Chapter 261 Sneaking into Perfect Fortune

When Lucia was deep in thought, a woman outside continued, "Because of her, the efforts of several major departments during this period have been wasted. How can she continue working here in the future? "I don't care. Anyway, when things come to light, she will be hated by every employee in the company. We've been working overtime for a long time on this project. But now, the sure thing is messed up..."

Hearing the harsh criticism, Lucia felt her temples throbbing violently, so she pushed open the door and stepped out.

The two women who were fixing makeup at the sink had not expected someone would suddenly come out, so they were startled, looked at each other, and dared not to say anything.

Lucia pretended to be nonchalant, walked to the sink, and washed her hands.

When one of the women recognized her, she was so shocked that her face turned pale.

Lucia turned a blind eye to it, pulled out a tissue, wiped her hands, and walked out.

Seeing this, the woman lowered her voice and said, "She is the secretary we were talking about!"

"What? It's her!"

Lucia frowned and quickened her footsteps.

Soon, she could not hear their voices anymore.

Unexpectedly, everyone thought it was her who had leaked the plan, but she didn't do it.

It was indeed her that had sent the plan over, so she had the time and opportunity to commit the crime.

But she had no motive...

After Lucia went back to the office worriedly, she calmed herself down and carefully recalled that had happened yesterday.

But there seemed to be no problems during the period from the time she had gotten the plan to the time she had given it to Eaton.

Besides her, the only person who could touch the plan was Jeanne.

But it was impossible! She cared about August so much, so she must not have done such a thing.

In an instant, all the things in her mind were mixed, making her completely clueless.

When it was time to get off work, Lucia finally realized what she should do was to meet August and explain it to him face to face no matter whether the leak of the plan had anything to do with her.

But he had the company with Burton after the emergency meeting and had not come back.

Lucia didn't know whether he had come up with any solution.

Reaching the sixth floor, Lucia wanted to ask a waiter where August was.
But before she could find one, she saw a woman in a black uniform looking straight at her with sharp eyes.
Lucia's heart skipped a beat.
When she met the woman's eyes, she knew she couldn't turn around to leave right away, so she went up to her.
"I couldn't find anyone for a long time! You guys are all lazy!"
The woman snorted, pointed at her, and said, "You, come with me!"
Lucia hurriedly stepped forward with her head down, glanced at the name tag on the woman's chest, and asked, "Manager, what can I do for you?"
She was wearing a waitress's uniform now, so she could not let others know she was not a waitress.
Otherwise, she would be kicked out right away.
"Follow me and send the wine to Room 608!"
The woman was arrogant and tough, so Lucia didn't dare to disobey her.
Therefore, she picked up the wine bottles and follow her, secretly comforting herself that she could soon go to look for August after delivering the wine.
Walking to the door of the private room, the manager took the lead in pushing open the door and going in.
Suddenly, the noises and the smell of tobacco and alcohol came out together.
Lucia frowned and followed her in.

"What's the matter? Why did it take so long for you to deliver the wine?" a man asked on the sofa with strong dissatisfaction in his tone.

The manager seemed to have suddenly changed into another person when she replied in a soft voice with a smile, "Jason, Ronnie, I'm sorry to have made you wait for such a long time. Please enjoy the wine."

Then, she tilted her head to look at Lucia and whispered, "Hurry up and serve the wine!"

When Lucia smelled the pungent odor of tobacco and alcohol, she felt so uncomfortable that her eyes turned wet. She walked forward and put the wine bottles on the table one by one.

When she was about to turn around, the manager suddenly gave her a nudge and said, "What are you doing? Open the bottles! Are you new here? You know nothing!"

Lucia gritted her teeth in anger but knew that she was in a dilemma now.

Facing so many people in the room, she couldn't leave even though she wanted to. So, she had no choice but to open the wine bottles one by one.

