Chapter 911 I Must Find Daryl

Marlena first froze for a moment and gritted her teeth and said, "Damn it... How did you get here? Jack asses! They can't even keep an eye on a child!"

If people knew his existence, she would be in trouble! Tina apparently also knew what the identity of this little boy was. Her immediately face sunk, and she reached out to grab the little boy's arm. But she forgot that she was supporting Marlena. So when she loosened her hand, Marlena again fell to the ground.

"Hiss... Mom?!" Marlena cried out in pain.

Tina panicked, and lowered to support Marlena. Before they could stop him, the boy struggled to pick up the big yellow dog on the ground, and due to his small size, he soon disappeared in the crowd.

Quick... Forget about August and that bitch. Catch that boy for me! ' Marlena didn't care about anything else right now. She ordered her staff in haste lest the little boy should take the opportunity to escape from Smith Manor. But at this time, the boy had long since disappeared, leaving Marlena furious there.

With the sound of heavy footsteps came the sound of hurried breathing. An alarm went off in Lucia's heart and she looked up at August, who immediately took her behind him, his muscles tensing. The footsteps were closer, and Lucia couldn't help but hold her breath. August was also ready to counterattack at anytime.

But the next moment, two short, thin calves appeared in front of the two. When they looked up, they saw a little boy that they had met before. He struggled to hold a big yellow dog, and when he saw that there were people here, he was first shocked, with his eyes full of wariness. But when he saw the faces of the two, he was obviously relieved, and then sat down on the ground, looking very tired.

Lucia and August looked at each other, and gradually relaxed. Lucia took the initiative to go forward and asked, "Why are you here?"

The little boy hung his head and did not speak, but silently stroked the frail big yellow dog in his arms, with only sadness in his eyes. Lucia saw his expression, knowing that this dog was very important to the boy, then she leaned down to check the big yellow dog's injuries. The little boy did not stop her. The big yellow dog turned around and licked the back of Lucia's hand with his tongue, very well behaved, completely without the kind of fierceness that it had at the wedding.

They boy thought about it and pointed to the big yellow dog. Lucia got him and immediately gave the big yellow dog a name, too. It was Poch.

While they were talking, Ryan led them to a very secluded house. This house looks very old. The walls have yellowed and peeled, looking a little shaky. Lucia's heart missed a beat. She couldn't believe that Daryl was actually locked up in this kind of place. But the good thing was that Marlena seemed to have transferred all her people away in order to catch them down. There was no one around here.

Lucia wasted no time. After making sure no one was around, she walked quickly to the window of the house. The house was very small and had only one room, so they didn't need to look for her room by room, which saved the time. Lucia stood on her tiptoes and looked inside the window - there was no one there.

At least a few hundred people were hovering at the entrance of the manor, and everyone had weapons in their hands. As for the other few exits, they didn't even think about it, because the guards there must be even stricter. Breaking in was definitely not an option.

August gently put down Poch, observed the situation, and said in a deep voice. I'll go to distract them."

Lucia grabbed August's arm, her eyes showing concern, No, we must go together."

keeping August with her. Letting him attract the attention of the enemy was the best choice. Whether it was Lucia or Daryl, Marlena would certainly not let them go if she got them. But for August, even if he was caught by her, Marlena would not kill him. As for how to leave here, August could only play it

Lucia coughed several times and then walked in with Ryan after dust dispersed. The old wooden floor which had been left in disrepair creaked as soon as they stepped on it. Ryan seemed to know the way around the place. He quickened his pace to the fireplace in the middle of the living room, and pointed to the dusty old carpet on the floor, gesturing for the others to move it. Lying prone on the ground, Ryan hit the floor and then ripped open a wooden floor. A mechanism inside appeared at this time. With a gentle pull, a large piece of the floor was lifted and a long staircase with no end appeared.

something more, but Lucia had got his point. He meant it was safe for them to go through the tunnel. Lucia cast a glance at Ryan and was hesitating to say something when they were about to go through the tunnel. In the end, she said it out to Ryan, "We can take you away." A hint of a struggle flashed on Ryan's face, but he shook his head eventually. Lucia and Daryl looked an address to Ryan, saying, "But you need to make up your mind as soon as you can, as we're gonna leave here." Ryan nodded. Lucia squatted down and touched the head of Poch which had got injured while asking them to be more careful. Then she held the hand of August and went into the tunnel with Daryl. Ryan closed the door of the tunnel silently when the three of them had walked in the tunnel. It was dark in the tunnel as there was no lighting. Adapting the darkness after a while, Lucia looked back at the

He can live here in the Smith Manor for so long, which means he's useful to Marlana. So, he'll be safe." Lucia still felt a bit sad, but she walked along the tunnel with August after a nod. None of them knew how

Chapter 916 A Huge Humiliation

Subconsciously backing a few steps, Lucia thought hangers-on of Marlana were chasing after them. However, the next second, she saw a furry head pop out. "Ryan!" Lucia shouted with great joy and then pulled him out of the tunnel as well as Poch when she confirmed it was Ryan. Ryan gave a big and bright smile to Lucia and held a box in his hand tight when he could steady himself. Lucia didn't expect that Ryan would change his mind at the very end, and was so pleased to see it. However, they didn't dare to waste more time here but left at once.

