

Submit 459

Chapter 459 Retaliation for Retribution!

Recently Kelly Group flourished

Martin Kelly was a typical businessman who would do everything to achieve his goals

Since his daughter married August, he got a lot of conveniences, either openly looking for resources, connections, and projects from August, or secretly making money

Under the banner of Lion Group, he sought cooperation and completed many goals For these actions of his, August turned a blind eye Coupled with the recent turmoil in the Lion group, he had no time and energy to think about the Kelly Group

Martin took advantage of this opportunity to quickly create Kelly's fashion brand in an attempt to get a piece of the pie from

Lion Group's brands in the Austos market

Now, he held another so-called ribbon cutting ceremony and invited August several times who finally agreed to hold it at the entrance of their first offline store in Austos City

August attended, so naturally, Jeanne would also want to go

Early in the morning, she went to the styling studio She did her hairstyle for three hours, put on makeup for two hours, and attended the event in a long gown and jewels She looked like a female star

After all, August accompanied her to attend the ribbon cutting ceremony at her parents house. She was courageous in front of the media.

At this moment, her nervousness and anxiety caused by the accident a few days ago dissipated. She was too immersed in excitement She arrived on time and accompanied August to appear in front of the crowd and the media

Many people came to participate in the ribbon-cutting ceremony Many of them came because of August In addition, the ceremony was held in the open space outside the store, which attracted many people to watch

Along the way, she greeted many influential people one after another, and the atmosphere at the scene became hotter and hotter Martin was in high spirits. He did his best to greet everyone circled to take pictures and at Martin's feet, grabbed his trousers with both hands, and shouted, "Mr. Kelly! Give me justice!" The woman who broke in surprised everyone. Martin frowned and subconsciously took two steps back. He are you? Did you come here to make to look at the security guards on the side the crowd, trying hard and shouted again, "Mr. Kelly! Your son killed my son! He hit him with a car! You have to give me justice! Give me the

around him heard this, their complexions changed and Jeanne's aside. He looked calm, but looking closely his talking about?" Martin paled in shock, and immediately called the security guard, a car half a year ago! He paid me a sum of money and sent me away! He drove me out of Austos! I've been running around since then and it's been so long frantically pressed the shutter in their ribbon-cutting ceremony, it could be said that every trembled in anger as he shouted coldly, "Nonsense! Take this lunatic away from me quickly! Otherwise, call security guards rushed up to each side of the woman as they tried to restrain her. However, the woman her hand with red eyes, and pointed at Martin, "Martin! You have no How many people have you and the Kelly Group harmed? Don't you know? Those souls will hunt you! It's up to you! Heaven will punish you!"

guards held her arms and dragged her away. The woman's voice was so sharp that her words became distorted. The misery and sadness in body went stiff as she felt cold at that moment. Her face became as white of the crowd while wearing a black dress as she got Jeanne was still guilty of anything, why would she be someone and used his power to cover it up. Three days ago, she suddenly remembered this, so she asked Paul to send someone to find the relatives of the victim. They specially arranged for her to attend the ribbon-cutting ceremony and make a scene.

lesson. Even if the car accident mentioned by the woman had nothing to do with Jeanne, this ticked things were not as simple as she thought. Lucia was almost certain that the car accident had something to do with ached even more side. Lucia frowned slightly, and when she raised her head,