Chapter 455 Paula Had a Car Accident

in front of the museum was a wide square and Jeanne's car was parked on the side of the road. As soon as she stepped on the gas pedal, the car went straight out

She gripped the steering wheel tightly, and the car was going faster, getting closer to the three of them

Today, even if she did it herself, she would not let these two kids go back safely!

Paula turned her head. Looking at the thugs subdued by the bodyguard in the distance, she was secretly relieved and unconsciously slowed down her pace, gasping for breath, "Timothy, Janet, you "

Before she could finish her sentence, she saw a black shadow flying toward her, and when she looked up, she saw a car crashing rapidly toward them.

Timothy, Janet also saw it and was completely stunned Shocked, Paula immediately reached out and pushed the two little ones out of the way, scrambling to the side herself.

But with her steps disordered, before she could dodge, the car crashed over like a headless fly

With a loud bang, she was bumped directly out of two meters and then fell to the ground with a bang

At that moment, the world in Paula's eyes became slow, spinning up and down

Jeanne, sitting in the car, was not expecting to hit Paula, and she froze when she saw Paula lying on the cold concrete with blood slowly spreading underneath her

In an instant, she regained her senses, but her brain was blank, and only when she saw passersby in the distance approaching this way did she react with a jolt.

She gripped the steering wheel tightly, stepped on the gas pedal in a panic, and drove away fast

On the cement floor, Paula only felt her body numb as if it had been hollowed out The sensation in various parts of her body became weaker and weaker, and in a trance, she saw Timothy and Janet lying beside her, crying. "Auntie Auntie

As passersby gathered nearby, Timothy stood up crying. "Aunts and uncles, please call 120*

Someone called the police and someone started calling for help With so much noise all around, Paula passed out and couldn't see anything
