Chapter 483 I was on your side

Lucia's expression changed She took a deep breath and had mixed emotions.

A few seconds later, Lucia calmed down. She turned to look at August and said, word by word, "Why didn't you answer my call?"

They agreed to work together, but he didn't respond to her until now

August took the towel and wiped his wet hair, asking slowly, "Would you like a beer?"

As he said that, August walked to the refrigerator to take two bottles of beer. He opened them and put them on the table. Seeing that, Lucia was a little angry "August, did you get the evidence or not?"

They had made a deal before. She was responsible for letting Jeanne know the things about Hallie Bruns, while he was responsible for keeping an eye on Jeanne.

If Jeanne was the mastermind, she definitely would do something after she knew that Hallie Bruns had told the truth August took a sip of the beer slowly and said in a flat tone, "Well, She called Mark after she got home, and Burton has found the black box Basically, she was the one who drove the car and hit the people"

Hearing that, Lucia was shocked

Although she had already doubted Jeanne, she still was shocked when she knew the truth.

According to what August said, with the evidence, Jeanne would go to jail. And they could finally vindicate Hallie Bruns and get justice for Paula

She asked in a hurry, "Where is the evidence? Did you give it to the police?"

August frowned slightly, his expression serious. He paused for a moment and said softly. "Not yet"

Seeing August's expression, Lucia suddenly felt a little uneasy. She took a breath and asked, "Why?"

August put the beer down and said in a flat tone. "I have divorced her, and that's punishment for her. As for what to do after that, why don't we wait until Paula wakes up and then decide?*

Lucia was startled and understood almost instantly "So, you're not going to give the evidence to the police?"
