Chapter 611 She Owned Him One

Locia paused for a moment and said, "I came to talk to you about Jett. I think it's time to find a place to settle them down." August pointed out the point slowly, "Do you think he will agree?"

Hearing those words, Lucia fell into silence. Actually, this was another aspect of her worries. Even if she wanted to help them settle down, Jeff would probably not accept it. Jeff was determined to seek revenge for the death of Mr. Makoto, so she was afraid that she would not be able to persuade him. That was why she had come to see August face-to-face. Lucia clasped her hands together, looked up at August, and asked, "Can you think of something?"

August said softly. "A person can do whatever he wants. Who are we to eliminate the hatred in his heart?"

Hearing this, Lucia suddenly became uncertain. She took a deep breath, bit her lips, and said, "I want to meet him, is that okay?"

August raised his head, looked at her, and said, "Well, you can contact Zane about that."

After that, his eyes were still fixed on her, and his expression was a little complicated. He moved his lips and was about to speak, but suddenly there was a knock at the door, and the voier of his assistant came from outside, "President Adams, the financial director of the subsidiary Morgen Company is here."

Hearing this, Lascia immediately looked at August and said, "Then I will go now"

As she spoke, she'd already stood up and walked towards the door. Seeing that, the light in August's eyes dimmed. It seemed that only when she needed him for something would she

At the same time, Lucia had already walked around the floor of the president's office. Six years ago, she was working here. Now as she walked here, she naturally thought of what had happened six years ago. Unconsciously, she walked around the familiar yet strange corridor. There were many new faces in the company. After an hour of rushing. Lucia and Garnett finally arrived at their destination Jeff and the others had already moved away from the previous place. Now, they were in one of the houses in a dilapidated community Jett was locked in one of the bedrooms, with two bodyguards guarding outside. When Lucia arrived at the gate, Zane was already waiting there "Lucia, I've been waiting for you forever." Zane smiled at her and tried to strike up a conversation.

Lucia wasn't in the mood. She smiled at him and asked softly, "Where is Jeff right now?"

"In the bedroom inside," Zane said, slowly glancing at Garnett. Then, he said calmly, "Do you plan to take him with you?"

Lucia was stunned for a moment, then quickly understood what he meant. She squatted down and comforted, "Garnett, I'm going to take a look at the situation. Wait here for me, I'll be out soon." Garnett nodded obediently and said softly, "All right. I'll wait for you here."

As he spoke, Zane walked over and took Garnett aside. Then Lucia breathed a sigh of relief and walked to the bedroom door. The bodyguards opened the door and she slowly walked in.

In the bedroom, Jeff was sitting by the window. His back appeared trailer. He was as thin as a matchstick. Hearing someone enter the door, he did not move. Lucia stood still and looked at him for a long time before saying, "Jett."

Hearing her voice, the man moved slightly but did not turn around on speak. Lucia took two steps forward, looked at him, and said, "I came here to talk to you."

Jett still didn't move, so Lucia waited for a while. In the end, she simply walked to the chair on the other side and sat down. As if she was talking to herself, she said softly, "In life, there must be something we will lose. In the face of hatred, some people choose to risk their lives to take revenge, while others choose to live a new life."

Lucia was moved upon hearing that. She took a deep breath, walked forward, and said, "Master Jeff, I know a comfortable place, suitable for "

"Never mind." Jeff shook his head, "I plan to go back to Evergreen Meditation Yard with Garnett and other followers."

Lucia was shocked and lost her words. Evergreen Meditation Yard was a sad place for them. They would feel bad if they went back. So she preferred that they changed their place to start a new life. It hit her that Jeff was so determined.

Noticing Lucia's hesitation, Jeff said softly, "Actually, nothing is settled. After I meet Jim, we'll discuss it. We may go back to Evergreen Mountain and revive our temple, or we may come to Valendale to seek help from old friends of our keeper. Anyway, you don't have to worry about us"

Lucia felt relieved till this moment. She nodded, and replied softly, "I can rest easy since you have made your decision. If you need help, please call me and Zane. Where will you guys go now? We can send people to drive you."

As she said, she fixed her eyes on Garnett. Now, he stood next to Jeff and stared at Lucia. She was somewhat moved. She and Garnett had lived together for so long. It's impossible to say that they have no affection for each other. Lucia didn't expect that they would separate so soon. She thought that it would take Jeff a while to make the decision.

She opened her mouth and wanted to say more. Zane stopped her, "Lucia, don't worry. I'll arrange everything properly. I get them."

In a flash, all her words were swallowed back. She looked at Garnett. She became more emotional.

All of a sudden, Garnett got rid of Jeff's hand, walked towards her, and stretched his arms. Lucia felt a brief surge of warmth and crunched up to hug this little boy. Warmth embraced Bishop was sitting in the empty room on the second floor. His brows were furrowed. "All eight of them are our men?"

