Chapter 401 I didn't blame you

For a stable, that could be considered a major accident.

Lucia and August were already in the room when the general manager in charge of the stable arrived.

The doctor was doing an emergency examination on them.

Because this is an advanced stable, it is equipped with all kinds of facilities, including the best doctors.

The doctor gave Lucia an examination and helped her treat the bruises on her body.

Then he left an ointment for Lucia and left the room.

Just as the doctor reached the door, Paul, Timothy, and Janet couldn't wait to run into the room.

"Mommy!"

Both kids were crying and their eyes were red.

They flew to Lucia like two little butterflies, concerning her.

"Mom, are you okay?"

"Let me check your wound ..."

Lucia felt warmth in her heart.

She rubbed their little heads gently and said softly, "Don't worry, mommy is fine."

Lucia wasn't hurt much, because August held her in his arms when she fell off the horse.

Aside from the bruises, Lucia had no broken bones or misaligned bones.

After saying that, Lucia looked at Paul, who had a serious face, and said softly, "I'm okay, don't worry ..."

Paul forced himself to smile and looked down at the two children, bending down to comfort them gently.

"Didn't you say you would behave after seeing mommy? Look, how about you go to the living room, and I'll accompany your mommy, okay?"

Timothy and Janet wanted to stay with their mother.

They looked at each other and looked at Lucia, ending up nodding their little heads and leaving the room, holding hands.

After the door was closed, Lucia and Paul were the only two people left in the bedroom.

But for some reason, the atmosphere in the room was even colder than earlier.

Paul fell silent and sat on the edge of the bed.

After a long time, he held the woman's soft hand gently.

One second, two seconds, three seconds ...

After a long time, Paul raised his head finally.

Chapter 402 Keep him company

After an afternoon of recuperation, Lucia felt better.

To buy Lucia more rest time, Paul specially ordered a meal for Lucia and sent it to her room.

And he canceled the outdoor activities in the evening and turned them into indoor games.

After dinner, Lucia played with blocks with her kids for a while and then watched her two little kids play with the dancing machine.

Seeing her kids jumping around on the dancing machine, Lucia felt much better.

"I'll take Timothy and Janet to my room tonight, so you can get some rest well. And if you want to go home tomorrow, then we will go home."

After saying that, Paul picked up the teapot and poured Lucia another cup of warm tea thoughtfully.

Paul took care of Lucia thoughtfully the whole night.

And seeing that, Lucia felt the warmth inside. She nodded at Paul and said softly, "You are in charge"

They smiled at each other, and the atmosphere was inexplicably relaxed.

Paul clasped her hand on Lucia's shoulder and moved closer to Lucia slowly, and then closer ...

Everything was so natural and smooth, but just when Paul was about to touch Lucia's lips, Lucia shivered and subconsciously leaned back, keeping a distance from Paul.

Instantly, the atmosphere was no longer warm and relaxed, replaced by ice.

Looking at Paul's blank eyes, Lucia suddenly realized that she just did that subconsciously.

Feeling the awkwardness, Lucia took a breath and forced herself to smile and explain.

"Timothy and Janet are both here, we can't do that in front of them ..."

Paul nodded slightly and said softly, "It's my lack of consideration."

Saying that, he smiled and held her hand, jokingly saying, "The two little kids are like the third wheel."

But Lucia didn't feel joyful in her heart. She lowered her eyelids to hide her emotions.

Only she knew that the reason that she had just pushed Paul away was not that Timothy and Janet were here but a completely subconscious action from her ...

In other words, basically, she hadn't fully accepted Paul.

Thinking of that, Lucia felt more guilty about Paul.

Chapter 403 Was your gratitude so cheap?

Lucia sat on the edge of the bed and her back was stiff. She was so scared that she breathed carefully.

If it wasn't for the fact that August risked his life to save her this time, Lucia didn't want to stay there any longer.

About three minutes later, Lucia took a deep breath. She turned her head to look at August who was lying on the bed and said icily, "Well, it's getting late, I have got to go."

