and charged her phone which had been turned off because it was out of battery.

As soon as she turned it on, she found that there were several missed calls from Elisa.

Lucia was startled, and then she reacted suddenly.

She had forgotten to tell them that she couldn't go to the hospital today! She hurriedly called back, explained to Elisa, and hung up the phone.

Only then did she breathe a sigh of relief.

After much tossing, she was now hungry and tired.

She walked around the kitchen but found that there was nothing in the refrigerator.

It was really bad luck.

Lucia bit her lips and was about to order a takeaway when the doorbell rang suddenly.

She walked to the door and saw a young man in a takeaway uniform standing outside the door through the cat's eye.

Chapter 202 He Was Quite Protective Of Her Seeing the contract-like document handed over, Lucia was slightly startled and flipped through the papers.

She was even more surprised when she saw the clause that Party A should bear the operation fee of Party B's father.

She frowned and her face was a little pale.

She looked at August and asked, "What is this?"

August said indifferently, "A contract that is beneficial to both of us."

"I will bear all the expenses for Mr. Mitchell's surgery as long as you can fulfill the stipulations in the contract."

Hearing what he said, Lucia suddenly turned cold.

She tightened her grip on the document slightly, bit her lips, and said, "Are you going to keep me?"

She had watched movies and TV series with similar plots before.

Some female protagonists would sign such contracts because they needed money, and both parties would take what they needed.

She had never thought that she would experience such a thing one day.

"Not exactly."

August looked serious and said in a firm tone, "You need money for your father's surgery, and I need you to help me put on a show in front of my grandma."

Lucia frowned and asked in confusion, "Why?"

August stared at her with dark and deep eyes, and said word by word, "Because it was you who got the marriage certificate with me at the beginning, and Grandma likes you very much, I need you to comfort Grandma during this time when she is not in good health.

So you just need to cooperate with me and put on a show.

That's all.

Seeing that Lucia didn't say a word for a long time, August said lightly, "I'm doing it for the sake of Grandma's health.

If you don't want to, I won't force it."

After thinking for a moment, Lucia bit her lips and confirmed again, "Is it all I have to do?"

August nodded slightly, "You just need to comply with the stipulations in the contract for one year."

Lucia fell silent and wrung her hands.

She hesitated.

She didn't know whether she should agree or not.

If she signed the contract, her family's burden would be reduced a lot.

Besides, it was for the benefit of Grandma.

Hearing this, Bishop chuckled.

Chapter 203 Am I Useless? Mandy nodded and brought the traction band and instruments from the side.

She was about to help Bishop in when he suddenly raised his hand and said in a serious tone, "I want to try it myself."

During this period, he had been very cooperative in the treatment, and his legs felt a little.

From being unable to stand up at first, now he was able to stand up for one second, two seconds, and three seconds while holding on to something...

There were signs of improvement.

Of course, in addition to the credit of the therapist, Mandy's role was also indispensable.

Now, rehabilitation training had become a must-do item for them every day.

Hearing this, Mandy hesitated, "The therapist said you'd better..."

Bishop's tone suddenly turned cold and he interrupted her, "I want to try."

Mandy frowned, looked at his legs, and said nothing.

Bishop supported the wheelchair on both sides, and slowly exerted force with both arms, propping up his body little by little.

A normal person mainly relied on the support of his legs to stand up, while he relied on the strength of his arms.

His two legs were soft and weak, like sticks spliced together, with no support at all He took a deep breath, closed his eyes, and slowly moved the weight of the support from his arms to his feet.

The moment he completely let go, his body stood up.

One second, two seconds, three seconds...

Before three seconds had passed, his legs suddenly softened, and his body fell to the side unexpectedly.

With the aid of instruments, he wouldn't fall.

But now, he didn't use instruments at all.

If he fell, he might injure his legs again.

When Bishop fell to the ground, Bishop felt something soft.