When the man screamed in pain, Lucia took the opportunity to run away.
But the other two men surrounded her and grabbed her arms.
One of them said, "B*tch! Don't you dare try to run!"
"Let me go!"
Lucia gritted her teeth in anger while struggling desperately.

She had not expected to meet such despicable and shameless men in a place like this! With a grim face, Jason pulled her hard toward the men's lavatory and sneered, "Let go of you? You wish!"

No matter how strong Lucia was, she couldn't defeat the two men.

When she was about to be pulled into the men's lavatory, a man suddenly shouted coldly, "Let go of her!"

Before she could look up, a tall man quickly approached and kicked Jason in the stomach.

Jason kept stepping back and almost fell.

When Lucia raised her head and saw the comer's face, she felt surprised and happy.It was Paul! Paul's face was gloomy and frightening, and there was a hint of fierceness in his angry eyes.He stepped forward and quickly knocked the other two men down.

After dealing with them, he hurriedly stepped forward, took Lucia's hand, and asked worriedly, "Are you alright?"

Lucia blinked her eyes.

Meeting his clear eyes, she felt warm in her heart and quickly nodded, "I'm fine.You..."

Before she could finish her words, she saw a figure charging at Paul out of the corner of her eye.

She was startled and shouted, "Paul, be careful!"

Hearing this, Paul narrowed his eyes.But before he could turn his head back, he was hit hard on the back of the head.

With a crack, a wine bottle exploded and shards splattered.

Paul froze when blood flowed down his head.

After a while, the blood dropped down, staining his white shirt.

When Lucia recovered from the shock, she asked, "Paul, are you OK?"

Seeing that Lucia didn't want to talk about it, Paul didn't ask any more questions.

After drinking some water, he felt a little dizzy, so he lay down to rest.

But expectedly, he fell asleep as soon as closed his eyes.

Seeing his gentle sleeping face, Lucia secretly felt relieved.

A lot of things had happened today.

And after such an incident, she felt even more overwhelmed.

She had sneaked into Perfect Fortune to ask August about the leak of the plan, but now, her efforts were all in vain.

She didn't know that the man she was thinking about had already known everything.

August was watching the surveillance video in the monitoring room with a deep frown.

After the ambulance had come, all the customers had known there was an accident in Perfect Fortune.

August had not cared about it at first.

But later, Burton had come to report to him that Lucia and Paul had been involved! Hearing their names, he had suddenly had some strange emotions, so he had immediately gone to inquire about what had happened.

But the staff of Perfect Fortune did not know about the incident clearly, so he had come to the monitoring room in person.

The surveillance camera captured what had happened at the door of the lavatory on the sixth floor clearly from the time Lucia had rushed inside to hide to the time Paul had been attacked by a wine bottle.

After watching the video several times, August guessed what had happened.

Gritting his teeth, he raised his big hand with a frown, pointed at the men on the screen with his slender finger, and said coldly, "Catch them!"

They must not get away with it! They had blatantly attacked Lucia and wounded Paul.

Did they think they could escape? Did they think Perfect Fortune was their territory? Hearing this, Burton immediately responded, "Yes, President Adams."

August stared at the screen and switched to the video recorded by the camera at the gate.

No one gave her the privilege of absenteeism. It was her fault that she was late for work, so she could not blame him for criticizing her.

Lucia knew she was wrong.

So, before August could reply, she took a deep breath and apologized, "I'm sorry, President Adams. I won't make the same mistake again"

Hearing her words, August swallowed the words on the tip of his tongue.

After a pause, he asked coldly, "Do you have anything to say about the leak of the plan?"

When Lucia heard this, her heart skipped a beat. She had planned to take the initiative to talk about this matter.

But now, August had asked about it first.

So, things had become hugely different.

As soon as he mentioned it, she was put in a passive state.

Since he had brought it up first, it meant he had already suspected her.

Gritting her teeth, she looked up at him and said word by word, "I sent the plan to Eaton according to your order. And I didn't do anything to harm the Lion group."

