

Submit 554

Chapter 554 The People That I Owe Them Too Much

Lucia Mitchell took a deep breath, staring at Zane and said seriously, "Zane, please ask Kylan Connor to see if he has any friends to introduce. When things are done, I will treat you to dinner."

"Lucia, you don't have to be so polite." Zane said with a smile, then took out his cell phone and dialed Kylan Connor's number. Before the phone was connected, he said in a positive tone, "Kylan Connor was a soldier before. He knows people of all status. Ask him, we will definitely get what we need."

Then, the call was answered. He hurriedly greeted with Kylan, "Kylan, what have you been up to? There is something 1 want to ask you..." He then went to the side to continue talking on the phone. Two minutes later, he hung up the phone and walked towards Lucia, with a surprised look on his face, "Really make it!"

Lucia saw this and was delighted, "Are there any acquaintances?"

"Kylan really has a close friend who works as an officer, and this kind of thing is just a small favor to him."

Lucia was a little elated, "That's great."

Zane was also glad and said, "Kylan said he would be free this evening and can take us to meet him."

Lucia nodded repeatedly, "That couldn't be better." Now this matter is the sooner the better. the longer the delay, the more accidents would occur. That night, Lucia packed up and went with Zane to the location of the appointment, which was a rather elegant bar on a famous bar street in Austos City.

Each table was separated by a flower stand, which is both private and not dull. Lucia and Zane arrived at the location booked in advance. Kylan's group had not yet arrived. Zane casually flipped through the wine list, looking around and smiling at Lucia, "Lucia, you better drink juice, or ..." His words suddenly broke off,

him, somewhat puzzled, finds out, he will

and her cheeks swished red, "Don't talk nonsense." She then casually flipped through the drink list and eyes swept to the person following Kylan and she was caught the sight. The man standing next to Kylan had an upright body, delicate facial features, good-looking eyebrows and eyes. His skin was tan, which endowed him manliness. He was very tall, half a head higher than the two people was lost in thought, Kylan had already walked over with two men and greeted her, "Hey, have you been smiled at Long, "We

"This is my friend Darnell Clayton, an them respectively, "This is Lucia who I mentioned and soon, the wine they ordered was served.

"In fact, my friend Lucia wants to find a few people, but there is no photo. So I want to ask Alan

"It's easy to find someone. As long as you provide his identity information, you can find the corresponding personal information with some hesitation, "But this time she's looking for someone who are kinda special..." He turned for are using fake names, and I don't know their real names, so..." After hearing the explanation, Darnell and Alan understood. Darnell paused for a sec. His eyes lingered and appreciated them merrily, "That's perfect! Thanks a to them and said, "I'm ready, you can go." Professionals were really splendid. He held the mouse in his hand, which was simply more flexible than on the screen, trying to remember, and suddenly she thought of something and spoke, "There is

draw