

Submit 534

Chapter 534 August's "Resurrection"

The news that Olivia Adams had been hijacked by a group of people at the entrance of the hospital swept through Austos City like the wind. It had caused a heated discussion on the Internet, and everyone was guessing who had kidnapped her, but no one could give the right answer.

Recently, the Adams family had suffered many disasters. First, the head of the Adams family had disappeared, and then his eldest son had passed away. Not long after that, Olivia had been kidnapped in public. The strange things made many people suspect Bishop who was the only person left of the Adams family and the current president of the Lion Group. When the media were crowding around the Lion Group and waiting for Bishop to show up and make a statement, he was contemplating in the president's office.

Bob reported the latest situation to him, saying, "There are more and more reporters downstairs. What should we do now?"

Bishop pursed his lips and said in a deep voice, "We will do nothing. The bigger the trouble became, the more benefit we will get."

"But some media are taking the opportunity to spread rumors that the recent incidents of the Adams family are related to us because you are trying to seize power..."

Even though Bob didn't finish his words, Bishop knew what he meant clearly.

"It doesn't matter. I've let the PR department hire some paid supporters online, so public opinion will be reversed soon. It is only a matter of time. August will show up sooner or later. Once the media find out it is August that kidnapped Olivia, they will have a bad impression of his return. And this is exactly what we want." After a pause, he pursed his lips and continued with a smile, "If so, the shareholders of the company will not back him, and the netizens will not support him either. He will get on a limb helplessly, while we will firmly grasp what belongs to us."

Bob thought of something, hesitated for a while, and finally said, "But Mandy is still in his hands now..."

Bishop's expression suddenly became serious, and his smile disappeared. At the same time, his body was emanating chilly vibes, and his gentle and smiling eyes instantly became sharper. After keeping silent for a while, he finally said expected that August would attack Mandy or wanted to say something but swallowed the words on the tip of his tongue. But after hesitating for a while, he still said softly, "I'm glad of the Adams family who had "died", would post a video on Twitter. And in this video, he explained his "resurrection" to netizens and media and told them what had happened to him since his outside world, so he did not know what had happened outside. He then apologized to everyone for wasting public social resources and promised to return after he fully recovered. Finally, he mentioned the matter of Olivia and said it amount of information, so various media were paying special attention, and many netizens were discussing this matter. Therefore, it soon became the screen, his face turned pale with anger. He had wanted to win the public-opinion battle by making use of Olivia's kidnapping, but he had not. expected August still. The people in the company who were unwilling to stand on Bishop's side suddenly had a backer, so they began to make trouble for him that time, public opinion would be clenched his fists. He had held good cards but had unexpectedly played the game badly. He gritted his teeth and raised his

on Twitter

what are we

said through gritted teeth, "We must not lose still have the trump card. If he could not get the Lion Group, August would never get it either! But he had not expected August to contact him so soon. During the next two days, the people in Austos were having a heated discussion about August, but he was leisurely and contentedly accompanying Olivia in the villa, reading the scriptures or planting flowers.