Her tone was affirmative without any hesitation.

Hearing this, August frowned slightly, and his expression became gloomier.

She looked quite righteous, but the leak of the plan must have something to do with her.

August lowered his eyes, picked up the pen on the table with his slender fingers, and asked coldly, "Did you know that the Flying Group signed the contract with JV Multinational Group?"

Hearing this, Lucia was slightly startled. She had heard of JV Multinational Group before.

It was not small, but its strength was inferior to that of the Lion group.

However, it also had resources and channels, so it was a rival that should not be underestimated.

Unexpectedly, they had gotten that seven-hundred-million-dollar project in the end.

She had never seen Lucia caring so much about Paul before.

They two became closer than before because her brother saved Lucia! It seemed that there was still possible that Lucia became her future sister-in-law! Upon hearing what she said, blushing, Lucia nudged her and said in a low voice, "Don't talk nonsense, Paula ."

Paula showed a smile with an understanding look and then shushed without saying anything else.

Seeing her like that, Lucia wanted to laugh.

And when she was about to make fun of her, a voice suddenly came from the door.

The door of the ward was pushed open by a young nurse, who was followed by August, the tall, cold-faced man.

Lucia was startled and froze in place.

Paula next to her raised her hand and poked her, "Lucia, he..."

How could that scumbag come here? Before they figured it out, August stepped forward and walked in.

The nurse in the ward just finished the inspection.

After cleaning the tray and telling something to Paul, she turned around, being about to leave.

By then, Paul raised his head and was stunned when he saw the man walking in.

August swept his eyes across the room lightly, and finally fell them on Paul.

He nodded to Paul slightly, "Hello, Mr. Thomas ."

Seeing August, Paul's eyes turned cold, and he politely replied, "Mr. Adams , what's the matter?"

They were not that close.

Obviously, August came over not to visit him.

Without beating around the bush, August got straight to the point, "I want to have a talk with someone. After that, I'll leave."

As he spoke, he turned to look at Lucia beside him, meaning so obvious without concealing anything.

Lucia gasped in fear for seconds before she stabilized her mind.

Seeing the man's bright black eyes on herself, Lucia, who was in a nervous mood, became even more upset.

In just a few hours in the morning during which the incident was exposed, the event sparked a discussion in the public with a master faster speed than what she imagined.

Even she could feel the urgency and pressure.

This was the first time she had experienced such a stressful time in the two years she had worked in the Lion group .

"Come here."

The man's low and magnetic voice sounded.

Lucia returned to her senses, met his eyes, and stepped forward.

After approaching him, she asked, "Mr.Adams, what do you want me to do?"

The man ordered, calmly, "You should reject all requests, including those from senior shareholders.You can tell them that I am thinking about remedies to protect the President's Office, understand?"

Lucia took a deep breath, feeling somewhat moved in her heart.

August said this to her, showing that he still trusted her. She raised her eyes to meet his, and nodded earnestly, "Okay, Mr. Adams."

Since he believed her, she would naturally help him by his side unconditionally.

With just a glance, the two seemed to have reached a consensus.

After Lucia left the office, August turned to look at Burton, "Go check it out who is secretly adding oil to fires and manipulating public opinions. Follow my order about what to be do next."

Burton cheered himself up and said immediately, "Yes."

"Well, you can leave down." August said, but Burton didn't mean to leave. He stood there, obviously wanting to say something.

The man sat in front of the desk, his face was not very good-looking, he paused for two seconds, and then raised his chin slightly, "Well, let her in."

When Lucia heard this, she turned around when she saw that Jeanne had come forward, smiled at her, and walked directly into the office.

The door closed, immediately blocking Lucia's vision, she took a deep breath, stabilized her emotions, and turned to the other side.

In the office, Jeanne stepped forward, a little aggrieved.

August looked up at her and asked in a light tone , "Why are you here?"

Jeanne 's eyes turned red instantly, "I didn't want to come here, for fear of causing trouble for you, but seeing the news this morning...I really can't sit still."

