

Submit 528

Chapter 528 Don't Get Ahead of Yourself!

August frowned slightly, watching her every move. After Lucia put the wheelchair aside, she walked toward him.

August frowned slightly and said coldly, "It's none of your business. Leave me alone! Go back to your bedroom to sleep." Hearing his words, Lucia was annoyed, so she frowned, "Leave you alone? Do you think I should watch you die?"

Her tone was also cold, so August frowned when he heard it and then said, "You..."

Although his face blushed with anger, Lucia said casually, "Don't get ahead of yourself."

Then, she walked behind him and stretched her two arms through his armpits, intending to pull him up from behind. In an instant, August showed an annoyed and embarrassed expression, and he frowned uncontrollably. He had never been treated like this before. Now he could not even stand up or walk by himself. At the thought that he needed a woman to help him do such simple things, he felt discomfited.

He was an adult with long hands and legs, so he was heavy. After Lucia finally pulled him up, she gritted her teeth and tried to drag him back with difficulty. She wanted to put him into the wheelchair but could not move him at all. Her cheeks instantly flushed with exertion. She continued to drag him back with great effort but still could not move him.

to the wheelchair.

August frowned, "Enough! Put me down. Leave me alone."

Hearing this, Lucia snorted disdainfully, "If I leave you alone, you will lie here all night."

Then, she tried to drag him again, moved little by little, and finally put him in the wheelchair.

After accomplishing the mission, she let out a long sigh of relief and straightened her clothes that had been wrinkled when pulling him just now. Then, she raised her eyes to look at August sitting in the wheelchair with a gloomy face and asked, "Where are you going? I'll wheel you there."

August's face became even gloomier. His broken legs were his unspeakable pain, but she kept rubbing it in. So, he said coldly with a frown, "I'll go there by myself."

Lucia raised her eyebrows, hesitated for a moment, and then said indifferently with you want

she turned around

took

plank on the stairs, and slowly pushed the wheelchair.

armrest. Just now when he had been going down, the wheelchair suddenly accelerated due to gravity, and then he slowly.

always been accompanied by others. But now, he wanted to learn to operate the wheelchair by himself and adapt down the slope, it accelerated again due to gravity. But its pulling it.

to his senses and asked, "Didn't you go back to your bedroom?" "I lied." Lucia follow behind you."

the wooden plank on the stairs. When August that he was speechless. She was particularly good at angering through the hall and walked to had asked him where he wanted to go just now, he wanted to go to the small garden to get some fresh air?

you know I want to

I

difficulty falling asleep at night." Hearing he couldn't sleep well every

even couldn't sleep

he decided to come out for a walk and think about his from behind, "August, your grandma is very worried about you. Have you Evergreen Temple?"

pursed his lips and a frown, "Why haven't you called her?

remembered the scene when she had met Olivia in the cemetery. The and begged her to help look for him in a faint