Chapter 671 Ms. Mitchell is Back

It wasn't until he rushed back to the hospital from Sunbay that August's gloomy face eased a little. Lucia understood the reason for his sullenness, silently settled the two children, and then returned to his ward.

The door had just been closed tightly, and before she could speak, her slender body was already wrapped in the scorching hot chest, and then the cool lips with a breath of mint immediately fell on her forehead.

"August, about Sunbay. She raised her eyes slightly, looking at August with some worry.

August's arms tightened tightly, as if he was afraid that she would disappear. While nodding his head, his thin lips lightly touched her ear, and his magnetic voice was slightly hoarse. "Promise me, don't interfere with this matter."

As she said that, the delicate kisses had already landed on her temples, and then gradually extended to her lips, gradually changing from soft to fierce.

She rested her palms on his thick chest, felt the hot temperature from her fingertips, and involuntarily narrowed her eyes slightly, subconsciously responding to him.

The clothes of the two of them quickly fell off, and the hospital bed began to rustle regularly.

The blush on Lucia's cheeks gradually dissipated, she dragged her sore legs out of bed, secretly glanced at the man on the bed, quickly lowered her eyes and turned away, and muttered softly: "You don't look like a sick patient at all."

When August heard the sound, the corners of August's lips raised a small arc unconsciously, and the magnetic voice sounded slowly, "I'm not sick of physical problems."

She really wanted to ask why August could say such brazen words without blushing or panting.

movements, Lucia's legs were already weak, and her breath was

When August heard her teasing, his complexion sank for a moment, and through the dim light, he caught a glimpse of her bright eyes, with a gentle tenderness in them unconsciously.

The tone of his voice was still indifferent, and he asked in a cold voice, "Where did you get your confidence?" Lucia secretly complained to him, and then she exited the guest bedroom with him. Before leaving, August locked the door of the guest bedroom. Under her puzzled eyes, he casually explained: "This room will not be used in the future."

Before Lucia could understand the meaning of his words, he had already turned and pushed open the door of the master bedroom.

The entire master bedroom has been completely renovated, and the air is filled with a faint scent of cold fragrance.

The location of the previous wardrobe was rearranged and opened up with the next room to make a cloakroom, which was filled with the latest clothes and dresses of the season, each of which was Lucia's size.

The decoration of the room has changed from cool to warm, and in the most conspicuous position is a KingSize bed that looks extremely fluffy.

"This is your room from now on."

Lucia's eyes fell on the eye-catching big bed, and she couldn't help but imagine a bunch of unsuitable scenes in her head, and her cheeks flushed immediately to the roots of her ears.

She was afraid that August would see through her thoughts, and she was also afraid that August would want to go with her and act out the scene she imagined on the spot, so she hurriedly slipped out of the bedroom.

Further down are August's children's rooms for Timothy and Janet.

One of the two rooms is in a gentle pink color, and the other is in a bright light gray color, which is in line with the aesthetic standards of the two children, and even the home furnishings are selected according to the

When Eliot woke up, August was playing chess with Professor Ruan, Lucia was taking two children to accompany Elisa to tend the flowers and plants, and Olivia was sitting by the side basking in the sun leisurely. Looking at the quiet and seductive scene, Joey felt a little bit bitter in his heart, after all, Eliot should be a part of this beautiful scene.

He has served Mr. Adams loyally for many years, and now seeing Mr. Adams suffering from illness all day long,

he feels extremely uncomfortable.

Lucia looked up and saw Joey standing in a daze in the distance, thinking that maybe something happened to

Eliot, he didn't dare to tell August, so he wanted to come to find her.

"Young Madam, Mr. Adams has woken up." Joey reported respectfully when he saw her approaching.
She nodded and asked with concern: "How is Mr. Adams? Are you awake now?"

Joey didn't seem to think that she would care about Eliot. After a pause, he looked at the small courtyard not far away and said, "Mr. Adams is sober now. I'm glad to hear that the young master came back to see him." "I see, just wait for me a moment." After Lucia finished speaking, she found a reason to prevaricate Elisa, and successfully took Timothy away with her.

The mother and son followed Joey to the courtyard dedicated to Eliot's recuperation. Timothy held her fingertips tightly all the way, obviously a little afraid of Eliot.

Lucia saw what he was thinking, and explained softly: "Grandpa loves you and Dad, he will not hurt the people closest to him, so there is no need to be afraid."

Hearing the sound, Timothy nodded heavily, and his steps became a lot lighter.

"Mom, why does grandpa call me by my father's name?" He tilted his head and asked doubtfully.

