Chapter 601 Going Against Her?

Lucia caught up with Paula and followed her to the jewelry floor of the shopping mall. The entire floor was filled with various jewelry of stores, including international brands and domestic famous brands. And soon, she was dazed by window displays.

Paula pulled her into a store, pointed to a dazzling piece of jewelry in a glass display case, and said, "Look, Lucia! Does this look good?"

Lucia nodded with a smile, "Yes."

"What about this one?"

"Nice."

"This one is more exquisite. Do you like it?"

"It's pretty."

Looking around, Lucia found the store was filled with shining articles. They were so dazzling and pretty that people could not take their eyes off them. But she was not very satisfied with any of them.

Paula looked around and frowned, "I think they all look good, but I don't want to buy any of them."

Lucia took a deep breath, hesitated for a moment, and said softly, "Although they are beautiful, none of them is special enough." Hearing this, Paula nodded lightly, "You're right."

Then, she looked up at the sales clerk and asked, "Do you have any better products?"

The sales clerk's eyes lit up when she nodded with a smile, "Yes, would you like to take a look?"

Paula nodded without hesitation, "Of course."

Then, she strode toward them without hesitation when Adeline looked at them coldly with a smile, standing beside August.

Sering Paula getting increasingly close to them, Lucia finally came to her senses, took a deep breath, stepped up to catch up with her, and said in a low voice, "Paula, stop..."

But Paula pretended not to hear her, continued going forward, and quickly walked up to August. Lucia was too slow, so she failed to stop her.

Paula glared at Adeline, looked at August, and asked coldly, "August, what do you mean?"

August asked unhurriedly, "What do you mean?"

"How could you have the nerve to ask me?" Paula said and got even angrier. When the sales clerk came over with a delicate shopping bag.

Paula pointed at it and asked through gritted teeth, "Why do you have to snatch what we picked?"

August kept silent and raised his eyes to look at Lucia who was walking over, but Adeline said, "Ms. Thomas, watch your mouth. We just bought unsold products in the store. How can you blame us for buying it before you do?"

Adeline's words were well-founded, so Paula fell silent, unable to refute them at all.

When Lucia came over, she heard their conversation, so she hesitated for a moment, stretched out to grab Paula's arm, and said softly,

"Paula, let's go. There must be something better."

Chapter 603 Sudden Hesitation.

Was it right to agree to hold a wedding with Paul in Austos? As Lucia walked forward mechanically, she repeatedly asked herself this question but could not figure out an answer.

Unknowingly, she arrived in the rest area of the shopping mall where there were several sofas. It was not until she sat down in a daze did she realize that she had left Paula behind. So, she quickly took out her mobile phone. When she was about to call her, a familiar voice suddenly said from behind, "Lucia, why are you here? I've been looking for you for a long time!"

As soon as Lucia turned her head back, she saw Paula walking toward her with a frown. She took a deep breath, tried her best to calm herself down, and said softly, "I didn't see you in the store just now, so I came out to look for you."

Then, she looked at the shopping bag in Paula's hand with the logo of the jewelry store just now and asked softly, "Did you buy jewelry?" Hearing this, Paula suddenly remembered what she needed to do, so she quickly raised the bag, glanced at it, and said, "No! Guess who gave it to me? After Adeline dragged me away, she unexpectedly gave it to me and said it was a wedding gift for you from August. I refused, but she said it was a token of August's regard and asked me to hand it over to you. She said if you don't want to accept it, you can throw it away. What a weird woman!"

Hearing this, Lucia's gaze fell heavily on the shopping bag, and she somehow had difficulty breathing as if a big stone were pressing her heart.

Seeing her keep silent, Paula asked, "How are going to deal with this?"

Lucia hesitated for a few seconds and then said lightly, "I will accept it and transfer the money to him."

Paula nodded to express her agreement and said, "Yes! We will not take advantage of him!"

Within three days, preparations were made for Lucia and Paula's joint wedding. The layout of the venue, the invitation of the guests, and all other preparations were completed. Everything was ready.

This news spread very quickly throughout the entire Austos City, and it was discussed very hotly in the business circle.

It instantly became a rare anecdote that the brother and sister of the Thomas family in Austos were going to hold a wedding together, and it also became a hot topic of gossip

Although there were not many people invited to the two weddings this time, the total number of them was not small, because the wedding.

was very grand and many people took the initiative to apply to participate to show their respect for the Thomas family.

On the fourth day, the wedding ceremony was held as scheduled. Lucia and Paula were woken up at five o'clock in the morning to dress up, and Timothy and Janet were also asked to be flower girls.

After a few hours of preparations, they rushed to the wedding venue and waited. Listening to the host speaking according to the procedure, Lucia was extremely nervous.

Before August warned her, it was just a worry in his heart. He hadn't expected that his prediction would come true so quickly.

Lucia's gaze suddenly became much colder. She looked at August, moved her lips, and her throat tightened. She finally asked, "You knew this would happen. Did you plan it or participate?"

Her voice was very soft. As soon as she finished it, it instantly became quiet around. Even Paula who was next to her looked at August in astonishment.

Could it be that this incident had something to do with August?

August said in a calm voice, "If it was me, why would I appear at this time? Asking for a trap?"

Hearing what he said, they immediately realized that August indeed didn't need to do so. It would be of no benefit to him if he ruined the wedding and showed up to provoke them

But Lucia still stared at him vigilantly and said, "Then what are you doing here?"

"I'm just being compassionate and helpful." August raised his eyebrows slightly, and continued, "Don't you want to find out who is behind the scenes?"

Lucia took a deep breath, paused for a moment, and then looked up at him, "Why should I trust you?"