When he opened his eyes, he found that Mandy rushed over at some point, and placed herself directly under him, acting as a human air cushion.

"You..."

Mandy endured the pain and asked, "Mr.Adams, are you all right?"

day? Are you getting married?"

On the other end of the phone, Paula pretended to be angry, "Nonsense! I'm serious! Just the concert I told you about last time! Did you forget?"

As soon as Lucia heard it, she immediately remembered that Paula had told her when she came back from Frankfurt last time, and she had promised that she would go.

She smiled and said, "Of course, I didn't forget!"

To raise the surgery fee for her father, she had been very busy recently.

She finally had time, and it was good to take this opportunity to relax.

Besides, this concert was Paula's first show after returning from abroad.

So, of course, she would go to the concert.

"It's the day after tomorrow! I'm sending the tickets to you.

The address is your company, and it should arrive later!"

"Okay, I know."

Paula continued, "Two in total...

It doesn't matter if Burton doesn't come.

As long as you come, I'll be happy"

When Lucia heard this, she couldn't help laughing.

Girls were all duplicitous.

How could she not guess Paula's true thoughts? "Don't worry.

I'll see what I can do."

"Alright...

That's it.

I'll hang up first."

It was rare for Paula to hang up her phone so quickly.

Lucia smiled helplessly, looked at the screen of her phone, and couldn't help shaking her head.

Paula was in love! It didn't take long for her to receive a call from the delivery man.

After she went downstairs to pick up the tickets, she glanced at the time.

There were still ten minutes before going back to work in the afternoon.

At this time, Burton should be in the company.

Then she'd better send it to him directly.

Chapter 205 He Went To The Concert August stopped flipping through the documents, raised his eyes, and glanced at the ticket on the table.

When he saw the time and place clearly, his eyes darkened slightly.

It was the night after tomorrow in the Austos City International Conference Hall.

He thought that he could go and have a look.

After returning from the President's Office to the Administration Department, Lucia picked up her phone and sent a message to Paula, [The tickets have been delivered, and he said he would go.] If she didn't send Paula a message, with Paula's temperament, she would probably be restless and wait all afternoon.

Paula was obviously in love.

As expected, in a second, Lucia got a reply.

Paula's tone was indeed blunt, [I don't care if he goes or not!] Then there was another message with a squinting smile emoji, [But you must go!] Lucia smiled and didn't think much.

She started to work after replying.

On the other hand, after receiving the message from Lucia, Paula quickly sent a message to her brother Paul, "Paul, Lucia said she will go."

After sending it, she somehow felt she had betrayed her friend.

But when she thought that she did this to make her good best friend become her future sister-in-law, she put all her guilt behind her.

In a blink of an eye, two days passed.

From early morning to afternoon, Lucia received several reminder text messages from Paula.

As soon as she got off work, she left the company in a hurry, grabbed something to eat, and went back to the apartment to change clothes.

Anyway, today was Paula's "big day", and she had to dress more formally.

She put on an off-white long dress with a wide hem.

The V-neckline added a sense of laziness and casualness.

The tightening of the waist outlined the lines of her body.

The hem was wide, and every step she took could reveal her long legs and slender ankles.

Her hair was slightly curly and her makeup was light.

Lucia looked at herself in the mirror and felt that she had never been so feminine before.

The way she dressed wouldn't disgrace Paula at least.

She put on a pair of nude pink high-heeled sandals.

With that, he turned his head to look at her, and his deep eyes met hers, "What? I'm here to accompany you.

Aren't you happy?"

He sounded confident and somewhat ambiguous.

She bit her lips and had nothing to say.

Did she dare to say anything? Even if she was not happy, she had to swallow it.

When she looked up again, August's gaze passed her and looked behind her.

Lucia suddenly remembered that there was another man on her left.

At the right moment, Paul said softly, "Lucia, it's time to start."

Hearing this, she turned her head quickly, smiled apologetically at Paul, stared straight ahead, and tried to calm herself down.