Lucia pondered for a moment, a smile gradually spread on her face, and she couldn't help but patted his head,

"Everyone says that you are very similar to Dad when you were young, and Grandpa has forgotten everything, but he can think of Dad when he sees you, which means He loves Dad."

"Grandpa loves daddy, so Timothy loves grandpa too!" Timothy looked at the old man in the courtyard with a bright smile on his immature face.

Chapter 674 She Will Definitely Like You

After returning from Sonirie, it was rare for August not to torment her. Lucia fell asleep soundly and slept until dawn.

When she opened her eyes again, she saw that August had finished washing and came out of the bathroom.

Dripping drops of water fell down his hair, dripping on his wheat-colored strong chest, which was just coated with a layer of gold by the morning light outside the window. The white towel around his waist half-hid his solid abdominal muscles. Looks extremely alluring.

Lucia subconsciously swallowed her saliva, her cheeks had been burning hot for some time, she hastily covered most of her face with the quilt, leaving only a pair of watery eyes exposed.

She couldn't help but scolded herself for being worthless in her heart. She had obviously been in close contact so many times, but she would still blush when she saw such a scene.

August wiped the water off his hair, looked sideways and saw the shy and shy little woman on the bed, took two steps forward and grabbed the corner of the quilt, with a little force, Lucia's flushed face immediately caught his eyes.

"Peeping?" As the magnetic voice sounded, he leaned over and pressed her under him, "I don't mind if you look at me openly."

Lucia could even feel the peppermint aroma on his face when he breathed, and her delicate face became more and more red.

She hastily stretched her hand against his chest, awkwardly like a child who was caught after sabotage, and replied stumbled, "Who...who peeped on you!"

for a long time, she raised her eyes quietly, and met August's gaze.

Her cheeks blushed even more, she hurriedly pushed August away and got off the bed, grabbed a towel, and was about to go to the bathroom to wash.

August reached out to stop her movement, his slender arms brushed past her ear, took out a pure white handkerchief, stuffed it into her hand, "Wear this

"Come on, everyone is ready to shoot, the bride and groom look at the camera..."

The photographer's loud voice sounded, and Lucia immediately got into the mood. While posing elegantly, she lowered her voice and asked, "Why did you suddenly agree to shoot?"

"It looks good, I want to try it." August responded calmly.

Hearing this, she paused when she changed her look, "You and... five years ago, you didn't take a wedding

"You didn't and didn't."

Indeed, she was simply arguing with Paul at the time, and there was no decent wedding at that time, let alone

Later, when the wedding was re-organized, Paul repeatedly proposed to take wedding photos, but in the end he gave up because of various trivial matters.

After all, this was August's first wedding photoshoot, and her first.

The photographer at the side saw that she was in a bad state, so he shouted loudly: "The bride and groom should be more intimate, the groom puts his arms around the waist of the bride, let's do it again!"

August heard the sound and took her into his arms. Although his face was still indifferent when facing the camera, his eyes softened unconsciously.

"Okay, now the bride and groom look at each other affectionately..." the photographer's voice sounded again.

But this time he didn't press the shutter button, but shouted in August's direction: "Groom, adjust your posture, the woman in front of you is the person you love the most, be affectionate, don't always keep a cold face."

Lucia glanced at August quietly when she heard the sound, as expected, his face was a little gloomy, and it was Paul looked tired, but his voice was still cold, asking his sister, "Why did you call Lucia?"

"I'm really worried about her." Paula bowed her head in response

She knew that her best friend and her brother had come to an end, and this relationship had a great impact on her brother, so she usually tried to contact Lucia secretly as much as possible, for fear of irritating her brother, but unexpectedly, she was caught by Paul today.

"Cloud Technology and Lion group are competing for the East City Knight Town project. It is not appropriate for you to contact Lucia at this time. If the shareholders hear gossip, the status of my father and I are at stake" Paul was extremely serious.

Paula understood the seriousness of the matter, and apologized to Paul repeatedly. Seeing him turn around and go back to his study, she still didn't suppress the impulse, raised her eyes and asked, "Brother, when are you going to take action to solve the rumors about Lucia?"

Paul paused when he heard the sound, turned his head and responded, "You don't need to worry about this matter."

He had known for a long time that rumors were flying all over the sky, but he hadn't taken any action, only to solve Cloud Technology's troubles.

On the one hand, he wanted to use this news to suppress the Lion group and take the opportunity to win the Knight Town project, on the other hand, it was because of his selfish motives.

"It's getting more and more outrageous!"

"That's right, the company has only been stable for a few days before this scandal broke out."

"Mr. Wood, you are our backbone. If you don't make an agreement with President Adams this time, we will definitely have a hard time in the future."

While the shareholders were whispering, August had strode forward and sat on the main seat. His face was calm and prestige, and the entire conference room was immediately silent.

