Chapter 584 What Is The Relationship If Not A Mistress?

The bosses who often worked with Cloud Technology had never seen Paul with a woman in any social event, but he brought a woman today and treated her so tenderly, which was so rare. However, the strange thing was that no one asked about it and Paul didn't mention it himself. So, all of them were still chatting and enjoying the food without talking about the coming of Lucia.

The other bosses all had female partners by their side. Each of them was young and beautiful, but they all wore thick makeup. No one knew how they really looked without makeup. Compared with them, Lucia looked so special with not much makeup. Her face was delicate and her skin had a healthy glow. The light makeup on her face highlighted her facial features to the extreme, as well as her elegant temperament which was so different from that of the other women.

At this time, the cuisines of seasonal lobsters were delivered and they smelt so good. Paul picked up a few lobsters to the plate in front of him with the chopsticks after asking Lucia something with laughter. And then he put on disposable gloves and shucked the lobsters in a graceful manner. The shell of the lobsters was very hard, and it was not that easy to take out an entire shrimp without any skill. It took

Paul quite a while to shuck the lobsters. Then he naturally placed the shrimps on the plate in front of Lucia, saying softly, "Try it. The lobsters here taste good."

Lucia felt warm in her heart. She smiled and picked up a shrimp with her chopsticks. She didn't even notice the expressions of the other women on the table. Those women also had male partners, but none of them would shuck lobsters for them at all. So, they looked at Lucia with jealousy, and the jealousy was overwhelming them.

Turning to look at Garcia after a giggle, Lily said slowly, "Of course. If you like it, you should ask Mr. Howard to buy one for you when answer, "Of course not. A man wouldn't easily say no to his lover." Another round of laughter a frown, but they were all business partners of Paul, so she didn't say anything. Turning to look at Lucia after taking a sip of red wine, Paul sensed Lucia's feeling and let out a smile to later, Paul raised his glass and said at a right timing, "Well, guys, what about going to the course lobsters. The others quickly raised their glasses and toasted. They would to change into a golf costume. Then they went to the course by golf cart.
