Chapter 187: Shangpinling Forge

"can."

Ye Xuan continued to nod, and now he does not lack this money, it does not matter.

The young people also happily took out 500 pieces of the next spar from the Qiankun ring to complete the transaction.

However, next, Ye Xuan took out another weapon and handed it over: "Senior brother, look at this one again."

The young man took over the weapon and looked at it again. He was shocked again. He said: "The upper spirits, but also the red flame powder that makes the wound not easy to heal, the younger brother, you want to sell this top quality spirit?"

"Yes." Ye Xuan answered.

The young man was very surprised. However, when he saw the name on the hilt, he exclaimed: "Ye Xuan, is this Shangpin Spirit created by you?"

This time, even the Song Dynasty was moved.

Ye Xuan, turned out to be a top quality forging master?

She stepped up, her eyes condensed, and she found the word Ye Xuan on the hilt.

"How is it possible that you are so young, how could it be a forged sword maker?" She was also shocked.

"Why, I have never heard of people who can't be seen. Do you think that the forgings of the top grades must be the old man?" Ye Xuan said coldly, and looked at Song Tanjing with disdainful eyes.

The Song Dynasty still has some unbelief. The Great Song Dynasty also had a top-quality sword forging division. However, his age has been as high as eighty, but it is still the realm of the peak of the real Xuanjing.

Unexpectedly, Ye Xuan, who was in the early days of Xuanjing, could create a top-quality sword. He must know that he was only sixteen years old. If he waits for him to break through to the gods, can he create a grounder in the future?

"The younger brother, is there a good spirit?" The youth said with some excitement.

The top grade is a rare item, even if it is a famous person on the list, it does not have a top quality.

"No, but if there is material, I can continue to build. I took this fire sword out this time, but also want to get some materials to build the spirit of the top, do not know if there is a brother here?" Ye Xuan asked.

This fire sword was bought by him for 20 million swallowing points.

"Yes, yes, younger brother, can you build this sword for a long time?" the young man asked with a big eyes.

"Yes, the brothers want to cooperate for a long time? That is the best. If you can give some discounts, it will be better." Ye Xuan suddenly changed his face, the appearance of a profiteer.

"This is no problem, let's win and win each other, come and sit down and talk slowly." The youth quickly took Ye Xuan to sit down.

The two started talking about prices.

During the period, Ye Xuan also knew that this young man was called Jiang You, the owner of this weapon shop. This makes Ye Xuan very surprised. I did not expect that this industry is not a Lingxiaofu, but a disciple under the door.

Finally, they drafted a price, 1,500 pieces of crystal spar!

Ye Xuan felt that he could, and he agreed.

If he has forged materials, he can sell it to other people at a high price, but doing so may offend Jiangyou.

The strength of this Jiangyou Ye Xuan is also a feeling, not particularly strong, only the real period. But the person who can open a weapons hall in the land of the city, the background must not be simple, and cooperation with him can save a lot of things.

As for the forged materials, Jiangyou will sell it to Ye Xuan at the price of 200 pieces of spar.

Ye Xuan calculated it in the heart.

Before that, he had a total of 45 million swallowing points, spent 10 million on the Song Dynasty, and spent 20 million to buy a fire sword, so there are still 15 million engulfing points.

The forging map of the Fire Sword requires five million, plus five million manual costs.

Carefully counted, if you want to build the first fire sword, you have to spend 10 million devour points, plus two hundred medium crystal spar materials.

Moreover, if you want to build it in the future, you don't need a map, and you can save 5 million swallow points every time.

It's a huge profit!

At the moment, Jiangyou is taking 1,300 pieces of medium-quality spar and a forged material. Ye Xuan borrowed the forging room behind the weapons hall.

Two days later, a brand new fire sword was released!

Now, Jiang You and Song Dian Jing believe that it is indeed a top-grade spirit forging master.

This fire sword was sold to Jiangyou with a thousand and a hundred fine crystals. Then, Jiangyou prepared another material, and Ye Xuan began to build.

After another two days, the second fire sword came out!

Ye Xuan re-entered the 1,300 pieces of the next product, after devouring, another 13 million swallowed points.

At this point, his engulfing points have increased to more than 26 million, plus a forged material for the fire sword.

It took another six days.

Ye Xuan created three fire swords. At this time, his points have reached 52 million, and there is also a forging material for the fire sword.

After another ten days, when he sold the tenth fire sword to Jiangyou and swallowed most of the Chinese spar, he finally heard a different system sound.

"Hey, the host has broken through to the middle of the real world!"

Finally broke through!

Ten fire swords also made his points break through a big level, reaching more than 100 million. However, this point of devouring the score is not enough for him to raise all the blood to the advanced level, but still a lot.

'Busy' for twenty days, Ye Xuan was boring and blasting. Forging a fiery sword for him, only one thought was needed, and it didn't take two days.

However, in order not to let other people doubt, he can only stay in the forging room for two days, and this speed is already fast.

Eighteen fire swords, enough to let Jiangyou boast for a while, and then sold at least two thousand crystal spar.

Moreover, the top grade of the Jiangyou is not enough, and it needs to be purchased, so Ye Xuan has a rest period.

When he returned to his yard, he found that the Song Dynasty Princess Song Dynasty was sitting on the stone table and practicing.

At this time, Song Taijing suddenly opened his eyes. After seeing Ye Xuan, he also said awkwardly: "You guy, finally willing to come back?"

"Why, do you miss me?" Ye Xuan asked casually.

"Hey, it's too late to kill you."

Song Congjing jumped off the stone table and said: "Two days, I have a top-quality sword. This is faster than the top-up forging master of my Song Dynasty. Are those fire swords really forged?"

She still doesn't believe it, because forging and cultivating, it takes time to precipitate, not for a day.

"It's hard to be done. Do you think there are ten fire swords in my ring? If so, why don't I just sell it out?"
Ye Xuan replied.

"Who knows if you are making some gimmicks for the foothold of the land."

Song Chongjing still has some disbelief, but when she walked to Ye Xuan, she found that Ye Xuan was different from twenty days ago.
