

Submit 525

Chapter 525 Is She In Captivity?

In an instant, the entire room fell deathly silent. A few seconds later, Lucia gritted her teeth and left. With a bang, the door closed. August's tensed body suddenly relaxed. He lowered his head and was immersed in complicated emotions. In the last month of recuperation in the Temple, he thought about a lot, including his legs. If his legs really couldn't recover, what kind of identity would he be when he returned and faced everyone? What would she think about? At that moment, the door was pushed open and Joshua walked in. Looking at the dark room, he couldn't help but frown and turn on the light. When he saw August lowering his head, he was stunned and asked, "What's wrong, August? Did that woman say something to you?"

August looked up at him and said, "Joshua, tell me. Was it a good choice for me to return to Austos?"

Losing his legs also made him lose his previous life. He was reborn but was deprived of many privileges.

Joshua frowned slightly and suddenly became serious. He sat down beside him, "August, your idea is very dangerous!" In the past, August was manful, and never denied himself. But now, he is a completely different person. Joshua said earnestly, "Why did you say that? Of course, you should come back and let Bishop experience everything you suffered these days! You must take back what belongs to you! Also, Mr. Makoto was killed by him. Don't you want to take revenge!? What's more, Bishop has controlled Old Madame now!"

Joshua's words made August sober up. Yes, he was right! Even if it was for the sake of his family, and his benefactors, he couldn't give up just like that, and he couldn't lose his resolution to rise again from the ashes!

Thinking of the woman who ran out just now, he paused slightly and asked, "Where is Lucia?"

Joshua replied truthfully, "She ran out just now and was caught and brought in again. She doesn't seem to be in a good mood. She is in the bedroom now."

Hearing this, August fell silent for a moment. After a while, he said softly, "Joshua, contact Kylan in your name and ask them to come here today." Joshua nodded and immediately left.

After he left, August fell silent again. He picked up a dart from the table next to him and threw it at the disc on the wall. "Swoosh!" The dart hit the center of the red heart. At the same time, something flashed through his mind. Before his

he had investigated a person, and it seemed that a to August's bedroom. She sat on the sofa and did not resist. On the calm. When she came out of August's bedroom, she was angry. However, as she slowly calmed down, still thinking about the first time that she had seen August in a wheelchair. For a depressed. It was at this moment that someone walking in.

took a deep glance at him and waited for him to speak. Burton said you can tell me if you need anything."

snorted, "You intend before replying, "That's not what the president meant."

said sarcastically, "Then what does he mean? He thinks that I here?"

long time, he walked up to her having a hard time recently. Maybe you don't know it, but the President has experienced including..."

of compassion flashed happened to a moment and then said, "Bishop did it. He wanted to break his legs and let him experience this before killing him."

but Lucia felt a sudden chill what

continued to explain, "Later on, after he and Mr. Denko bit him, they left him in the deep over to save him. For his safety, he settled him in Evergreen Mountain Temple. He has been more than a him mention the Evergreen Mountain Temple, Lucia unconsciously clenched her