It was the first time she had been caught between two men.

Accompanied by a melodious piano sound, the red curtain slowly opened and the lights on both sides of the venue changed.

The concert officially started.

The piano solo and the orchestral symphony took turns.

After the first few shows, Lucia counted in her heart.

The fourth one was Paula's performance, the ensemble of cello and piano.

When Paula appeared stunningly in a red dress, Lucia's eyes lit up and she couldn't help feeling a little excited.

With a smooth piano sound, Paula pulled the strings and caught up with the tone.

The two different instrument sounds mixed together and complemented and collided with each other, performing different melodies together.

Lucia looked at Paula in the center of the stage.

At this moment, she was less carefree than usual.

She was more quiet and mature, but still charming.

On the other side, August stared at the woman with shining eyes beside him, and couldn't help smiling.

She clearly didn't understand any music, yet she was still listening so seriously.

Chapter 207 They Confronted About The Contract It happened so suddenly.

When Lucia met Paul's bright eyes, she was flustered, "Paul, I..."

Paul's voice was soft enough to not give her any psychological pressure, "Lucia, don't worry, I'll give you time.

You should think about it..."

Lucia lowered her eyes and looked at everything in the house.

She somehow felt moved.

No man had ever been so good to her.

Paul was gentle and considerate.

He was a most perfect boyfriend she had imagined.

But she somehow felt a little hesitant.

There was a sudden noise behind the table in the room, followed by Paula's voice, "Ouch..."

Lucia was taken aback for a moment, and then looked over, "Paula?"

Paula slowly stood up from behind the table, and a trace of embarrassment flashed across her face.

She smiled awkwardly, "I accidentally bumped into something.

You guys continue..."

Paul felt speechless.

The atmosphere he had tried his best to create was ruined by her, and the moment was gone.

Seeing the change in her brother's face, Paula knew that it was not the right time for her to be exposed.

So she did not hide anymore, stood up, and walked to Lucia's side.

She touched her arm with her elbow, and said in a low voice, "Lucia, my brother has liked you for a long time! I know clearly that there are pictures of you in his room!"

A trace of embarrassment flashed across Paul's face, and he cleared his throat slightly, "Paula, don't talk nonsense..."

"I'm not talking nonsense.

Paul, you still don't admit it?! Haven't you liked Lucia for a long time?"

Lucia was a little embarrassed when she heard her words, and she blushed.

Seeing the shy look on Lucia's face, Paul took a deep breath and asked again, "Lucia, have you made up your mind? Would you like to be my girlfriend?"

forgotten the contract you signed? During the contract period,

Chapter 208 They Would Never Get Back Together What did it mean by "Party B shall not be entangled with other people of the opposite sex during the contract period, and shall put Party A's needs first"? Lucia's mind went blank.

She rubbed her eyes as if she didn't believe what she saw, and read it again with widened eyes.

The small words in brackets remained the same, the same sentence she had read just now.

Holding the contract, she stood motionless on the spot, as if petrified.

What the hell was the request? Why limit her emotional freedom? Even the men she was in contact with! August, who was standing at the door, raised his eyes and saw her expression.

He knew what was going on.

He walked over unhurriedly, and seemed to raise his eyebrows, "I don't need to tell you where it is, right?"

It was written in the contract, and she had signed it voluntarily.

Lucia bit her lips, and slowly tightened her grip on the contract.

She raised her eyes to look at him and said, "You even control my love life.

Don't you think it's too much?"

Besides, even if she dated a man, it wouldn't prevent her from cooperating with him to put on a show in front of Grandma.

What did he mean? August raised his chin slightly and said in a cold tone, "To make this show more convincing.

Grandma is not a fool.

She doesn't believe whatever I say."

Lucia's voice trembled a little because of her anger, "So are you restricting my emotional freedom?"

"From the moment you signed your name, you would have to be responsible for yourself, right?"

