

Submit 527

Chapter 527 Looking at Her with New Eyes

Zane didn't think much about it but told him whole the story in detail, saying, "Since I learned Lucia has come back from abroad, I have been secretly protecting her. Once, she met Ms. Kelly in the hospital, and then they quarreled..." Hearing what had happened to Lucia and Jeanne behind the rockery in the hospital, August unconsciously frowned. Unexpectedly, Jeanne was even more ruthless than he had thought. If he hadn't heard Zane say it with his own ears, he wouldn't have believed it at all...

Zane specifically related how he had met Lucia and told her his identity and why they had decided to look for August together extremely specifically.

When he was talking about them looking for clues together, Kylan couldn't help interrupting, "Actually, I began to admire Lucia when we were in Evergreen Temple. None of us had expected to meet Ethan there..."

Hearing him mention Ethan, August immediately thought of what Lucia had said when meeting him today. It turned out that she did have encountered Ethan...

August was stunned for a short while and quickly asked, "What happened at that time?"

When Kylan related what had happened vividly, August's heart was racing to the rhythm of the story. He had not expected her to be so courageous. Under such circumstances, she had remained calm in the face of danger. Now, he was looking at her with new eyes.

The girl who was flustered whenever problems cropped up had disappeared. Now, Lucia's state of mind and cleverness had improved to a higher level. Realizing this, he inexplicably felt gratified. When he heard Kylan talk about how they had looked for him in Evergreen Temple together, August frowned slightly and had a strange feeling.

If what Kylan and Zane had said was true, it was just a coincidence that they had gone to Evergreen Temple that day because they had not even known he was there. But why had Bishop gone there to look for him so soon? All the clues pointed to that Bishop had followed Lucia to the temple. If Lucia had not known he was in the temple, why had Bishop been so sure of his whereabouts? These clues had led him to a dead end, so he could not figure it out now. August had a headache, so when listening to Kylan and Zane speaking, he was absent-minded.

"Mr. Adams!"

Hearing Kylan's call, August came back to his senses. Kylan then asked, "Next, should we still stick to your plan?" August nodded with a stern expression, "Yes, do what I said. Don't let Bishop notice anything. And ensure her safety."

responded in unison, "Yes, Mr.

"Okay! You guys go get

August stayed alone in the yard for a so he could not allow the latter to initiative from the very beginning.

into the house, he subconsciously looked in the eating, ignoring is ready. Would dinner specially prepared for him on the table next to Lucia, hesitated for a and nodded, "Okay."

put down her fork, stood up, done eating. It's walked

When he raised his eyes and glanced at the porridge on the dining table he frowned slightly. Lucia had not finished her food. She had left because she didn't want to together with him!

unwilling to have a meal with him. Even though he was furious, he suppressed his anger and had dinner in silence.

relationship between him and Lucia had become so alienated. At first, they had misunderstood each other, but the misunderstanding had long been removed.

willing to decided to stop thinking about such trivial things. Now, his priority was to figure out how to deal with Bishop in and dim

too much during the day, she tossed and made a call to Paul and turned off her phone after hanging up. At night, when his

had work to do and couldn't go back to West Bridge and asked her to take care of Timothy and Janet.

Elisa had not asked any questions but sent her a video. In the video, Elisa was urging Timothy and