They were in a forest which should be in the suburbs. Luckily, they stopped a car at the side of the street and went to the place of Mrs. Robert. Mrs. Robert was so surprised to see them. She let them in and called a veterinarian to treat Poch. On the other side, Marlana was suffering the pain of the wound on her leg which had already been bandaged. Looking gloomy, she endured the pain and walked in the tunnel with a flashlight. She didn't expect Ryan would have this ace up his sleeve, and there was such a secret tunnel in the Smith Manor which was heavily fortified. It was a huge humiliation for her. "None of their families is good." Marlana cursed.

"Damn it." Marlana kept cursing and looked so brutal. "Go find them."

Lucia changed her clothes after a hot bath. And then she lay Ryan in the bathtub with Daryl and would give him a bath. Ryan was resistant to

Chapter 917 Ryan's Background

Ellen knew who he was from an early age and had seen his father once, but he didn't want to go back to the Smith family to fight over the inheritance right somehow. He married someone and set up his own family. He could have lived a stable life peacefully. However, all the other children of the Smith family had died except Riggio and Terry who were fighting over the inheritance right so fiercely. Marlana was apparently useless at that time. What's more, the reigning master of the Smith family at that time didn't wanna hand over the power, so he intended to bring Allen back to the Smith family and used him as a counterbalance to the competition between Reggio and Terry.

Allen and his wife were forcibly brought back to the Smiths, and Allen had to do those shadowy dealings for the Smiths. Allen was born kind and wasn't willing to do those dirty dealings. Instead, he secretly sabotaged the dirty business of the Smiths, causing a great loss to the whole family. Mrs. Robert didn't know what happened to Allen and his wife later. She only knew they died in the place of the Smiths. But it was not that hard to imagine why Allen was killed as he violated the interest of the Smith family.

paused and didn't finish her sentence, but all the others knew who Ryan really was. He was Alien's son. Lucia felt even sorry for Ryan, so she gently touched Ryan's head. Ryan knew he had been with his parents before, but he could hardly remember what happened when he was with his parents. It was the first time to heave a sigh in the end. Meanwhile, August knitted his eyebrows after hearing Mrs. Robert's words. "Why would they let Ryan stay in the place of the Smiths if so? Based on the patterns of the Smiths..." The last thing Terry and Reggio wanted to Lucia and Daryl almost knew who August meant at once when August finished his sentence. Timothy had always been a skilled hacker, so he could easily solve the problem. August put the damaged USB drive back into the box, saying, "We've exposed ourselves, so it's impossible for us to win the trust of Marlena again. We'd rather go back to Austos City and make other plans than waste time here." He added, "Besides, it's not safe for Ryan to stay here any longer as he's also an inheritor of the Smith family. He would be in great danger if being caught by Marlena."

Pondering over it for a moment, Lucia agreed with August on his suggestion that they'd better go back to Austos and rest, though she was so upset about the failure of this plan. Lucia nodded, "You're right. We'll go back." "Daryl, what do you think?" Lucia looked at Daryl. Though Daryl had promised to go back to Austos City with them after the whole thing here was solved, Lucia couldn't help but confirm it again. Nodding at Lucia, Daryl said with a smile, "Certainly I won't go back on my promise to you."

Lucia fully understood Mrs. Robert, since she had helped them a lot, "Thank you so much." Mrs. Robert shook her head, "It's not a big deal. I should thank you for helping me eliminate Terry." Terry was always like a pin in the ass for her, so she was so pleased to see him got rid of. Mrs. Robert added, "Feel free to come to me when you come to Cardiff." Lucia thanked Mrs. Robert over and over while Daryl said goodbye to her. After that, they drove off. Where they were was far away from the airport, but there were few cars on the streets. The driver pressed down on the accelerator so that they could arrive at the airport as soon as possible.

Chapter 920 His Plan

Heaving a deep sigh, August felt so helpless, "Lucia..." He reached out his arm and held Lucia's hand. "I know how anxious you're being, but you need to listen to me first." Seeing that August didn't get angry at her, Lucia kinda relieved and was a bit clam at this time. She nodded to him, "Okay." "Marlena used you to threaten me earlier, so I didn't dare to do anything to her. Well, as long as you can go back to Austos City safe, Marlina can threat me with nothing. And she won't chase after you as long as I stay here. Besides, I do wanna stay in the Smith's to continue our investigation."

After hearing August's thought, Lucia believed that it really was the best plan for them now. She could contact Flynt and they would figure out a way to rescue August. Lucia heaved a long sigh after pondering it over. She glared at August and pinched his arm. "Remember this. If you disappear for another two years like what you did last time, I won't forgive you anymore."