August stepped closer to her, and his eyes were cold, "Otherwise, do you think my money grows on trees?"

His words instantly woke her up.

Sure enough, from time immemorial to the present, the rich party had always been the dominant party.

She had to agree to his demands for her father's surgery expenses.

Lucia gritted her teeth in pain.

When she thought of the small words in brackets, her heart tightened unconsciously.

Put his needs first? Was it any different from being kept by him? She took a deep breath, raised her eyes to look at him with difficulty, and slowly clenched her fists.

Chapter 209 She Met Irene Again Taking a deep breath and adjusting her expression, Lucia gently pushed the door open and walked in.

She saw Bill on the bed and Elisa beside her.

She smiled brightly at them, "Dad, Mom!"

As soon as Elisa and Bill saw her, their expressions changed and they stopped talking about it.

Bill sat up cheerfully and asked, "Lucia, are you busy with work lately?"

Lucia replied with a smile, "Not busy."

She put the fruit in her hand on the bedside table, sat down beside the bed, and asked him how he was doing, "How is it? How about you? How is your mood adjusting?"

In a few days, it would be time for her father's surgery.

The doctor had specially told him to ensure his peace of mind and emotional stability.

"I'm fine here.

Don't worry."

Seeing a bit of blush on Bill's thin face, Lucia patted his hand relievedly nodded, and said, "That's good.

I'm relieved!"

After chatting with Bill for a while, a nurse came to check on his physical condition.

Elisa took the opportunity and took Lucia out of the ward.

Seeing Elisa's mysterious expression, Lucia couldn't help but ask softly, "Mom, what's wrong?"

Elisa frowned and asked in a low voice, "I want to ask you.

Where did the money for the surgery come from?"

Two days ago, Dr.Long had given them the surgery notice, and she knew that the surgery fee had been paid in full.

She had collected all the money from their family and put it in Lucia's bank account.

Although the amount was not small, it was still a certain distance away from paying the surgery fee.

How could she have obtained so much money in such a short time? When asked by Elisa, Lucia naturally thought of the contract she had signed.

She frowned slightly and was a little ashamed to say it.

It was enough for her to know this kind of thing alone.

If Elisa and Bill found out, they would be angry.

Chapter 210 His Car Was Tampered With Lucia was a little annoyed.

After climbing several steps in a row, she felt tired.

So she rested against the wall for a while.

Suddenly, the sound of footsteps came from the stairwell above.

She could hear it clearly because it was quiet around.

She had thought that someone was going to come down, but the footsteps were just lingering on that floor.

She took a deep breath and was about to continue walking upstairs when a voice suddenly came from the upper floor.

It was an extremely low male voice, "It's all done."

After a few seconds of pause, he continued, as if he was talking on the phone, "He will go to the Eastern District for a meeting in the afternoon, and he will go out."

"Don't worry, as long as he drives the car, he will be disabled at least."

Hearing these words, Lucia suddenly felt a chill down her spine.

She took a deep breath, and there was an inexplicable fear in her heart.

The person who appeared here must be an employee of the company.

But hearing his conversation, she could tell that it didn't seem an upright thing.

When she thought of the murders she had seen in the TV series, she felt even more frightened.

Lucia leaned against the wall and didn't dare to move for fear that the sound she made would startle the man above.

After a while, the man above seemed to have hung up the phone.

After a pause, he walked out.

Listening to the sound of his footsteps slowly disappear, Lucia was finally able to take a deep breath.

She cautiously went up to the upper floor and looked at the empty stairwell with lingering fears.

She didn't know who the man was just now, nor whom he wanted to murder.

Although she had overheard a few words, she seemed to be unable to do anything...

Lucia sighed and told herself to mind her own business in her heart.

She immediately started walking and continued upstairs.

Back at the Administration Department, the words she had overheard just now flashed frequently in her mind, and she couldn't help but get distracted.