Staying there with August for a few minutes had run out of Lucia's patience.

But August suddenly gripped Lucia's wrist tightly with his uninjured hand and said rudely, "Lucia, is your gratitude so cheap that it is only worth three minutes?"

Lucia frowned and didn't know how to answer August.

Suddenly, Lucia was dragged backward by a force. She couldn't stand still and fell on August's chest, and then the distance between them suddenly got closer.

When Lucia looked up, she could feel the hot breath from August on the top of her forehead, which tickled her.

Lucia looked up at August's dark eyes.

Suddenly, her heart pounded and she felt her own body burning. It was ambiguous to be that close.

As long as August lowered his head slightly, he could kiss Lucia's forehead ...

Suddenly, Lucia felt that something blocked her view, followed by August pecking her gently on the lips.

At that moment, the atmosphere got subtle instantly.

Lucia was stiff and couldn't move, as if she had lost control of her body.

August looked down at the stunned woman who was in his arms. He rose the corners of his mouth and felt more joyful inside.

When Lucia hadn't figured out what was happening, August lowered his head and kissed her lips again.

Unlike the first kiss, this time the kiss was very soft and the time was getting longer, making Lucia infatuated with it ...

This time, August kissed Lucia completely out of instinct, without any hesitation. He just wanted to kiss her and have her at that moment ...

When August held her shoulder tightly, Lucia then realized what was happening.

She subconsciously pushed August away, trying to keep her distance from him.

"Get ...off me!"

Chapter 404 Her soft spot

Lucia gripped her cell phone and felt uneasy.

After the thing that happened yesterday, it must be awkward for them to meet now.

Lucia didn't understand why August wanted to see her. She took a deep breath and texted August back.

"I got no time."

Soon, Lucia's phone vibrated again.

"Are you sure you don't want to come?"

Lucia texted August back firmly.

"No."

"Okay, I hope you won't regret it."

Seeing the last message from August, Lucia felt a little strange. She could almost imagine August's cold and grim expression when he texted that message.

And then Lucia felt a little guilty.

Lucia felt as if August would do something to her if she didn't go to see him.

Lucia gritted her teeth and held her cell phone. She didn't know what to do.

At that moment, Paul smiled gently and asked, "What are you thinking about?"

Lucia turned her head and found that Paul was looking at her.

Her hand holding the phone tightened.

Then she shook her head after hesitating for a moment.

"Nothing. When are we leaving?"

"Pack the stuff and we'll be ready to go."

After saying that, Paul dotingly stroked Lucia's hair around her ear. He smiled softly and continued, "Timothy and Janet have packed their stuff. How about you?"

Seeing that, Lucia frowned and repelled Paul's sudden intimate gesture subconsciously.

Then she said softly, "I have done that, too."

Paul didn't notice that and nodded his head.

"Okay. I'll go to ask someone to bring the car over."

Then Paul left.

You were the one Lucia's body was stiff. She gritted her teeth and thought quickly. She looked up at August and said coldly, "Why has it to be me?"
There were many excellent directors in Austos City.
Lucia thought August could get a better director to produce the short film for his company.

August turned around and glanced at Lucia, saying in a flat tone, "Because I think you are the one."

August had seen Lucia's work, he thought the style of her work was the one he wanted.

Besides, he did that because of personal reasons.

Now the shooting work about Timothy and Janet was almost over.

As long as Janet was in a good state, they would finish the last set of photos soon.

And then, he couldn't use the excuse of work to make Lucia stay with him.

And he couldn't let Lucia leave before he figured something out.

Lucia clenched her fist and took a deep breath.

"It has to be me?"

August looked at Lucia deeply and said without hesitation.

"Yes, you are the one."

Hearing August's words, Lucia knew she had no other choice.

Lucia picked the contract up again and read it.

Then she took a deep breath and asked, "You will give me that video as long as I finish producing the short film?"

August nodded his head lightly and promised.

"Yes. And I won't keep the negative film."

Hearing that, Lucia gritted her teeth and said, "Okay, I will take the job."

