Chapter 291

Chapter 291

After Vonne had finished eating a piece of cake side, a came to find her promised.

Anna had come with her grandfaties, lait after they strived, her grandfather ran intis omeone he hadn't seen in a long time and naturally stopped there to talk to that periom

Anna was very anxious beside him her she didnt noth him the waned patiently in her grandfather finished talking before taking his hand and hurrying in this direction.

Be unexpectedly, her grandfather ran into another paintance. He was about to ong and talk to the perimesin. Put Anna reuddro wait any longer this time After saying something to her grandfather, the cam here herself girl who never worried her family about her affairs, in Giorgion felt at ease meting and chatting with his old

After searching the villa for a long time and asking many people. Anna finally found Yvonne sitting on the lawn in the

She ran toward Yvonne. She was also a linde girl in green, about the same color as Yvonne, but taller and thinner

As soon as she saw Yvonne, Anna paused and rubbed her eyes.

"Anna" Yvonne turned around happily and opened her arms to hug Anna, but she stopped abruptly when she saw Anna rubbing her eyes.

"What's wrong. Anna?" Yvonne asked.

She

Anna

knew she couldn't touch Anna when Anna rubbed her eyes because she might accidentally hurt Anna a put down her hand, not caring too much. "Just now, it seemed like something red flashed before my eyes. It's the

Yvonne nodded, finally reached out, and pulled Anna. She smiled sweetly, two small dimples appearing on her face

Then, she said. "Anna. My mom and Wendy are also wearing green today"

When the two little girls got together, they always had endless things to say.

Yvonne led Anna to the table where the cakes were displayed, sharing her earlier experiences to advise Anna un which typex were delicious and which were not.

When she first arrived, Anna noticed the man following behind Yvonne

She turned her head and looked at him several times, wanting to say something to Yvonne, but the man kept following them, and Anna couldn't say anything

Finally, she couldn't take it anymore, so she pulled Yvonne to the restroom

But Grave followed them without hesitation as the two girls ran to the restroom.

When they reached the door, the two little girls, sensing his intention, hurried over and pushed him out.

"You can't go in." Anna said anxiously

Their faces were flushed from pushing, but Grave didn't move,

Grave looked down with an expressionless face, watching two little girls push against him, and he couldn't help but feel as though two tiny ants were trying to lift an elephant's leg

Chapter 291

They're so small, which is quite cute, Grase thought.

"What are you doing?" he asked the two girls, who had been pushing his legs.

"This is the ladies' room. Anna emphasized, pointing to the sign on the door.

Yvonne nodded along, her soft and adorable face tightened, looking very serious. "Yes, that's right"

After two seconds of silence. Grave touched something on his waist with an expressionless face and lifted his foot to go inside.

Then, he said. "Ill go in and check first."

He didn't have to follow them inside but had to confirm it Wis

"No, no!" The two girls joined forces and pushed back the leg he had just stepped out of "This is the women's restroom. You are a man. You can't go in." Anna reasoned with him very seriously.

Yvonne nodded her head in agreement from the side. "Yes, that's right."

Grave didn't say anything.

Seeing Grave was not persuaded. Anna and Yvonne looked at each other and continued, "We'll be out after using the restroom. You can wait for us outside

"This, of course, won't do, Grave thought. If anything were to happen to these two kids, that heartless Tinley would surely

'She wouldn't generously let me off the hook just because I've done so much for her.

I can't escape. No matter where I run, I'll be dragged back

That woman has so much money at her disposal. She can put out a bounty on me, and I'd spend the rest of my life being hunted.

"Even though I often look half-dead, I haven't had enough of living yet. Dying now would be far too early

After a moment of thought, he bent down and picked up the two little girls, one in each hand, who were fussing about needing to use the bathroom.

"We'll go find Wendy," he said.

If they don't want me to go in, fine. Then, I'll let Wendy watch them, Grave thought.

He was tall and strong, and when he carried the two little girls out, it looked like he was carrying two green plush toys.

I looked effonless.

Yvonne had gotten so used to being picked up that she didn't react when suddenly lifted, hanging limply like a little salted

But Anna had never been carried like this before. She began to struggle, flailing her arms and legs.

Yvonne heard the sound, turned her head, and looked at Anna, who was struggling fiercely. She fraze for a few seconds, then imitated Anna, kicking her short arms and legs.

"Put us down!" After losing her freedom. Anna got anxious and shouted, "I won't go to the bathroom anymore. Let us down"

Chapter 291

"If Anna disesn't want to go, I wont go either, Yvonne thought

The truth was that neither of the neo Title girls wanted to use the bathroom. Anna wanted to go to the bathroom ber au she had wanted to find a place where no one was around to ask Yvonne about the man who kept following them.

Yvonne wanted to go because Anna invited her.

Grave stopped and was about to put them on the ground when he heard a tiny whic

He reacted quickly, pulling the two girls to the side.

Just as they moved away from the spot, a small pebble tout its target and fell to the ground

It was small, and neither of the little girls felt a thing Yvonne even thought it

The next second, they landed and were placed behind a wall.

fun when it whizzed past just HOW

After landing, Anna quieted down. She tugged at her clothes to straighten them. Then, she went to help Yvonne with hers

Grave picked up the stone shot over and examined it in his hand.

It was a very ordinary stone, like something one had picked up from the side of the road.

He checked, and there was no poison or anything on the stone.

The other party had no intention of killing, so this stone was aimed at me, not these two children, Grave thought

Glancing at the two little girls squatting in the corner whispering. Grave pressed the communicator and said with expressionless face. "The person showed up, but he's here for me. I didn't sense any killing intent."

After a pause, he added, "He's okay. He should be the one Wendy mentioned"

After putting the things away, he nudged the carphones in his ears.

Apart from the voices giving him directions, the whispers of two little girls discussing him in the corner were also particularly clear.

"He's so weird. Yvonne. Why is he following you?" Anna whispered, covering her mouth.

Yvonne also covered her mouth but did not lower her voice, somewhat akin to plugging one's ears while stealing a bell.

She said, "Wendy asked him to follow me. I don't know why."

Sometimes, many people would follow and play with her, so Yvonne was used to it

Although Grave was always silent and somewhat aloof, not engaging in play with her like other adults would, it had not yet reached a point where she was so curious as to want to dig deeper for answers

"Okay Hearing that it was Yvonne's family's arrangement, Anna said nothing more.

She wanted to complain about the incident when they had tried to go to the restroom earlier, but she held back when she saw Grave standing there. She made a mental note to share it with Yvonne at school tomorrow.
