Chapter 961 I Accepted Your Apology

The usher was lowering his head and trembling. Lucia could see him sweating on his forehead.

The usher dared not look at him, waiting for his punishment.

"I accept your apology." Lucia said lightly.

Although she was a little angry about his rude manners, it was unnecessary to keep it in mind.

The usher was stunned, he didn't expect her to forgive him.

Had it happened to others, not only could he have lost the job, but also he could have been held accountable.

"Can we go in?" Lucia asked coldly.

August looked calm. But Lucia thought he sounded jealous, she smiled helplessly, "Ely likes someone in Austos City for whom he is going there."

After listening to Lucia's explanation, August's arm loosened slightly, but he was still a little astonished.

Lucia glanced around. After making sure that no one was paying attention to her, she stood on tiptoe and kissed August's face quickly.

"Are you feeling better?"

August turned his eyes slightly, looked down at her, then kissed her amorously.

August didn't let her go until Lucia began to breathe hard, he pursed his lips, "Now I am feeling better."

Lucia blushed hard when she noticed the surrounding attentions. She was too embarrassed to linger on, she took him and walked inside.

While the whole Austos City had been making fun of Lucia, she embarrassed them in this way.

Countless people were shocked, but they were also impressed by Lucia's courage to reveal the atrocities of the Smiths alone. Her temporary disappearance after leaving the Smith Manor had a big impact throughout the whole network.

The whole network was banging on about Lucia which directly boosted the benefits of the Lion Group.

All the products of the Lion Group on sale were snapped up which was on the hot search list on Twitter.

Lucia hadn't paid attention to the domestic affairs at that time. So she was not sure about how sensational it had been.

Purchasing the products of the Lion Group prevailed in Austos City and the share price of the Lion Group soared.

Lucia was slightly stunned and turned to Daryl, then she hesitated a little.

She knew that Daryl was not as calm as she seemed when saying that.

She did not expect that Daryl would suggest to ask Paul.

After a while, Lucia faltered, "Daryl, how about I go to ask him alone?"

In this way, they could avoid meeting each other.

However, Daryl was calm about Lucia's proposal, "In fact, Paul has asked for me many times recently."

Paul almost had asked for her once a day in Lucia's absence.

Chapter 965 Zoey's Treasure Is Daryl's Trash

Zoey knew Paul didn't like her. After all, he had never been to the Ximenez family since they had gotten married.

And she had not expected him to accept the invitation this time.

Therefore, she cooled down and left contentedly.

As soon as Lucia and Daryl arrived at the Thomas Group, they bumped into her.

Seeing them, Zoey showed a gloomy face and said viciously, "Daryl, why are you here? I warn you! Don't pester my husband anymore."

Daryl had not expected to meet her here. Facing this aggressive woman, she no longer needed to swallow the insult or hold back her anger as two years ago.

So, she smiled gracefully and retorted, "Mrs. Thomas, it is him that is pestering me!"

Daryl looked at him indifferently at the door.

Paul's eyes flashed with disbelief. And then, he got ecstatic, strode up to her, and then grabbed her arm.

"Daryl, you're finally willing to see me."

Daryl took a step back, lightly pushed his hand away, and said coldly, "Mr. Thomas, you're a married man. Please show some respect."

Paul froze in situ. He had been pleasantly surprised by her sudden visit. But seeing her cold face, he instantly calmed down.

After a while, Paul's eyes gradually turned red when he said, "Daryl, I..."

He wanted to tell her that he missed her, but she interrupted before he could finish his words.

"I'm not here to talk about old times."

Paul wanted to say something more, but Lucia suddenly said, "Paul, can we sit down to have a talk?"

Then, the two ladies walked into his office and sat on the sofa.

Paul made the coffee in person and put it on the table.

Daryl didn't have coffee but cut straight to the point, saying, "Paul, I want to know what happened to Paula when she was in the Thomas family mansion."

"Daryl, I want you to call me Paul like before."

Daryl glanced at him lightly and said, "But we are not so close that we call each other by first names."

"I..." Hearing her cold words, Paul clenched his fists, feeling extremely sad.

After a long while, he opened his mouth and said, Daryl, I'm sorry."

Daryl shook her head, "You don't need to apologize. Mr. Thomas, I just hope you won't pester me anymore in the future."

She frowned at him and continued, You're a married man! So, you should not have pestered me like this. You've caused me a lot of trouble.

Daryl smiled slightly and shook her head, "Don't worry, I'm fine. We're in the company after all. He doesn't dare to do anything to me here."

Lucia felt relieved. She had been worried Paul would do something improper to Daryl. Fortunately, she was fine.

After walking out of the Thomas Group, Lucia frowned, "Even Paul doesn't know what happened to Paula at home..."

They had thought he must know something.

Now, it seemed Zoey had prepared everything well when harming Paula.

Daryl reassured her, "Don't worry. Since Paul is investigating this matter, I believe we will know the truth soon."

Lucia nodded.

Anyway, Paul was Paula's brother.

Since someone had hurt her, he wouldn't turn a blind eye to it.

"Now, we just need to accompany Paula. Let's leave the rest to Paul," Daryl said lightly.

Paul had lost his patience, but Zoey continued to say annoying words.

"Paul, you've already married me. Don't think about that b*tch anymore. I am much better than her!"

"Enough!" Paul said angrily and slammed his fist on the door frame. Soon, blood gushed out of his slender fingers.

His face looked so sullen as if he were going to devour her alive.

Paul barely gets angry, so Zoey dared to be so arrogant in front of him.

It was the first time she had seen him fly into a rage, so she froze in situ.

Paul looked at her with a cold look and said, "Zoey, I should not have indulged you so much."

He did not like her. So, he had turned a blind eye every time she had made a scene in front of him in the past.

But this time, she had crossed the line.

"I'll go with you then." August put the invitation away and said lightly.

"One more thing." August turned around and his face suddenly became serious.

Seeing his expression, Lucia turned worried, and hurriedly asked, "What's wrong?"

"I got a message from Cardiff."

Lucia frowned, What's wrong over there? The Smith family's problem has been solved, isn't it? What do they want to do?"

August said in a low voice, 'They... want to get Ryan back."

"They want Ryan back?" Lucia's heart jumped and her tone was firm, "It's absolutely impossible!"

She did so many things to bring Ryan back. She couldn't let him go back.