She didn't care what August's purpose was, the most important thing Lucia thought now was to get that video and then destroy it, otherwise, that video would be like a time bomb that would explode and ruin her life anytime.

The thing that happened last night was a mistake that was caused accidentally by her, but she didn't want the rest of her life to be ruined because of it. So she had to pay for her mistakes.

Lucia double-checked the contract.

"August, are you doubting me?"

Before August could reply, Jeanne started crying.

Jeanne looked aggrieved and couldn't stop crying.

"August, why would I tell dad about this kind of thing? Even if you are still fond of Lucia in your heart, I am okay with that ..."

Seeing that, August frowned and felt impatient inexplicably.

At one time, he would soften when he saw Jeanne crying.

But now, he would only feel impatient about it.

"August ..."

Jeanne then held August's wrist.

August frowned more and took his hand back from Jeanne's hand. He took something out of his pocket and threw them on the table.

August glared at Jeanne and said coldly, "Then how do you explain this?"

Jeanne inhaled a breath and stiffened, looking at the table.

Those are some photos with blurry figures on them.

It was a man who was in black cloth and wore a cap that could cover most part of his face.

But Jeanne could recognize the man in the photo when she just took a glance because that was her capable subordinate, Mark! Jeanne was stunned for a moment, but instantly, she had an innocent expression on her face again.

She looked at August and asked, "August, what are these?"

August narrowed his eyes and watched Jeanne's expression. He pursed his lips coldly and didn't respond.

Jeanne felt guilty very much as August kept staring at her.

Since August didn't respond to her, she picked those photos up deliberately and looked at them one by one.

The last one was the clearest, she could see the man's face clearly.

Chapter 407 Whoever strikes first will get the advantage Joshua's words indicated that Ethan did show up again.

August was stunned a little. He leaned back against his chair slightly and narrowed his eyes, said coldly, "Report the latest news about him."

Hearing that, Joshua frowned instantly.

"August, you know this is a violation of discipline."

It seemed that August knew that Joshua would say something like that, he said in a flat tone, "You know that, even if you don't tell me now, I will know it in the end."

Hearing that, Joshua was a little angry.

"What do you want to do? Even if I tell you where he is now, what are you going to do?"

August fell silent and didn't say anything more.

Since he didn't defeat Ethan completely five years ago, August knew clearly that Ethan now was like a time bomb that would explode anytime and hurt him.

Now, since Ethan showed up again in Austos City, August thought that Ethan had been watching him all the time without a doubt.

Since he didn't know where Ethan was but Ethan knew about him clearly, August thought Ethan would take revenge on him anyway.

Whoever strikes first will get the advantage.

August looked at Joshua with mixed looked in his eyes.

"We both know clearly what kind of person he is. I might be killed by him tomorrow or other days."

Hearing August's very cold words, Joshua shivered inexplicably.

Actually, August was right.

Ethan was insidious and vengeful. He would definitely take revenge on August since he was defeated by August that very year.

Joshua picked the glass up and poured a glass full of wine himself, drinking off it.

The spicy liquid passed through the throat and chilled the stomach instantly.

Joshua frowned. He put the glass on the table hard and looked at August.

"August, I will give you the information about him ..."

When Joshua didn't finish speaking yet, August already understood what he was going to say and nodded.

"I got it."

Then August patted Joshua on the shoulder.

"Don't worry. I won't make it hard for you."

Joshua didn't respond.

Chapter 408 It Wouldn't Make Much of A Difference

The story of Jeanne's wrist cutting somehow reached the ears of the Kelly family.

Martin took Mrs.Kelly, Merlin, and a group of people to the hospital in a hurry.

As soon as they saw Jeanne's condition, they made a big scene in front of August.

But he wasn't powerful enough after all.

The Kelly Group had to rely on Lion Group in business.

After Martin complained and blamed August, he put on the airs of a generous father-in-law and expressed his forgiveness to August in a grand manner.

Before leaving, he brought up an order intentionally.

August didn't hesitate and made a phone call to the company, and the order naturally belonged to the Kelly Group.