Just as Lucia was ready to take her place next to him, Mr. Wood's voice sounded, "President Adams, is it inappropriate for you to bring her by your side so blatantly?"

"What's wrong?" August raised his eyes, and the eagle eyes glanced at him sharply.

Seeing that he was about to slap August, the surrounding shareholders immediately responded, "She is Paul's wife, and she obviously came to our company to steal business secrets."

Mr. Wood was helped, and his attitude became more and more rigid. He immediately got up and made a gesture of preparing to leave, "If you must ask her to attend such an important meeting, then I will immediately withdraw from this shareholders' meeting."

The expression on August's face remained the same, he waved to Burton, "Send Mr. Wood out."

"August! You..."

Originally, he just wanted to threaten August, but he never expected that things would develop like this. He didn't want to leave or stay for a while.

Seeing that he didn't really want to leave, August said slowly, "Can the meeting go on as usual?"

Mr. Wood sat back in his seat in embarrassment, his face became more and more ugly.

Lucia knew in her heart that her appearance had caused him a lot of trouble. Feeling the unkind eyes of shareholders cast on her one after another, she involuntarily clutched the folder by the table with her fingertips.

"President Adams, the company's development is not as good as before, and now this kind of embarrassing news broke out. What do you let us old shareholders use to support our families?"

Despite growing public opinion, Cloud Technology sent a revised bid to the Jervas Group.

The little secretary's face flushed instantly, she hurriedly avoided his seductive eyes, and ran out of the office

Jamie sneered disdainfully, then wiped his fingertips.

Less than two minutes after the little secretary left, he came back again with a very embarrassed tone, "Mr.

Seeing his cynical look, Lucia laughed dumbly, "I stayed in Amecan for several years, and I just came back recently." Amecan? No wonder he couldn't find her.

Jamie never thought that she would go abroad, so he suddenly became interested, looked at her and asked curiously:

"You didn't go abroad to avoid August, did you?"

She didn't shy away either, and nodded generously, "That's right, but that's not the main reason."

"Further study? Vacation? Or start a new business?"

"Foster and baby." Lucia's voice was extremely calm, as if telling Jamie what she had for breakfast.

Jamie stopped drinking water, half of the water stuck in his throat, and then coughed a few times violently.

"Whose kid? August's kid? You two aren't going to get back together, are you?"

Lucia raised the folder in her hand, and the four big characters "Lion group" were printed on the cover, she smiled and asked, "What do you think?"

It wasn't until he regained his composure that he muttered sadly: "I thought I would have a chance to strike when you came back this time. Unexpectedly, the young girl in her prime turned into a yellow-faced woman." Yellow face woman?!

When Lucia heard this title, she rolled her eyes at him in dissatisfaction, and said with some helplessness in her tone, "Why are you still so stubborn? Seeing that Jervas Group is developing so well, I thought you were already famous." "It's good to be famous, I just like to be Mr. Pianpian outside." He put his legs up on the desk again, his voice full of confidence, "Am I not handsome enough?"

Lucia was about to nod, when a cunning flashed in her eyes, she paused, deliberately slowed down her speech, and responded, "Compared to August, it's still a little worse..."

August put down the document in his hand, and looked at her with a half-smile, "Did you go to see Jamie this afternoon?"

"Well," she responded softly, "Mr. Jamie looks the same as before, but he handles things much better."

The atmosphere in the room instantly became gloomy, and August's voice was a little cold, "Are you familiar with him?" Lucia knew what he was thinking, and looked straight at him with pure and clear eyes, "I'm sitting next to you now, so why don't you worry about it?"

Hearing the sound, he quietly moved to her side, and lightly stroked her cheek with his fingertips, "It's really worrying."

Lucia felt a little itchy, and couldn't help shrinking her neck. The smile in her eyes grew stronger, and she hurriedly pushed him back to his seat and sat down.

"What time is it, you are still in the mood to make such a joke."

He lowered his eyes when he heard this, his eyes were dim, indeed, Jamie was not yet qualified to be his opponent. After sorting out the files of the Knight Town, Lucia said in a low voice, "How do you plan to deal with the news?"

Although she didn't watch the news, she could hear from the discussions among the company's employees today that things were getting worse.

"Hold a press conference."

"A press conference? Release what?" She frowned. "Announcing our relationship now will not ease the news, but will cause more serious consequences. The main problem lies with Paul."

"Paul?" August savored the title.

It's very intimate.

It was only then that Lucia realized that she had said something wrong, and immediately explained: "He is the older brother of Paula and Burton, and his name is too unfamiliar. I'm afraid Paula will be overwhelmed."