After hearing this, Bishop's face darkened even more. He then shouted coldly. "Useless garbage!".

"What should we do now? I'm afraid that the people who weren't caught wouldn't dare show themselves anymore recently."

Bishop remained silent. He felt his temples throbbing. He had never expected that the people he had paid off would be caught so quickly. Their combat effectiveness was far weaker than he had expected

After a pause, Bishop calmed down a little and said, "Let's wait it out first. I want to see what else he can do"

Bob was still a little worried and continued to report, "They're still investigating the financial director of Twilight at the moment. I'm afraid they're going to see the account soon" Bishop raised his head, looked out the window and said, "That's fine. The financial director will take the blame. There are no direct evidence that leads to me

Chapter 615 The Nightmare Was Going to Start

Just being dragged out of the room by him, Mandy was already in such fear that she was trembling like hell and could not walk.

This fear was from the inside, like extending vines, spreading through all the limbs and bones, which seemed not to be hers.

She knew well about the temper of Bishop, he always did what he said without perfunctory. If today, he did take her to the hospital, then there would be no escape.

So, this secret could not be hidden anymore? She hadn't figured out how to do the abortion, and now he found out?

Approaching the entrance, Mandy shook her head so hard, with every single cell struggling, and, with limited strength, she held on with him, "I'm not going I don't want to

"Why aren't you going?"

He suddenly stopped, and pushed her onto the wall, with hands stuck on her neck, face gloomy and dread like hell, "Mandy Lu, you freak out! I am going to find something out, and this made you scared, isn't it?"

The man's voice was so loud that she finally could not take it anymore. She closed her eyes, with tears pouring out.

Now, all her persistence and resistance were futile, though she did not want to admit it and still hold on.

Leaning against the wall, she slowly slipped downward, then finally shrank together and buried her face between her knees.

"Okay. Since you refuse to go, I would call someone over to check."

Bishop said. He took out his phone at once and dialed a call. And soon, ten minutes later, a man came up to the door.

It was Bishop's family doctor, who had come over several times before to treat her wounds, not a stranger already. Not until Mandy reacted, Bishop had already commanded several maids at home to hold down her limbs, for the family doctor to her draw her blood.

Looking at the tube filled with bright-red liquid, her eyes were also filled with despair.

This time, there would be no way out, no matter how hard she tried.

Chapter 616 Asking Lucia for Help

No wonder he knew everything about her whereabouts and movements, BECAUSE Bishop has ALWAYS been watching her, not without a moment!

While she was feeling shocked, she also rejoiced secretly for her fortune Thank god for that she did not take out the phone that she stole at once as she came back, otherwise, everything would have been screwed up.

After being on the bed for a while, she slowly got up, took out a new quilt from the cupboard, spread it on the bed, and dug into it, she waited for a few seconds, then she tiptoed to take out the phone from her pocket.

It was an old phone, rather old, but it was enough for her

She first blacklisted all the existing contacts in the phone, then silenced the phone, muted all the notifications, and then logged into Whatsapp.

A few messages popped up, all of which were daily greetings from some of her fair weather friends, besides, there were also messages from her mother, all of which were caring about her, asking whether she has been eating and sleeping well or not, Staring at these warm greetings, her tears fell.

These years she has been disguised in front of her mother, pretending that she has been working in the large-scale hospital for the whole time, without worries for life and basic living. Yes, she was like that. She was happy living together with Bishop, but it was only the things before. Now, she was dead than alive and her life was just blown in hell But she did not dare to tell, not to mention ask her mother for help, because she should be the one who felt such pain, and she would never let her mom get involved

Mandy shrank under the quilt, silently wiped away the tears at the corners of her eyes, and then messaged back to her mother in a relaxed and cheerful way, voiding anything that might cause worries.

Then, she searched all over the entire Whatsapp, but still, she could not find a person who could lend a helping hand to her at this moment without benefits,

A strong wave of fear surrounded Mandy, she wanted to get rid of those hands, which were just as fierce as the demon's, but she failed to push them off Bishop tightened his hands, and interrogated ruthlessly, "TELL ME!"

In this moment of desperation, Mandy found difficulty breathing with her face turning blue, she said, in a tough way, "This child, I wanna keep it!" Hearing this, Bishop's face suddenly changed, let her go at once.

Mandy took a deep breath, stumbling back up a few steps subconsciously, and her eyes were full of fear.

Bishop glanced at her deeply. After pausing for a few seconds, he began to ask, "As you want to keep it, why don't you tell me?"

Mandy gritted her teeth, and said with a deep breath, "I'm afraid that you don't."

As she finished, the surrounding fell into silence at once and the vibe turned a bit weird and awkward. After a long time stare into each other's eyes, no one started talking first. Eventually, Bishop's expression changed a bit. With gloomy eyes, he stared at her and said, "Keep it or not, it is up to me."