As soon as they left the hospital and got into the car, Burton couldn't help but say, "President Adams, you know what Martin is doing.Why did you agree with him? If this order is given to the Kelly Group, it will not benefit us at all."

"I know."

Sitting in the back of the car, August picked up the tablet computer and looked at the trend of the stock market.

He said in a low voice, "He didn't come this time for his daughter.He wouldn't leave unless he gets some benefit."

Martin was extremely patriarchal, and Jeanne was just a cash cow in his eyes.

He was not stupid enough to publicize this kind of family scandal.

But he was most curious about how the Kelly family had known that Jeanne cut her wrist.He knew Jeanne well, and she wouldn't tell others about this kind of thing, let alone the Kelly family, but the Kelly family somehow knew it.

Jeanne's surprise when she saw them come over didn't seem to be fake.

With everything that had happened, he couldn't figure it out.

Suddenly, his phone vibrated.

It was a message from Joshua, [Everything is ready.

Come to the wine cellar] August's eyes darkened and he immediately told Burton to turn around and head to the wine cellar.

Chapter 409 It's A Serious Matter About Work

The car door was closed.

Without waiting for Lucia to answer, the car started and drove into the main road.

The car door was locked.

Lucia pulled it a few times but couldn't open it, and suddenly became a little anxious, "Where are you taking me?!"

"You'll know when we arrive." August said calmly, "It's a serious matter about work."

Hearing what he said, Lucia became quiet.

She took a deep breath and asked suspiciously, "Is it related to the public welfare short film?"

August leaned on the backrest and nodded.

When Lucia heard this, she was at a loss for words. She had been idle at home in the past few days. She couldn't wait to start work as soon as possible. She was planning to leave immediately after she got the video.

But she hadn't expected to meet August by accident today.

Since he said it was work-related, she didn't have any reason to reject it.

Along the way, the atmosphere in the car was terrifyingly silent until her phone rang, and broke the silence.

The childlike and cute ringtones keep ringing, which was the exclusive ringtone set by Lucia for Timothy and Janet.

Before she could take out her phone, August stared at her from the side.

Lucia's heart tightened and she looked over subconsciously.

When she saw August's faint smile, she took a deep breath and said, "Is there a problem?"

August glanced at her lightly, and said, "Childish."

Lucia got angry. She wanted to refute it, but she didn't dare to.

Chapter 410 It's Very Dangerous Here

They arrived at Star Venue.

Before getting off the car, Lucia saw a bright light outside the window.

In Star Venue, as its name suggested, all kinds of lights were turned on, sparkling like a galaxy with bright stars when it was getting dark.

A lot of cars were parked on both sides of the gate, and all the guests entered through the gate in an orderly manner.

After pushing open the door and getting off the car, Lucia walked towards the gate with August.

Thinking of her relationship with August, she consciously slowed down and kept her distance from him.

Unexpectedly, just after walking a few steps, August suddenly slowed down.

He turned his head slightly to look at her and said, "You're walking so slowly. Don't you want to go?"

Lucia was slightly surprised and quickly shook her head in denial while quickening her pace.

Unexpectedly, such a subtle movement of hers was noticed by August. She didn't want to go with August.

But when she thought that it was working and the video was in his hands, she had to grit her teeth and compromise.

When they walked into Star Venue, she found that all the layouts in the hall were designed in a minimalist style.

At first glance, it was bright and comfortable.

There were white round tables at intervals in the hall for the guests to stand at for drinking and chatting.

Lucia's attention was so focused on the layout of the scene that she didn't even notice that as soon as they entered the hall, the eyes of the people around were all fixed on them.

A handsome man and a beautiful woman were the most eye-catching and beautiful scenery when they appeared.

More importantly, August was like a walking business card, attracting a lot of attention wherever he went.

Someone came up, greeted August politely, and chatted with him.

Lucia stood by, listening to their greetings with little interest.

In the next hour, through August's introduction, Lucia received business cards from many well-known directors and professionals in the industry.

After walking around, she also met several like-minded people, and she gradually became more interested.
