

Submit 499

Chapter 499 His Body Is Gone

No one could change what Lucia had decided to do.

After talking to Timothy and Janet, she took them to the earliest flight to Austos the next morning. That afternoon, when they arrived at their destination, Lucia brought Sensasha to West Bridge. Elisa was surprised when she opened the door. She didn't expect that her daughter, who she met in the video yesterday, would suddenly come back with her grandchildren. today.

"Why, why are you back?"

Lucia was a bit tired, but she still forced herself to smile and said half-jokingly, "What? You don't welcome us?"

"What are you talking about? How can I not welcome you back?"

Elisa smiled and pulled the two little guys into the house. Lucia took a deep breath and followed them. Even though she had arrived in Austos, the uneasiness in her heart still did not disappear.

While Timothy and Janet were playing, Lucia pulled Elisa aside. Elisa saw her serious face and guessed what she wanted to say. She asked, "You want to ask about August?"

Taking a deep breath, Lucia knew that she couldn't hide it from her mother, so she nodded and admitted, "Yes, what's going on with the Adams family?"

The more Lucia listened, the angrier she became, but in the end, when she thought about it, the version her mother had learned was certainly not quite as true. After all, what they knew was what others wanted them to know. In the evening, she left West Bridge and bought a new mobile phone and a new card. She searched through all the news on the Internet, trying to find a breakthrough. She could not believe that August had died just like that. Moreover, she was increasingly suspicious that Bishop had something to do with all these things.

After reading some news, her eyes were a little sore. Suddenly, something flashed through her mind. She paused, picked up her new phone, and called the phone she had lost at the airport. The call went through, but after a few beeps, no one

Just as she was about to give up, someone picked up the delighted and the other end of the line. Lucia was stunned. She noticed that something was wrong and quickly sure that the phone was still connected, she quickly put it to her ear and asked felt a chill in her heart. She felt that the person on the other voice suddenly came from the phone. It seemed to be far away, so she could barely hear it.

words, she hung up the phone without hesitation. Lucia's heart pounded. She felt that the woman's voice on the other end of the floor of the villa in the suburbs, Bishop looked at the woman in front cold gaze.

before she came in, but she suddenly broke in today. She didn't know that Bishop was on the phone, and judging from his walked to him and grabbed his hand. The two seemed as sweet as ever, but Mandy could feel Bishop was preoccupied and somewhat gloomy.

"No need."

was the only one in the panted and pushed his way in, "Young master, we still he clenched the wine glass placed

Can't you what to say. Back then, they beat August half to death. To into the backwoods of Green Mountain. However, the next day, he sent someone to look for August's body, but

August had been beaten like that, and there was absolutely no way he could have escaped again! But why couldn't you said? His just use it as an excuse. How could had passed away. Therefore, he found a prisoner in prison who was sentenced to death and took that man's body. However, as long as August's body was not found, he would not feel safe! Bob paused for a moment and said, "I'll ask them to keep