Chapter 281 She Was His Soft Spot

August frowned and said word by word, "Dad, I have my arrangements for the engagement."

Eliot said firmly, "It was up to you to make any arrangements before I came back. But now that I'm in Austos City, these things will naturally be arranged by me and Christina."

August's face darkened. He pursed his lips and fell silent. He knew his father's character. His father had always been arbitrary and stubborn. He never changed his mind.

It was because of his character that his mother did not see him for the last time before she died.

Recalling the past, August had a headache.

After a moment, he said coldly, "I won't agree to this."

He had already agreed to get engaged to Jeanne.

Wasn't it up to him to decide when to get engaged? August sounded firm, and Eliot was equally firm.

He snorted coldly, stared at August with sharp eyes, and said coldly, "Do you think I don't know anything? As for how much you have been involved with that girl Lucia, I've investigated it clearly, including the operation fee that you paid to the hospital for her father every month!"

August frowned deeply, raised his eyes, and looked at Eliot. His lips moved, but he didn't make a sound.

It seemed that his father had already checked it out, and even knew that he paid for the operation fee for the Mitchell family.

"If you don't agree with my arrangement, then the surgery fee for the Mitchell family must be cut off! August's heart tightened. He looked up at Eliot, and he suddenly felt a little more complicated. He knew very well what it meant to the Mitchell family if the operation fee was cut off. Now Professor Mitchell was preparing for the operation. The incident last time had delayed it and he couldn't afford to wait any longer.

If there was another accident this time, his situation would probably get worse.

Seeing that August was silent, Eliot continued, "August, you know me. I can't let my son's future be affected by others."

August knew clearly what his father was implying.

If he insisted on not agreeing, Eliot would probably do something to hurt the Mitchell family.

How could a man who had built the Adams Group with his own hands be someone with no means? August struggled a little and his eyes became darker and darker.

Finally, he said coldly, "I will follow your arrangement."

Eliot was threatening him, and he didn't have a choice.

Chapter 282 Why Can't You Tolerate Her?

"It's nothing."

Joshua smiled faintly at her, "Ms.Mitchell, I just want to remind you to know what you're doing."

"August and Jeanne were childhood sweethearts, and it is not easy for someone else to get in.Even if August is tender and considerate, the most important person in his heart is always Jeanne, and it will not change"

Hearing his words, Lucia was stunned.Her mind went blank.She was dazed and didn't recover for a while.

It was not until she heard Joshua call her name that she woke up, and her hands were cold.

Joshua was implying something.He was first referring to her involvement in August and Jeanne's relationship and then emphasizing the importance of Jeanne in August's heart.

He was warning her to know her position.

August didn't say these words himself, but Joshua was one of his very close friends.

For her, it was a heavy blow.

She took a deep breath and wrung her hands nervously, "So Joshua..."

"What I mean is, if you're August's secretary, then just do what you need to do.Don't ask more questions, and don't get involved in his personal life.Ms.Mitchell, you're a smart girl and I think you understand what I mean.

"Lucia took a deep breath, calmed down a bit, and felt a little depressed.

In the end, she said, "I understand."

"I'm glad you understand.Keep your distance, and it'll be good for both you and August."

With that, Joshua gave her a deep look and walked out of the ward.

The room suddenly became quiet.

Lucia looked at the lunch box in front of her and lost her appetite. It seemed that everyone around August thought she shouldn't stay by his side.

Whether it was Jeanne, Eliot, or Christina, they didn't want her to get too close to August.

August himself? Overwhelmed with disappointment, Lucia sat on the bed thinking about it, and when the nurse came to check on her injuries, she suddenly stopped the nurse and asked seriously, "With

The atmosphere seemed to freeze in the ward.

After a long while, August slowly reacted.

Joshua sighed lightly, "Forget it. Think about it yourself. Don't forget, you have a fiancée who you're about to get engaged to."

With that, he turned around and left.

August was the only one left in the room.

He kept thinking about Lucia's face.

Finally, he took a deep breath and suppressed all impulses in his heart.

