

Submit 582

Chapter 582 Get The Marriage Certificate First

After a moment of hesitation, Paula thought it carefully and then nodded slowly, "I went to the supermarket with Burton before we came to the police office. And I deposited my purse in the locker for about ten minutes. We left the supermarket very soon. "If August didn't lie about the thumb drive, then someone else had switched it."

When Lucia was saying, the looks on everyone's face were serious. They looked at each other with complicated expressions. Burton came to his senses first and started, "Then what we should do now is go to that supermarket and check the surveillance video of the locker. We may find something there." Lucia agreed on it with a nod, "You're right."

Sheriff Holland walked towards them when hearing Burton. He was willing to offer help. "Well, I'll go check the surveillance video with you." "That'll be great. Thank you so much." The four of them left the police office and headed out to the supermarket after making the decision. Soon, they arrived at the supermarket. The staff members helped with the investigation right after Sheriff Holland showed them his license.

screen of that locker, as it was black and nothing could be seen. Pointing at the black screen, Sheriff Holland asked the staff member with a darkened face, "What's wrong with that surveillance camera?" All the other surveillance cameras were working well except the one aiming at the a serious illness. Lucia was so sorry to see Paula being sad like this. Taking a deep breath, Lucia walked forward to pat her back and started to comfort her, "Paula, I definitely will figure this out." Now they had lost all the clues, so it seemed to be impossible for them to sue Jeanne. Due to the mental collapse, Paula couldn't stop crying. She finally got to stabilize herself after quite a long while. On the other comfort her but she started, "Paula, Jeanne did it, so she would definitely leave traces behind. We need to be patient. Maybe we'll get something very soon." Letting out

"I mean it. I do wanna marry him." "That'll be great." Lucia said. Reaching out her hand, Paula pulled her gently, "Lucia, you have to help me, since I can't suddenly thought of the unpleasantness between her and Paul. She tilted her lips but didn't what to say. Seeing the look on Lucia's face, Paula said hurriedly, "Lucia, you'll help me. Right?" Taking a deep breath, Lucia added, "What can I do?"

"We'll make the impossible possible." "What?" Lucia was stunned. "What do you mean?" Raising her eyebrows, Paula giggled, "Burton and I will go to the courthouse and get married. And then my brother point of Paula. Lucia pulled a wry face, "Do you want me to steal the residence booklet from Paul?"

residence booklet from Paul. But it meant she would have to betray Paul, which hesitated her. When Lucia came back to