

Chapter 2144 Buy Time

Janet instinctively shielded her belly, glaring at Alexandra with caution. She shouted anxiously, "Don't you dare! This is Brandon's hospital. You can't take me away!"

Upon hearing this, Alexandra sneered, "So what? Does Brandon think he can stop me? Keep dreaming! I'm taking you today. No one can stand in my way."

"You're insane. Alexandra, you've completely lost it!" Janet looked at the man in front of her with fear, recognizing that he had gone mad.

"But..." Alexandra's eyes narrowed as he looked at Janet's bulging belly with disgust. "Your belly is annoying. I don't want to see it. Don't worry. Before I take you away, I'll make sure to get rid of you and Brandon's child."

Janet's emotions tightened with overwhelming panic. She instinctively glanced at the door, desperately hoping Brandon would burst in to save her and their child.

Alexandra noticed Janet's glance and figured out what she was thinking. He chuckled and asked in a mocking tone, "What are you looking at? Are you waiting for Brandon to come and rescue you?"

Janet forced herself to stay composed and answered with determination, "Brandon will definitely come to save me."

Alexandra's smile grew darker. "Too bad, you're going to be disappointed. Brandon isn't coming."

Janet's heart skipped a beat. Had Alexandra figured out their plan and found a way to keep Brandon away?

But Janet quickly dismissed that thought. It was impossible. To Brandon, she and the child were always the most important. No matter what happened, he wouldn't leave them behind.

With this realization, Janet made herself stay calm, trying to buy some time.

As Alexandra moved closer, Janet began to tremble with fear, though she tried to remain composed. She frowned and said, "Don't come any closer. Stay away from me. I can't stand your smell. If it makes me vomit, the whole room will stink."

Alexandra frowned in disgust and halted.

Janet breathed a sigh of relief.

At that moment, Alexandra turned back to the window and opened it. He then looked at Janet with a sinister smile. "I can just open the window to let some fresh air in."

After saying that, Alexandra walked toward Janet again.

Janet felt an overwhelming fear, and her attempt to stay composed crumbled at this point. She screamed, "Don't come any closer! Stay away from me!"

Alexandra let out an eerie laugh. "I've waited for so long. I can't wait any longer. Once this child is gone, we can finally have our happy days together."

His gaze fell back on Janet's belly. He asked in a chilling tone, "How do you want to get rid of this child?"

Janet grew even more terrified, shaking her head frantically. "No... Please don't do this..."

Seeing Janet's fearful expression, Alexandra felt even more satisfied. "I like you so much, so I'm willing to spoil you and let you choose how you want to get rid of this child. Go ahead, tell me."

Janet was close to collapsing. Just the sight of Alexandra's smile sent shivers down her spine. She glanced at the door again, but it remained closed.

She gritted her teeth to calm herself down. Then she braved the fear and asked, "Then you should at least tell me about the different methods of abortion."

After a brief pause, Alexandra sneered coldly. "You just won't give up, will you? Are you trying to buy time for Brandon to save you? Unfortunately, Brandon is not as clever as I am. He has already failed."