It seemed that Lucia had been integrated into his life bit by bit in the most imperceptible way, and it was not easy for him to forget her.

It seemed that he really should concentrate.

At least now, when the company's various conditions were unclear, he was in no mood to think about other things.

He glanced at the phone next to him and picked it up.

As soon as he turned it on, he saw messages from Jeanne.

[August, are you feeling better?]

[I want to go to the hospital to see you, but I'm afraid to disturb you.]

[I'm really worried. Call me if you see the messages.]

August frowned slightly, and finally replied, [Come here.]

It happened that he also had something to ask her in person.

After receiving August's reply, Jeanne was so excited that she almost jumped up. She hurriedly changed her clothes and asked Mark to drive her to the hospital. the ward, she couldn't wait to push the door open and said with an finally willing bed and held August's hand, and her eyes instantly turned red, "I thought you I be mad words instantly made Jeanne awake looked up at August in panic, and quickly shook her head, "No, the last time I visited you, it affected your rest.I thought you didn't a smile and said, "Am I so petty I meant..."Jeanne's voice feel that you are colder to me than hand, pressed his eyebrows, and asked patiently, "Jeanne, I have something to ask of her eyes, and the bush, so he simply went straight to the point, "Does was slightly surprised and her a second, she hurriedly said, "August, how could it have anything to eyes became serious, "My man found out that you were in the car when Lucia went to deliver proposal, and I didn't know about it at all.August, what's in it for me to do this? He was a little confused.

At this moment, Burton pushed the door open and came in, "President Adams."

August came to his sense and nodded slightly, "How about the company?"

"The meeting will be held in an hour."

Burton reported, suddenly thinking of something, and hesitantly said, "Also, there is an emergency. The director of our company's Finance Department has had an accident. Due to some personal financial disputes, it was suddenly censored."

Hearing this, August suddenly turned cold and said, "Is it our men?"

Burton nodded and said, "Yes, it's Steven Selby who you specially transferred to the Finance Department."

The room suddenly became quiet, and August's face became more and more gloomy.

Although he was in charge of the company now, many people were loyal to his father Eliot in various departments of the company.

After he secured his position, he replaced some employees and arranged some of his confidants.

Unexpectedly, the man he had arranged in the Finance Department suddenly had an accident today.

Besides, it happened right before he was discharged from the hospital and returned to the company for a meeting.

There was something wrong, It was not that simple.

Possibly it was Eliot, but more likely it was Bishop.

August frowned, put on his suit jacket, buttoned it up, and said coldly, "Let's go back to the company."

After recuperating in the hospital for a few days, his wounds had healed a bit.

August decided to go back to the company. He didn't even have time to go back to the villa and went straight to the company for a return meeting. He had thought that Bishop would join the company in a relatively low-key manner.

But now it seemed that Bishop did the exact opposite.

The black Maybach was driving fast on the road.

Chapter 285 His Tie Was Crooked

He sounded so cold.

Lucia froze, and she looked at August speechlessly.

Seeing her slightly surprised face, August smiled and said, "A hypocritical person is most terrifying. Keep it in mind."

With that, he walked around her to the door.

Lucia was stunned for a moment, somehow feeling numb. She felt that August was different from usual, and she somehow felt sorry for him...

Lucia raised her head and saw that he was about to push the door open and walked out.

She suddenly thought of something and said, "Wait!"

She hurriedly chased after him and unconsciously grabbed his arm.

August looked back at her and raised his eyebrows, "What's wrong?"

Lucia took a deep breath and looked up at his chest, "Your tie..."

She had found just now that his tie was crooked.

After she reminded him, August realized that he had indeed pulled his tie just now when he was irritable, and he forgot to put it back. He paused and didn't say anything. He raised his eyes to look at Lucia with a faint smile in his eyes.

Under his gaze, Lucia blushed.

Seeing that it was getting late, she had to grit her teeth, stepped forward, and carefully straightened his tie.

August remained motionless, looking down at her. It seemed that because of her approach, he smelt a faint fragrance on her. He looked at her serious face and red lips, and his heart tightened.

Then, his eyes moved down.

