Chapter 286

Chapter 286

The Holmes family had become accustomed to their antics. They didn't interfere and continued minding their heniness

But when things got interesting, they looked up and took a look. This time, they discovered something shor king. Huh! What? Why is Miss Adler involved Yvonne would like to know the reason. Everything happened in quickly. She only woke up, greeted her brother, and did nothing che. Meanwhile. Tinley had just left her room and missed the scene.

A servant standing by, looking bewildered, saw her and felt as if she had found a savior. She hurried over to Tinley and pointed in the direction the two had num “Help” Your grandfather and your brother are at it again!”

The servant’s use of the word “at it was accurate. People who didn’t know would have thought they were two elementary school students under ten years old.

However, Tinley didn’t think much and replied with a faint hum. She didn’t care about their quarrel. After all, they male a scene every werk

In a panic, the servant added, “And Miss Adler. She is also involved”

Hearing this, Tinley’s face darkened. Tinley was annoyed. She was already in a bad mood that day. Hence, she said firmly, “Hurry up and chase after them. As a result, more people joined the chase.

Jeremy ran to a corner and hid. Meanwhile, Richard didn’t see him and ran straight ahead.

Half a minute later, he left his hiding spot, holding the dazed Yvonne. But as he poked his head out, he met Tinley's fake smile.

As for the dazed Yvonne, she could finally return to her mother's warm embrace. She burrowed her head aggrievedly into Tinley's clothes, refusing to let go. They're being so mean to me!

Hearing Yvonne’s childish accusations, the two immediately stopped in their tracks. “This is bad! They thought.

They thought the family would hate them. However, in their defense, Yvonne was so cute, and they couldn’t help themselves. Both of their thoughts were indeed quite twisted.

Tinley slowly raised her head. Her long eyelashes fluttered slightly. Her eyes were cold, and if one looked closely, they could see a hint of anger. Tinley finally moved her lips.

But Richard was perceptive and took the initiative to admit his mistake before she could speak. “No need to say anything. Tinley, my dear. I understand!”

He knew his precious granddaughter was easy to coax. He just had to go out and get a new gift, and he would immediately capture her heart again. It was only a matter of time to regain Yvonne's favor.

After he finished speaking, Jeremy followed with a remorseful expression “Aunt Tinley, I'm sorry. I was wrong”

Just as Richard had thought, Yvonne was easily coaxed. It only took a moment to make her happy again.

Richard and Jeremy both harboring the same thought. They walked away and exchanged knowing glances.

Jeremy ran away without looking back, not even returning to retrieve his phone. A car was parked at the door, and it was unclear who was inside.

He rushed towards the car as soon as the door opened, urging the driver in front, “Quick, let's go!”

lan, already accustomed to this, glanced at the messy Jeremy beside him. He knew Jeremy had done something to get himself in trouble again.

“Let’s go, I said. Only then did the driver dare to drive. Although the two families were close, the driver knew who paid his salary. Hence, after hearing lan’s words, he started the car.

Later on, Jeremy, who didn’t take anything, shamelessly asked lan for money. He couldn’t return at noon because his grandpa probably hadn’t calmed down yet, and he would get a beating if he returned,

He thought it was better to come back in the evening. He could go to the black market for a while, return later, sleep, and go to school the next day. He knew his grandpa would have calmed down by then.

Because Jeremy had offended many people throughout his life for being too cheap, he had figured out the habits of the few family members.

His grandfather’s anger would gradually diminish over time. If Jeremy gave his grandpa enough time, his anger would completely disappear.

His dad would only beat him up when he couldn’t bear it anymore, and there was no escaping that. Meanwhile, his eldest brother was easier to avoid. Jeremy could just play the victim.

lan knew what he was thinking. He smiled and said sarcastically, “You’ve even gained experience from being beaten up! Can you be more promising, Jeremy?”

Jeremy remained confident. “Mr. Holmes, please lend me some money. After I go to the black market tonight and buy a valuable treasure for my family, I will return your money tenfold!”

Jeremy was determined. But to lan’s ears!

it was no different from saying. “Hi, my name is Jeremy. Give me some money, and I can make you the King of the World!” It was nonsense.

Regardless, lan gave him money anyway. He didn’t have much cash, so he had the driver drive him to an ATM to get it for Jeremy.

After learning what happened the day before, lan knew he probably wouldn’t get his money back.

But he still gave it decisively. The money didn’t matter, and he didn’t expect Jeremy to return ten times the amount, or even want him to return it. He planned to teach him a lesson.

lan had also heard about what happened last night when Yvonne was with him. Since Yvonne was not with Jeremy, Jeremy would lose everything if he did things as he pleased again..

As lan expected, Jeremy spent the day playing at his friend’s house and went to the black market with his friend in the evening.

He hesitated when choosing the mask but finally chose the Red Wolf mask. He believed that, aside from his abilities and Yvonne’s intuition, the mask would bring him some luck. He had yet to enter the industry but was already superstitious

When showing up wearing the Red Wolf mask, several regulars at the market immediately recognized him.

Among them were Devon Strong, who kept Yvonne safe the previous night, and the stall owner who sold Jeremy the copper

They observed for a long time, and after confirming that Yvonne was not with him, they decided to teach that heartless man a lesson.

However, they didn’t need to intervene. Jeremy didn’t have much talent in this area. He could buy vases like those he often saw at home, but there weren’t many such decorations in the market. Instead, there were things he wasn’t familiar with Jeremy could roughly tell the value of several vases based on the vases in his house. Although he couldn’t guarantee its originality, he could bargain with his knowledge. His lack of insights into item appraisal would drag hien down that night.

Jeremy felt that many of the usually aloof stall owners at the market were much more enthusiastic towards hirm that night. Hence, he became driven in spend more

Three hours later, he returned to the Adler family’s residence with a big grin and arms full of junk.
