

Abandoned Super Cutie Adopted by Billionaire Clan

Chapter 130

Chapter 130

As the head of the top wealthy family, Richard knew many things that ordinary people did not, like the scene before him.

When he was young, he took thirteen-year-old Kelvin to do business in a very turbulent country, and the partners invited them to a special auction out of hospitality,

When he saw the lot, he still didn't understand. The ten-page booklet was filled with photos of people.

It was not until he saw them display their abilities at the auction that he knew that these were people with special abilities.

He didn't know if they were superpowers.

The most impressive ones were a few. One was a seven-year-old child with a particularly good memory,

One was a strong butcher. He had been in his country before people around him discovered his extraordinary strength, tricked him there, and made him an auction item.

A girl could hold her breath for a long time in the water with the longest record of 39 minutes, which had drawn many people's attention.

These people were bought and stimulated more of their potential through special training

Almost all the influential families abroad were keeping such talents.

Richard was lost in his thoughts at that time.

He read the description of those abilities and felt Kelvin's ability could also be on the auction stage.

He was so fascinated that he blurted out what was in his mind when someone next to him asked him what he was thinking

After saying that, he realized something was wrong and turned his head stiffly to take a look.

At that time, his youngest son was looking at him with a dark face.

That was how the father-son relationship broke down, and it hadn't been repaired yet.

Thinking a little too far, Richard came back to his senses and stood quietly looking at Yvonne from a distance.

Although he had seen a lot, he had never seen such a heaven-defying superpower as Yvonne's.

No wonder he wanted Yvonne to learn to grow flowers from that old man. It turned out to be a cover.

That old man might have taken advantage of Yvonne's superpower.

His heart was sour.

At that moment, the lions that fell to the ground next to them suddenly twitched, and then, they spit out as if they had eaten something bad.

The fetid liquid spat out of their mouths, but the lions were still unconscious.

Even from a great distance, Richard could see they were breathing.

His eyes were filled with excitement, but he held it back and didn't

Suddenly, something fluttered overhead.

Richard looked up and saw many birds, all of which flew to the branches of the roses.

Birds kept coming overhead. As they couldn't fall on the branches, they circled in, this small piece of sky.

That scene can be regarded as a special phenomenon.

Not to mention the people outside the Lion Garden, even people outside Tiger Mountain noticed something was wrong.

A passing car stopped nearby and looked curiously at the mountain.

Many birds flew towards the mountaintop as if something was attracting them there like they were possessed.

On the nearby ring road, they could hear the bustling place surrounded by the barricade and the chirping of birds. But with a barrier blocking it, it meant this mountain belonged to the owner and should be private property.

Now that technology was so advanced, many things could attract birds. Although the scene was shocking, it was not surprising.

The passing vehicles just stopped and looked for a while before continuing on their way.