When he glanced at her neckline, his eyes suddenly darkened a little.

It seemed that the neckline of her suit did not fit well.

From this angle, he could see some of her breasts and it was dazzling.

He swallowed, and a dark light flashed across his eyes.

Thinking of this, Lucia felt even happier.

She raised the corner of her mouth and tilted her head slightly to look at August, "You still believe in me, right?"

August was stunned.

Looking at the woman's smiling face, his heart tightened and beat fast.

Before he could answer, Lucia lowered her head, smiled, and said softly, "I understand. President Adams, if you don't mind, I'll go and do my work first."

After that, she turned around and walked out of his office. It was not until the door was closed that August came to his senses. His heart was still beating wildly out of control, and the woman's bright smile kept sticking in his brain.

That charming, lively, and inexplicably sweet...girl.

"Bang bang!"

There was a knock on the door, and Burton walked in quickly with a document in his hand.

When he saw August's expression, he suddenly exclaimed, "Mantis, you..."

August's tone was as cold as ever. He looked up at him, frowned impatiently, and asked, "What?"

Burton hesitated for a moment and said, "Your face is particularly red. Do you have a fever?"

August's face darkened when he heard that.

Did he blush? Why would he blush? He raised his eyes and looked at Burton gloomily, and asked, "Is that so?"

Burton nodded decisively and answered obtrusively, "Yes, it's really red, just like...When somebody is falling in love!"

Burton suddenly remembered Paula.

Sometimes, when he was with her, he would indeed blush, just like his president was now.

"What are you thinking about?"

August frowned unhappily, grabbed a document next to him, and threw it at Burton angrily.

Lucia took a deep breath and smiled at Paula, "Of course, it's time to move on. Now that August Adam will engage Emily, they'll have my blessing for sure!"

Although Lucia couldn't help feeling a lump in her throat, she didn't want her best friend to worry about her.

Paula knew Lucia's thoughts very well and didn't want to continue asking.

She patted the back of Lucia's hand and changed the topic, "When I get Jonathan's contact information, I will send it to you directly. Don't worry. To be honest, I also think that his style is quite suitable for Redeur."

Lucia nodded, then followed Paula and changed the topic.

After the meal, Paula asked Lucia to go shopping, and when the two separated and went back home, it was very late.

Early the next morning, Lucia received a message from Paula with the contact information of Jonason's agent.

Lucia was so excited that she almost jumped up. She sent several emojis to Anna to express her gratitude.

Soon after, Paula sent another message and a picture.

The message said, "This is Jonathan Black's schedule for the last week. There may be a little adjustment, but most of it is correct. Take a look, it might help."

Lucia immediately returned the message and started looking at Jonathan Black's schedule.

Recently, Jonathan Black has a drama to shoot and spends most of his time on the set.

After glancing at it briefly and packing up her things, Lucia went to work. She first finished the work at hand, then called Jonathan's agent during the break.

As soon as the phone was connected, Lucia immediately said, "I am the secretary of Lion Group, and I have a cooperation proposal that I want to..."

But a woman's cold voice interrupted her, "I'm sorry, but Jonathon Black is on a full schedule now, so we don't accept other cooperation for now."

"Can you give me two minutes? We want to invite Mr. Jonason to be the spokesperson for the fashion brand Redeur..."

Lucia was a little nervous, but she forced herself to follow August.

When they entered the office, she heard August say "Close the door"

"Okay."

Lucia obediently closed the door, feeling more uneasy.

Was it because she had been too arrogant in front of Lisa Miller, so he was going to criticize her for that? She was nervous and raised her head to look at August Adams and explained, "President Adams, I didn't do it on purpose just now. It's because she..."

Before she could finish explaining, the man's deep magnetic voice rang out, "Come here."

Lucia looked up and saw that August had taken out a paper bag from the cabinet next to him and put it on the table.

She was stunned for a moment, then stepped forward.

August raised his chin at her and said lightly, "Change your clothes first."

Hearing what he said, Lucia suddenly remembered that the back of her clothes was already dirty. She touched the wet clothes, took a deep breath, and looked at the paper bag on the table.