Leaving these words, he stepped out with big strides and slammed the door violently.

"Bang!!

Half an hour later, Mandy arrived at the hospital by ambulance. The aunt was by her side, watching the doctor examine her with emergency treatment, feeling quite unsure and imsettled.

The ambulance stopped at the emergency department. Then Mandy was pushed away by the doctors and nurses using a trolley. The aunt chased after her, seeing her being sent to the first-aid room. Then she came to realize that she should call Bishop, so she took out her phone in a hurry

At this time, a man came up behind her, and he knocked her out when she was distracted. The aunt went weak at her knees immediately, and she passed out

The man rapidly pulled her onto the bench aside, then made off her phone

Finishing all these, he went through the hallway with sharp movements, then came up to the ward, opened the door, and walked in.

As he went in, Zane raised his eyes to look at him, asking in a low voice, "Finished?"

The man nodded slightly, "All done"

Hearing this, Lucia sighed with relief. But then she began to worry about Mandy again

It seemed that Zane could read her mind, he said in a hurry. "Don't worry, Miss. Joan always plays it safe, he would take Ms. Lu back safely for sure."

As he just finished, some sounds came from the door. After three knocks, the door was opened, and Joan walked in with Mandy.

Seeing her, joy came up to Lucia's worried face. She walked forwards to welcome her at once, and she opened her mouth a bit, trying to say something but she didn't know what to

At this point, Mandy suddenly walked towards her. She was in such gratitude that she held Lucia with her arms at once. With tears, she said while trembling. "Thanks so much, Lucia Bishop's face went an ugly green. He didn't expect this situation. The moment he received the phone call from his men, he knew that he was set up by Mandy It's by no means a coincidence that Lucia showed up in the hospital at a time like this! He had already made up his mind to take Mindy back, even by violence. But he didn't expect that his brother would just appear and disrupt his plan. Bishop suppressed the anger in his heart and smiled. He looked at August and said, "Brother, why are you going against me all the time?".

August replied with an indifferant voice, "I don't want it, but you should keep away from my person."

"Your person? Bishop sneered and then said, "As I know, the woman in that room is Lucia, and she has her own family. So when did you have an affair with her?"

August said calmly, "She's my ex wife I will protect her as long as I'm alive"

There was a sudden silence after his words. No one had expected that he would be so straightforward.

After a while of silence, a trace of contempt appeared in Bishop's eyes. He said word by word, "Even so, you shouldn't stop me from looking for my person? Right? Someone noticed that your person brought my person into that room just now. I do think it's appropriate for me to take her away now'

August didn't answer him directly. Instead, he looked at Zane and asked, "Is there anyone else in the room except Lucia?"

Without any hesitation, Zane shook her head and said, "There is no one but Lucia in the room. She is well and needs a good rest. No one shall bother her."

August nodded and then looked at Bishop, "Hear that?" he asked coldly.

They used to be good friends, but since Mandy betrayed her last time, they had been growing apart more or less.

They walked out of the ward one after another and soon arrived at the gate of the hospital. After getting on the car, they directly drove to Lucia's home, the West Bridge. Sitting in the driver's seat, Zane looked at the two women in the backseat who were both silent. She decided to break the silence first,

"Lucia, what do you think of my performance in front of Bishop just now **

She was meant to say something to ease the tension, but after these words, the atmosphere in the car became more awkward than before.

Lucia turned her head slightly and found that Mandy's face wore an ugly look. She took a deep breath and tried to change the subject. She asked in a low voice, "By the way, Zane, why did August come here all of a sudden today?

"L" Zane stammered, feeling a little upset. "I said that I was afraid that something bad would happen and I couldn't handle it by myself, so I sent a message to President Adams and briefed him the situation. I didn't expect him to appear at a time of crisis and solve the problem. But anyway, he was so cool just now!"

Seeing that her face changed from upset to excited, Lucia smiled and said nothing-

This time August had saved her again. She owed him a favor and should pay it back sooner or later.

Soon, they arrived at the West Bridge. Lucia and Mandy got off the car. After saying goodbye to Zane, they went straight into the yard of the house.

Since Lucia's parents had been travelling abroad these days, there were only Timothy, Janet and some servants at home, so it was relatively quiet here.

Lucia led Mandy to a room on the first floor. She turned to Mandy and said, "You can stay here. If you need anything, just tell me."

Mandy nodded with her eyes full of gratitude. At this moment, she suddenly thought of something. She hesitated for a moment and said, "By the way, Liscia, didn't you say that you had something to ask me?".

Yesterday, they made a deal through mobile phone. At that time, Lucia said that she had something to ask her.

Lucia hesitated for a moment and asked, "I want to know how Bishop's legs were cured?"