How can she rest assured ? In the early morning, she struggled again and again, and finally, she still came here.

First, because of the relationship between Adeline and August , she wanted to ask clearly, and second, she stopped by to check to see if Lucia had given her out.

She sniffed and asked aggrievedly , "August , those on the news aren't true, are they?"

August 's heart was unbearably irritable , he raised his hand and pressed his eyebrows, his voice became a little deeper, "Jean, is it true that you still don't know?"

He looked up at her, "Or, you also Did you believe those?"

Seemingly because his eyes were too intimidating, Jeanne 's back froze, and she hurried forward, reaching out and grabbing August 's arm, "August, I'm just too confused, I didn't believe you..."

With that, she looked like she was about to cry, so pitiful.

August softened a bit, reached out to hold her hand, and said softly, "I don't mean to blame you, don't think about it."

Hearing the voice on the other end of the phone, August 's face suddenly turned gloomy.

He tightened his brows and asked coldly , "I have already booked a hotel for my father to pick up the wind and dust, why did I suddenly return to the old house?"

Seeing to hear the displeasure in August 's tone, Bishop lightly explained with a chuckle, "Dad said he wanted to go back to see Grandma first, so he went back to the old house first."

August frowned, said nothing, hung up the phone, and turned to walk back.

Seeing this situation, Lucia quickly followed and asked, "Mr.Adams , what's the matter?"

"The person was picked up by Bishop and returned to the old house."

Saying that, they got into the car one after the other, and after instructing the driver, August tilted his head, stared at her with dark eyes, raised his lips and said, "If you don't want to go with me, I'll let the driver take you alone later.go back."

Although August didn't say a few more words, Lucia could feel the coldness emanating from him.

She took a deep breath and said in a businesslike manner , "It's okay, I'll go with you."

Hearing that, August didn't say anything more.

The black car sped all the way, and an hour had passed when it arrived at the old house.

The car stopped in the yard, got out of the car, Lucia quickly followed August and followed him through the gate.

When they got to the door, before they even went in, they already heard the sound of conversations coming from inside.

The moment she stepped into the door, Lucia saw that August 's back stiffened for a moment, and when she came back to her senses, someone had already walked in.

She hurriedly followed, and as soon as she looked up, she saw the people sitting on the sofa.

Except for the grandmother and Bishop and Bob in wheelchairs next to her, the other sitting on the sofa was a spirited middle-aged man, and he The woman beside her was well-maintained, gracefully dressed, and looked a dozen years younger than the man.

"Hey!"

The ground slammed down again with a whip! August 's brows furrowed, and his voice seemed to be squeezed from between his tightly clenched teeth, "Four!"

"Five!"

Lucia stood there, looking at the back covered with long scars, her hands were extremely cold, the red blood had stained the man's entire back, and the blood was terrifyingly blurred.

Grandma couldn't stand it any longer and stood up tremblingly , "Eliot ! Are you really going to beat my grandson to death!"

Blue veins burst on Eliot 's forehead, "There are national laws and family rules, he is not only your grandson, but also my son!"

He said, raised his hand again, and slammed it down!

"Eight!"

Grandma stood up abruptly and reached out to block, "Eliot , don't fight anymore!"

A further blow would really cost August half of his life.

At this moment, the man's forehead was covered with sweat, and his body was trembling slightly.

Eliot refused to step back, and said solemnly, "The plan leaked, the company's stock fell, and ten whips are not enough!"

After speaking, he turned back and ordered, "Joey , come and pull the old lady away!"

After hitting, he must hit enough, otherwise, where will the Adams family's family law be placed! The moment he raised his hand again, Lucia , who was beside him, suddenly gritted his teeth and rushed up to block August .

The whip of "Hey!" slapped her back directly.

Lucia groaned, a small face completely wrinkled.

At that moment, she only felt as if something tugged at her flesh and tore it violently.