Seeing she didn't move, August raised his eyebrows and asked, "What are you waiting for? Do you want me to change it for you?"

Lucia took a deep breath and walked up to take the clothes out of the paper bag.

It was a set of light cyan suit dresses, and a short jacket with a skirt, the fabric was very luxurious, and the design was simple and elegant. She was slightly stunned.

After a moment of hesitation, she looked at August and asked, "Is this for me?"

The clothes were brand new, and even the brand tag had not been removed.

August picked up a document next to him, flipped through it, and answered casually, "If you take it, then it is yours."

Hearing that, Lucia hesitated.

Such a fine quality lady's suit, stored in August Adams' office, is in all probability for Jeanne Kelly, and it would not be good for her to wear it.

After thinking about it, she put down the clothes, looked at August, and said, "President Adams, I can wipe the stain after I come back to my office. It is not necessary to waste your clothes."

Hearing her words, August frowned and looked up at her, "What do you mean by waste?"

Lucia lowered her head and took a deep breath, "If Miss Kelly knows about it, I'm afraid she will misunderstand."

She got out of the subway and rushed to Studio. She thought that there wouldn't be too many visitors on a working day, but when she arrived, she realized she was too naive.

A large crowd surrounded the venue.

All of them were girls in their teens or twenties.

They huddled together, holding strips and mobile phones in their hands, discussing excitedly.

When Lucia saw the big words and the photos on the display boards, she realized what all these were about.

Those girls were all fans of Jonathon Black.

They surrounded the door and waited for Jason to come out so that they could see him.

Lucia squeezed into the crowd, but the young woman did not let her in because she did not look like a fan at all.

Lucia looked at the time anxiously. She couldn't get close to Jonathon at all.

How could she have the chance to talk to him about the endorsement? Lucia looked around and suddenly saw a few girls coming out of a bungalow, holding a support card printed with Jonathan's photo. She found that it was a place to make posters and display cards. She had an idea and quickly walked over.

The shop owner was a thin middle-aged man.

Seeing her, he smiled and asked, "Miss, whose fan are you?"

Lucia was stunned for a moment. She glanced at the assortment of display boards in the room and replied, "Jonathon Black."

"Haha, it seems like he has a lot of fans. I made dozens of his brands today!"

The owner pointed to the plate and asked, "There are different sizes, which one do you want?"

"I'll take the biggest."

Lucia found a photo on her mobile phone quickly, gave it to the owner, and asked, "I want you to print this photo."

The owner nodded with a smile and asked her to send the photos to the computer.

In less than ten minutes, a super-large display card was completed. It was printed with a handsome photo of Jonathan Black and has a width of one meter, which was really eye-catching.

Just now, she had checked around the crowd and found that all the girls were holding small brands which were convenient and easy to lift.

This accident not only shocked the fans around but also shocked Jonathan and his agent.

For a moment, everyone was staring at Lucia, but the target of people's attention was unaware of it.

Lucia frowned in pain, and her face was twisted together.

After a long time, she raised her head and saw that everyone around her was looking at her.

Lucia was shocked and her body was a little stiff. She turned her eyes and suddenly realized what was going on when she saw Gigi, who was standing in the crowd.

Just now, someone had pushed her.

Someone in the same direction as Gigi was now.

Lucia endured the pain in her knees.

When she was about to stand up, she suddenly heard footsteps approaching, and then a slender hand reached out to her.

"Are you alright?"

Lucia was lost in thought as she looked at her hands in front of her. She raised her head and saw Jonathan Black, the dream Prince Charming of thousands of girls, standing in front of her.

Lucia took a deep breath and let him pull her up.

All of a sudden, crazy screams came from the fans on both sides of the road.

Almost everyone wanted to switch to her at that moment.

Seeing that Lucia did not answer, Jonathan asked patiently, "Are you okay?"

Lucia took a deep breath, and immediately shook her head, "I'm...fine."

Although she said that, Lucia felt a burst of pain in her knees.

Jonathan looked down and glanced at the huge support board on the ground with a smile.