August rationally analyzed the pros and cons for her, "You don't have to. But trust me, it won't do you any harm if you try to check it out. After all, once this incident happens, the rumors will be very bad for you."

Lucia pursed her lips tightly, stared straight at him, and remained silent.

She knew well that if the news of what happened today was spread, her reputation would be ruined because others would just gossip about it and no one would care about the truth.

What was even more frightening was that she would not only ruin her reputation but also disgrace the Thomas family and her parents.

But it didn't make sense to find out who did it, because the photos released were indeed real and they were not tampered with it anymore. She quickly grabbed Lucia's arm and shook it, and said in a low voice, "Lucia, check it out."

Chapter 608 Live Our Own Lives

By the time Lucia and Paul returned to West Bridge, it was already late. Lucia went to her room and took a shower. She had just gone down to the kitchen to make some tea when she saw her parents sitting on the sofa. They did not talk or watch television. They just sat there, apparently waiting for her.

Lucia's heart skipped a beat. She drew a long breath and stepped aside to make a pot of tea. Then she said softly, "Mom, Dad, have some tea."

"How could you still be in the mood to drink tea?"

asked Mrs. Mitchell, frowning.

Tongues started to wag outside, and Mrs. Mitchell didn't understand why Lucia could speak in such a leisurely manner.

Lucia took a sip of tea and whispered, "It's useless to worry. Even if I explain that we're just friends, I'm afraid no one will believe me."

Mrs. Mitchell frowned and asked, "Then tell us, what's going on between you and that man?"

Lucia took a deep breath and said seriously, "His name is Damell. He's a friend of mine. He helped me when I was looking for Garnett, so I owe him a favor. He wanted to buy a present for his sister but did not know how to choose one, so he asked me to help him. I was just helping him to pick up a gift and have a meal. Nothing else."

Hearing that, Mrs. Mitchell and Professor Mitchell looked at each other and said nothing.

By the time she walked away, Mandy's face was red. She looked at the fried liver on the white plate, and suddenly a strong feeling of nausea came over her

She quickly finished the soy milk in her cup and got up to leave. After going to her room and resting, Mandy felt a little better. She sat down on the edge of the bed and frowned thoughtfully. Why did she feel like throwing up just now?? Did she get anorexia because she didn't eat much before? But she was unable to find answers to these questions. It wasn't until lunchtime when she saw the table of dishes in front of her but didn't have any appetite that she realized something was wrong. Ever since she had begun to eat by herself, Bishop had sent a maid to keep an eye on her, and to report to him the state of her meals. This time, the maid served her a plate of fried pork, but Mandy couldn't help retching at a glance

The maid was startled and hurriedly asked, "What happened?"

Mandy shook her head But as soon as she sat up straight, she smelled the taste of the food and retched again. For some reason, Mandy felt her sense of smell grow sharper, and whenever she smelled grease she could not help feeling sick. The maid was a little worried and came quickly to pet her back.

"What's going on? Do you want to tell Mr. Adams and to go to the hospital?"

Mandy waved her hand and said, "That's okay"

The maid shook her head, still worried. She hesitated for a moment, and then something struck her. She blurted out in shock, "Could that be because you are pregnant?" Mandy was taken aback as well. She shook her head in denial, "No way."

Chapter 610 Sending Her Parents Away

Mandy entered the bedroom and quickly closed the door. Leaning against the door, she listened carefully to the outside. She held her breath and heard for a long time. After making sure there was nothing outside the door, she heaved a long sigh of relief and slowly walked into the room. What she said just now was just to scare the maid. As long as Bishop didn't know about the abnormality of her body, everything would be fine. Otherwise, with Bishop's skeptical character, he would definitely make a fuss and send her to the hospital for a full-body examination. At that time, she wouldn't be able to hide her pregnancy anymore.

She knew that in order to keep her by his side, Bishop would most likely force her to keep the child. However, she had made up her mind to do the abortion, so she had to keep it a secret. After making this decision, Mandy sat on the chair and looked out of the window in a daze. She reached out and gently touched her abdomen. It was still flat without a sign of pregnancy.

She knew very well that it had been almost a month since the last time she had sex with Bishop. Now the fetus is still very small. Maybe others couldn't notice that, but she thought she could feel somehow that a small life was nurtured in her body. This feeling was very strange. As she thought about this, the corners of her lips rose unconsciously. But very quickly, a thought made her feel as if someone had poured a bucket of cold water over her head. Mandy's expression froze.

No! She couldn't have any illusions about this child! She must leave that horrible man and sever all relations with him!

For a few days, Lucia stayed at home, accompanied Mrs. Mitchell to grow flowers, accompanied Professor Mitchell to read reports, and completely ignored all kinds of comments about the outside world. Gradually, the anger in Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell's hearts dissipated, and they were about to leave for their trip.

Originally, because of what happened at the wedding, Mrs. Mitchell had decided not to go for her trip and stayed at home to accompany them. But after Lucia's persuasion, she gave up this idea. Before leaving, Lucia drove them to the airport. Mrs. Mitchell said worriedly, "Do you think you and Paul can take care of three children if we leave? In addition to taking care of the child, there is also a food problem. Although I went on a trip, I can't rest assured!"

Seeing that Mrs. Mitchell was about to start nagging, Lucia quickly stepped forward, patted her mother on the back, and comforted her softly, "It's not a big deal. Didn't we do a good job when we were abroad? Don't worry, just enjoy yourselves."

Professor Mitchell put the luggage in the trunk and nodded, "Lucia is right. There are always things for us to feel unsettled about, but you can't keep worrying about everything! Should we go or not?"
