

Submit 548

Chapter 548 Comrade-In-Arms

Jeanne was so pissed off. She had never been treated like this before. She was scolded and beaten and was almost raped. Looking at Mr. Wilcox's fading figure, she cursed angrily, "Scum!"

Suddenly, she felt a strange gaze land on her. Looking up, she found Bishop staring at her smilingly.

Jeanne cast him a scornful glance and was to walk away.

Though the Kellies and the Adams were close to each other in the past, and she had known Bishop since he was admitted. as an Adams, she didn't have a good impression of Bishop. When she was Mrs. Adams, she only followed behind August and didn't have much contact with Bishop.

Later, when Bishop replaced August and made Martin his henchman, she disliked Bishop even more.

She was surprised that he would stand up for her.

At this moment, Bishop's chuckle was heard and he said, "Rush to leave?"

Jeanne stopped. She turned around to look at him coldly and said in a not-so-friendly tone, "Or?"

Stay here to be beaten in the face?

Bishop smiled. "But you will have to wait."

The man suddenly reached out to her cheek. Jeanne was stunned. Before she could react, the man had gently smoothed the Ban-Aid on her face with his index finger.

Then, he said, "How did you get these wounds? Your perfect face will be marred by the scar."

His words reminded Jeanne of what happened when she went to find August. She angrily clenched her fists and gritted her teeth. She was so eager to find Lucia right now and cut that bitch into pieces.

If it wasn't for Lucia, she wouldn't have had such scars. And she wouldn't have been humiliated by those scums. Bishop had guessed what had happened at the sight of Jeanne's displeased look. He smiled and said, "Well, seems to be related to my brother."

bull in the eye. Jeanne sniffed in anger and said to she remembered something, asked, "My dad forced me to see a psychiatrist. You found that doc, didn't Jeanne was to leave but suddenly Bishop broke into

of which, we can be turned to him and asked, "What do you in his eyes. "Didn't you want than anything. Hearing this, Jeanne changed into a serious expression. Her eyes became deep her expression. He gradually produced a smile. "What a coincidence, I also want to get rid of west and the darkness of night gradually shrouded the city. When Lucia woke up, she had already missed the time for sitting in the wheelchair beside the hospital down at his arms, which had been dressed. White gauze wrapped his wounds layer by layer.

deep breath and wondered if she should wake him up.

to be having a nightmare. Lucia was surprised by his anxious sleeping look. She never

"No!"

He widened his saw Lucia, he seemed to have been poured water on, and calmed down immediately and retained composure. Lucia hesitated for a moment before asking, his head and

and looked depressed. Perhaps it was because of the

she asked, "What was

was, it made him

lips. After seconds of hesitation, he answered, "I dreamed to comfort him

she was also involved in know that August found Evergreen Meditation Yard because of her. She was either followed or betrayed by one of her companions that failed to find August in Evergreen Meditation Yard but even brought Mr. Makoto and the